WAS PRIEST KIDNAPED TO WED PAIR?

Four Posses of Officers Hurry to San Mateo County On Receipt of Hint Father Heslin Spirited for Ceremony

Marriage Under Duress May Have Been Followed by Murder, Official Theory of Men Working On Mystery

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Detectives Curtiss, Wiskotchell and Mitchell left San Francisco at noon for San Mateo county after the receipt of information from a mysterious source with reference to the disappearance of Father Patrick Heslin of the Holy Angels Catholic church at Colma.

While the police are reticent as to the nature of this new clew, it is believed in certain sources that they are acting on the theory that the priest was spirited away to perform an enforced marriage ceremony.

Under what circumstances he might be called upon to give the sanction of the church to the wedding, is a puzzling feature of the affair, but one of the officers in San Mateo county dropped a hint that "someone needed a priest and needed him badly."

This significant statement, it was pointed out, could only mean the performance of a marriage, perhaps under duress. Whether the priest may have refused to take part in such a ceremony and have then met with injury or even death at the hands of the abductor, are matters of speculation

FOUR POSSES IN SAN MATEO COUNTY.

This afternoon four posses of officers in addition to the San Francisco detectives are at work on the case in San Mateo county.

The search for Rev. Heslin shifted to San Francisco today when Sheriff Michael Sheehan of San Mateo county hurried here and held a long conference with Chief of Police Daniel O'Brien.

At its conclusion the chief admitted that he had what he believed was a tangible clew, but positively refused to reveal its nature or to indicate on what lines the new search was being directed.

The presence here of Sheriff Sheehan, who spent the morning in conference with Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson, would also tend to the theory that that officer believed that the missing priest might be found here rather than in the neighborhood of the church of which he was the pastor. Sheriff Sheehan maintained that he could say nothing at this time.

SHERIFF REFUSES TO REVEAL CLEW.

"We are working on the case and it will not be well for me to make any statement at this time," he declared. "Father Heslin is missing. The San Francisco police are cooperating with me. Further than that there is nothing to add."

"We have what I believe to be a definite clew," said Chief O'Brien, "and I have asked for a detail of detectives from Captain Matheson. We are doing everything possible to locate Father Heslin."

If Sheriff Sheehan believed that the missing priest was the victim of foul play or accident, it was pointed out, he would probably be heading posses and scouring the San Mateo hills and the treacherous cliffs overlooking the Pacific. This was the method adopted by Constable Langlini, whose district includes Colma.

At the archbishop's office it was announced that nothing further had been heard of Father Heslin and that the search so far was being conducted with the co-operation of the police.

MAY BE HELD FOR RANSOM, SAY POLICE.

That the priest may have been the victim of abductors and that he is being held somewhere for ransom, is one of the theories upon which the police are working. This may be the clew in the hands of Chief O'Brien. It is possible that the great secrecy being preserved regarding the activity of the local detectives may be because it is hoped to close in on the persons responsible.

Liquor Found in Ship Ventilators

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Three thousand dollars' worth of gin and whisky was seized by customs inspectors today aboard the steamer T. J. Isondari, which arrived here yesterday. The liquor was hidden in various places about the vessel among them being a place which was new to customs officers. A part of the liquor had been placed in gunnysacks and suspended inside of the ventilators by concealed ropes.

Nine Thousand Army Men Seek Discharge

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 4.—Nine thousand enlisted men in the United States army on stations in the Ninth Army Corps area, in California, Nevada, Oregon and Washington, have applied for discharges in line with the decision of Congress to cut the personnel of the American military and naval forces.

16 Killed, 18 Hurt in Siberian Rail Crash

VLADIVOSTOK, Aug. 4.—(By Associated Press).—In a collision between a passenger and a freight train today near Nikolsk sixteen persons were killed and eighteen injured, among them a few Japanese. The collision was said to have been caused by bands of partisans who have been engaged in sporadic hostilities in that region.

Woman Threatened

MRS. ANNA SAYLOR, assemblywoman, of Berkeley, who turned over to the police a letter from Suisun saying the writer would "kill you just as I would a dog" tomorrow or Saturday.

"I'll Kill You as A Dog," Threat Sent Mrs. Saylor

Assemblywoman Gets Letter Reviling Her for Efforts for Boy Murder Bill.

BERKELEY, Aug. 4.—Threatened with death because of her fight in behalf of boy murderers of the state, Mrs Anna L Saylor, Berkeley assemblywoman, today turned over an anonymous letter to the police in which designs were expressed not only against her life, but against Governor William D. Stephens as well

Mrs. Saylor declares that the letter is but one of a number she has received at her home, 1031 Oxford street, since the passage of the bill which prevents the hanging of boy murderers. Because of the vehement language and also because of the definite threats against her life and that of the governor, she has turned over the latest letter to Chief of Police Vollmer.

The letter was found by Mrs. Saylor in her mail box last night after she and her daughter, Miss Helen Saylor, a recent graduate of the U. of C., had returned home following an all-day absence. It bears a Suisun postmark of date of August 3, 8:30 a. m. and is written on two sheets of linen paper with no salutation or signature.

WRITER PROMISES TO "KILL LIKE DOG."

The writer attacks Mrs. Saylor for her interest in behalf of the bill to prevent the death penalty for boy murderers and characterizes Governor Stephens as being without a backbone because of his signature on the bill.

The letter says:

"I read in a newspaper a few days ago of a noble policeman killed. His murderer escaped the gallows and all through you and a few more like you who favor supporting cold-blooded wanton murder instead of the policeman. You dirty——.

"You saved the miserable life of this dangerous brute; after a few years he may again be released to kill some more policemen and citizens in our state.

"A life sentence for cold-blooded murders in California is only a fake. They are kept for awhile, then released again. The murder rate is bound to take a forward leap but when they pay death penalties on the gallows, they cannot harm anybody any more.

"I will be in Berkeley tomorrow or next day and I will try to kill you just as I would a dog.

"I will put you out of the way. You are a disgrace to the State of California.

"Ex-President William Taft said, not very long ago, "Old enough to kill is old enough to hang," and the individual he spoke about, only 17 years old, was hanged in Boston. Governor Stephens, if he had a backbone in him, would not let your kind and a few more women in San Francisco run our State of California in favor of supporting cold-blooded brutal murders and you know it. He was a dirty coward. He is the most disgraceful governor that we have ever had in California—without any backbone in him.

WRITER URGES DEATH PENALTY FOR MURDER.

"Dirty coward, I only wish I could get all of you together and put you out of the way, for I think that would be a credit to the reputation of the state.

"I will try my very best and you will be the first one to be killed.

"We must have strong death penalties in our state because of the coming of all these cold-blooded murderers from the eastern states. Hanging is the only salvation for them. And so long as you and a few more like you are on top we never will have a square deal.

"Never soon enough will we put you all out of the way for we want justice, just like in other states. You wait and look for me every day from now on."

Modesto Rancher Is Found Shot Dead

STRIKE CALL FAILS HERE, SAY UNIONS

Orders for General Walkout for Midnight Issued From S. F. 'Rank and File' Quarters Given Scant Attention

Only Few Scattered Workers in Eastbay Respond; Construction Activities Continue, Assert Labor Heads

While building operations are practically at a standstill in San Francisco today as a result of the general strike called by the conference of the "rank and file" of the affiliated building trades unions, effective at midnight, construction activities in Oakland and other Eastbay cities were in no way hampered, it was announced from union headquarters and from the Builders' Exchange.

The Alameda County Building Trades Council several nights ago voted to veto the strike call, in spite of protest made by delegates from the "rank and file" in San Francisco Efforts are still being made by the general conference committee to force Oakland building unions to cooperate in the strike plan

SCATTERED WORKERS JOINT WALKOUT.

Of the many affiliated building trades unions in Oakland and the Eastbay, only three endorsed the strike, the Plasterers' Union, the Pile Drivers' Union and the Steam and Operating Engineers' Union, according to announcement made last week It is not known today whether the three organizations walked out in a body in defiance to the orders of the governing council, although numerous cases were reported to both union and operators' headquarters that men had walked from their jobs in sympathy with the San Francisco movement.

The strike was called by the "rank and file" of the building trades after the original building trades strike had been abandoned by the leaders of the Building Trades Council. Late yesterday, however, P. H. McCarthy, president of the Building Trades Council, announced that the strike of the "rank and file" would not be prevented and it proceeded without interference and according to announced schedule

Today members of the unions affected by the strike and who have been locked out for more than two months, will endeavor to call from the various building jobs those workers who have accepted the conditions of open shop and a reduction of wages and have been employed side by side with non-union men. The strike committee of the "rank and file" will be in session all day at the Building Trades Temple, in furtherance of the plan to hold a mass meeting Sunday morning in the municipal auditorium.

CARPENTER UNIONS DEFY HUTCHESON.

The fifteen carpenters' unions affiliated with the International Brotherhood of Carpenters today wired a defy to William Hutcheson, and his order that all local union charters of the carpenters would be revoked if they entered into the general building strike. A wire in reply, despatched by the international president, declared that he was cognizant of conditions in San Francisco, and that his original order stood as it first was given.

"Visiting committees" comprising several hundred men were organized yesterday to visit all of the construction work in progress, in an attempt to "induce" them to leave their jobs by "peaceful methods."

Officials of the San Francisco Labor Council yesterday mailed to all affiliated unions notification that the council had declared against the general strike proposal and would not sanction any union taking part in it.

Plans were formulated by Charles Gompertz, president of the Builders Exchange, to prevent any of the "visiting committees" to see the non-union and union men at work on the different construction jobs.

Aircraft Scandal Probe to Be Renewed

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Assistant Attorney General Goff announced today that a new investigation has been ordered by the department of justice into the war aircraft scandal, in which billions of dollars were spent, without producing a single airplane that saw action at the front.

The aircraft probe is expected to disclose the identity of a number of individuals and concerns who mulcted the government, Goff said. Some of the charges now made the basis of investigation make it apparent that heavy losses to the government occurred through conspiracies with "outsiders."

Rattler Roams N. Y. Skyscraper; It's Real One

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Somewhere in the labyrinthian passages of the Hudson Terminal building today there roamed a five-foot rattlesnake—an unwelcome tenant of the big skyscraper since last Tuesday. A porter who first saw the snake crawling over a telephone, sounded the alarm, drew down on himself a variety of sarcastic remarks—until his tale was verified by a circus man who found that one of these snakes he had checked at a parcel counter had escaped.

Three Men Hurt During Big Fire At Ocean Beach

TwoConcessions Destroyed in Early Blaze and Loss Is $20,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug 4.—Two concessions in the miniature Coney Island at the beach were destroyed, two persons were rescued and three others injured in an early morning fire which caused the turning in of three alarms Those hurt were:

CHARLES BOWMAN, watchman on the scenic railway, strained muscles of arms and cuts and bruises.

WILLIAM HORAN, fireman, truck 5, 684 Ninth avenue, burned by flying cinders, nail cuts

R. MADSEN, fireman truck 5, 457 Third avenue, foot cuts, burns.

The origin of the blaze is a mystery, but it is believed to have started in the kitchen of the old mill, which is owned by John Fridel and Arthur Loop. Before it was finally quenched damage to the amount of $20,000 had been sustained

COUPLE RESCUED BY BRAVE WATCHMAN.

The real hero of the fire was Bowman who was awakened while lying in his cabin on the second floor of the scenic railway. Although the railway was not ablaze, the heat from the Old Mill and the penetrating smoke seemed to cut off every avenue of escape.

Fearing that the proprietor and his wife, who slept below, would be suffocated, Bowman jumped twenty feet to the pavement. Although suffering considerable pain he made his way to the sleeping quarters of the couple and aroused them with difficulty. He was then taken in charge by Steward Blum, of the Park Emergency hospital.

BLAZE IS SEEN FAR OUT TO SEA.

When the first fire apparatus reached the scene the Old Mill was in flames. The blaze could be seen throughout the entire length of the beach and far out to sea. Several thousand residents of the Sunset district and Carville assembled, and finally two additional alarms had to be turned in Before the flames were finally subdued, not only the Old Mill, but the shooting gallery adjoining, operated by the same owners, had been destroyed.

Adjoining concessions were scorched and for a time it looked as if the Scenic Railway would catch fire, but the firemen succeeded in saving it by wetting it down.

Sheehan's Tavern is at the corner and all those within were aroused and took refuge outside until the fire had been put out.

Outlaw Offers Terms Of Peace to Spain

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

MADRID, Aug. 4.—Raizuli, former outlaw leader and chieftain of rebellious tribesmen in Morocco, is reported to have made an offer to Spain to pacify the entire Spanish zone of Morocco on condition that he be appointed Caliph and Sultan of the territory in question. There have been unconfirmed reports that the town of Nador, south of Melilla, has been evacuated by Spanish troops and occupied by Moroccan rebels.

The Moors are again bombarding Mount Arruit where General Navarro and a considerable body of Spanish troops have been surrounded by the tribesmen.

Petrograd Expects To Be British Ruled

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

PARIS, Aug. 4.—Travelers arriving at Helsingfors from Petrograd report that Petrograd is calm and that no mutinies have broken out there, said a despatch to the newspaper L'Information today. It added that the population expects international intervention and that the city will be declared a free town with the administration in the hands of British functionaries.

It was recently reported that an English company had secured the entire harbor concession of Petrograd from the soviets and that the Petrograd street railway lines would be turned back to their Belgian owners.

Bandits Rob Mail; Escape With $60,000

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 4.—Three armed bandits today held up and robbed Thomas Forloda, postal employee at Wood River, Ills., near here, of a registered mail pouch containing $60,000, and escaped in an automobile.

An hour later an abandoned automobile was found in a corn field five miles south of Edwardville, Ill. Nearby was a rifled mail pouch.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Postoffice inspectors, railroad detectives and claim agents hurried from here today to join the search for bandits who held up a train from Chicago at Wood River. Large checks belonging to the Standard Oil company were on the train, officers of the company said today

DAIL EIREANN IS CALLED ON PEACE PLANS

De Valera Will Place Before Irish Republican Parliament Proposals Received From British Government

Reports From Dublin and Belfast Are Conflicting On Ulster Stand; Answer Unfavorable to Feiners, Claim

LONDON, Aug. 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Irish situation took a sensational turn today when it was announced in Dublin that Eamon de Valera and his associates had decided to summon a full meeting of the Irish republican parliament to consider the British government's Irish peace proposals

It has been repeatedly stated in Dublin that the Dail Eireann would not be summoned until Ulster's attitude had been learned but coincident with the calling of a meeting of this body come conflicting reports from Dublin and Belfast concerning Ulster's position In Dublin it is reported that Ulster has been sounded and has returned an answer unfavorable to the Sinn Fein overtures A despatch to the Evening News from Belfast today asserts that the Ulster cabinet at this morning's meeting discussed an invitation from the Dail Eireann to Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier asking him to attend a conference in Dublin with a view to determining Ulster's attitude It adds that there is no possibility, however, of another meeting between Sir James and de Valera in Dublin, although the Ulster premier is willing to meet the republican leader with Premier Lloyd George in London

IRISH PARLIAMENT TO CONSIDER TERMS

Out of various conflicting reports, however, arises the outstanding fact that the republican parliament is to meet, which is to mean undoubtedly that de Valera will give a reply to Lloyd George in the immediate future

The call for the meeting of the Irish parliament with all members present involves the release from prison of twenty-five members of this body, and it has been declared the government is willing to facilitate their attendance.

Sir James Craig left London for Belfast last night after receiving a memorial from a large number of members of the House of Lords and committees to commemorate his resignation from the lower house of Parliament to accept the premiership of Ulster.

WILL TAKE SIDE OF EMPIRE ONLY.

"Whatever side the people of England or of Ireland take," Sir James said in his address of thanks, "I absolutely refuse to take any side except that of Great Britain and the empire. We who must take leading parts in these difficult times would be foolish to say a single word that might interfere with the realization of peace throughout Ireland. We are all asking for peace in our own way, but I believe it to be wise for everybody, especially the press, to say nothing in the meantime, because a slip, even a guess, sometimes creates much mischief."

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Dail Eireann (Sinn Feinn parliament) has been summoned to meet August 16 to debate the Sinn Fein cabinet's decision on the English peace offer, said an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Dublin this afternoon.

When the Dail Eireann meets Eamonn de Valera will make a statement to the Sinn Fein parliamentarians on the Lloyd George proposals and also on the attitude of Ulster unionists toward the Irish peace negotiations

SHORT SESSION HELD BY ULSTER CABINET.

BELFAST, Aug. 4 (By The Associated Press).—The Ulster cabinet met this morning for a short session, at the close of which there was no communication issued as to the subject of its deliberations. It was authoritatively learned, however, that no message from Eamonn De Valera, the Irish Republican leader, has as yet reached the northern cabinet.

Quarter Billion Slash in Federal Expenses Urged

Mellon Tells of Necessity of Economy to Avoid Additional Taxes.

WASHINGTON, Aug 4.—A cut of more than $250 000 000 in the ordinary expenditures of the government this fiscal year is necessary if additional taxes are to be avoided, the House ways and means committee was informed today by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon On present estimates, he said, the total government cost this year will be $4 550,000,000, of which $1,820,000 000 must come from taxation.

Even with the suggested reductions, Mellon said, the internal revenue yield for the year "could not safely be permitted to fall below $3 750,000, the estimated yield under existing law"

ESTIMATE IS LOW DECLARES MELLON.

Mellon told the committee that actual expenditures for the first full month of this fiscal year indicated that unless there was "an extraordinary new effort to reduce expenditures," the estimate which the treasury had presented might be regarded as conservative Ordinary expenses for July, he said, amounted to about $322,000,000, as against $307,000,000 for July, 1920, while the current deficit last month was $113 000,000, as against $76,000,000 in the same month a year ago

"An analysis of the principal items of expenditure for July, 1921," the secretary continued, "shows that $59,000,000 was on account of the War Department, $36,000,000 on account of the Navy, and $32,000,000 on account of hte Shipping Board. If expenditures are to continue at anything like these rates, the estimates will be greatly exceeded"

FARMERS TO FIGHT EXCESS TAX REPEAL

All national farm organizations are preparing a concerted fight against repeal of the excess profits tax, Chas. A. Lyman, secretary of the National Board of Farm Organizations, today informed the committee.

Conferences are now being held with the "agricultural blocs" within both houses, and Lyman stated that congressmen will be asked to vote against the new tax bill if the excess profits levy is repealed and taxes on the masses remain as at present, or are increased.

Charles S. Barrett, chairman of the National Board of Farm Organizations, stated he would, probably call a conference of farm leaders to meet here during debate on the tax bill.

Springfield Police Watch for Governor

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 4.—The city police of Springfield went into action today for the first time in the "passive pursuit" of Governor Len Small of Illinois.

A detail of policemen were under orders to watch each incoming train for the governor. They were not specifically instructed to arrest, but were to notify Sheriff Henry Nester of the governor's arrival. Three warrants charging the state's executive with misuse of state interest funds were held meanwhile by the sheriff. The sheriff is determined to obtain service of the warrants the moment Governor Small arrives in Springfield.

Great Britain Accepts U. S. Suggestion for Opening of Meeting Armistice Day; the Way Paved for Discussion

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Great Britain's willingness to accept any date the Washington administration might desire for the opening of the forthcoming disarmament conference has led to the definite suggestion of November 11, Armistice Day of this year, as an appropriate occasion.

It was learned that American officials had put the original suggestion of Armistice Day into definite form for all the invited powers and are awaiting acknowledgment from abroad

Officials would not indicate today just how much progress has been made in the interchanges of opinion regarding the agenda of the meetings, but unofficially it is known they consider the path is being cleared for a frank discussion of Far Eastern questions

YAP CONTROVERSY HAS DELICATE ASPECT.

An admittedly delicate aspect of the situation is Japan's insistence that problems presented by the Yap and Shantung questions be regarded as not falling within the scope of the conference.

American interest in the island of Yap is intimately connected with the whole subject of mandates. The Japanese government has contended that the mandate over Yap is an accomplished fact that should not be questioned, but the Washington government has been equally insistent that allocation of the island cannot remain unquestioned, since it was done without the consent of this government, one of the victors in the war France and Italy indicated their support of the American position and while formal assurance of its position has not been given by Great Britain, there appears reason to believe that she also agrees that the question should be determined by direct negotiations between the powers That was indicated, it is contended, by remarks attributed to Lord Curzon in a speech before parliament

ADJUSTMENT SOUGHT BEFORE PARLEY OPENS.

The United States still hopes that the Yap question may be adjusted before the conference is held, but it is understood this government would be unwilling to enter into an agreement that it should be written on the list of the subjects barred from discussion at that time.

LONDON, Aug. 4 (By the Associated Press).—It is for the American government to decide what subjects should be raised at the forthcoming disarmament conference at Washington, Austen Chamberlain, government leader, stated in the House of Commons today in answer to a question as to whether the matter of recognition of Mexico could be raised.

COMMONS VOTES TO BUILD FOUR WARSHIPS.

LONDON, Aug. 4. (By the Associated Press.)—The House of Commons has voted in favor of the government's program to build four warships to take the place of obsolete vessels.

Discussing the naval estimates in the House of Commons, Lieutenant Colonel L. C. Amery, parliamentary secretary of the admiralty, announced that the four replacement ships the government proposed to build would be battle cruisers of the Hood type, armed with sixteen-inch guns.

Contending that there was no element of challenge or provocation in this policy of replacing obsolete ships, he said it was simply a policy circumscribed within the narrowest limits and postponed to the very latest date consistent with the empire's safety.

Alluding to the building programs of the United States and Japan, Colonel Amery argued that the admiralty by proposing completion of only these four ships by 1925 was laying itself open to the charge of accepting the risk that the British navy would temporarily be inferior in strength to the navies of other powers.

L. A. CONTROL OF BIG POWER FUND FOUGHT IN SOUTH

Long Beach Declares the Proposed Amendment to Constitution Is Menace.

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

LONG BEACH, Aug 4—Declaring that the proposed amendment to the state constitution, placing the expenditure of $500,000 000 in the hands of the proposed California water and power board without proper safeguards, imperils the municipal existance of Long Beach and provides for a super-government of the state by the city of Los Angeles the special committee of the Chamber of Commerce, through its chairman, Louis N. Whealton, this morning urged the directorate not to approve the measures in the initiative election

Whealton's report was supplemented by a speech from State Senator Rominger urging opposition to the Los Angeles power control plan The directors at first were in favor of taking the stand recommended by the committee, but later decided to hear City Manager Hewes on the other side The municipal government has taken the position that Los Angeles is justified in its program for seizing the Colorado river

Whealton in his report which was concurred in by his associates B F. Tucker and Harry K. Stephenson, explained that the league of municipalities, backing the proposed amendment, is under the domination of Los Angeles and he pointed out that Long Beach is overshadowed as to wealth and population by Los Angeles and "has suffered in the past from the domineering practices of Los Angeles." This he thought should be considered in the discussion of the power issue. He reviewed the filings made by Los Angeles on both slopes of the high Sierras, as far north as Hetch-Hetchy and the entire Colorado river, not only in California but in Arizona and Nevada.

House Is Silent On Wilson Reconciliation

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

LONDON, Aug 4—Colonel Edward M House, refusing to comment on a recent report of a reconciliation with former President Wilson, declared today that newspaper stories of squabbles and reconciliations with the ex-president appear periodically and that all are without foundation thus far

BIRDSALL TURNS FROM FREEDOM; ENTERS PRISON

LOS ANGELES, Aug 4—Turning his back on freedom that could have been his, at least temporarily, Alfred W Birdsall, former army major, convicted of the embezzlement of $2250 from the mother of the girl he married, today asked that he be taken to San Quentin to serve a sentence of from one to ten years

Birdsall is legally entitled to remain in the county jail pending the decision on the appeal from the sentence and could have been released on $15,000 bail which his friends were willing to put up had he so desired.

Deliberately refusing his freedom however, the former army officer said he would "face the music," and go to the state prison to serve "time" while his attorney continues the legal fight for his exoneration

Birdsall was arrested in San Francisco just as he and his 18-year-old bride, formerly Mary Neville a Texas heiress whom he married after a whirlwind courtship were about to leave for the Orient on a honeymoon tour.

The marriage was annulled in a Los Angeles court recently on the ground that he did not have a final decree of divorce from a former wife

Stove Factory At Stonehurst Acquitted

Stonehurst residents having signed a protest against a stove factory at Douglas and Pear streets because of an alleged smoke nuisance Mayor Davie today reported that the factory is not big enough to be a nuisance, and the smoke will blow down the railroad tracks anyhow, because the prevailing winds are westerly

Bids were received by the city council for the improvement of portions of Thirty-ninth street between Market and Lusk streets, and for the completion of the National Guard stables and depot at Ninth and Fallon streets

Alleged Forger of Check Is Arrested

Carl Schillinger was arrested this morning at his home at 9433 Peach street by Inspector William Kyle and Sergeant J H Nedderman, charged with forging a $55 check According to the police, Schillinger has served three jail sentences The name of William Hilderman baker of 724 Washington street, is alleged to have been forged on the check

POSTAL CONGRESS DELAYED.

RUSSIA SEEKS TRADE EXCHANGE WITH GERMANY

Soviet Government Proposes to Deal Directly With Teuton Manufacturers.

BERLIN, Aug 4—The Russian soviet government, virtually abandoning its efforts to re-establish immediately trade relations with Germany on a gold-payment basis, has arranged to fill large storehouses here with Russian products which it will seek to barter for manufactured articles needed in Russia, according to the head of the Russian Trade Commission here The soviet government will seek to deal directly with German manufacturers thus eliminating German and Russian middlemen

Russian imports for the first five months of the present year based upon soviet estimates totaled 156-000 tons, 27 per cent of which came from England, 21 per cent from America, 17 per cent from Germany and 14 per cent from Esthonia Exports for the same period amounted to 40,00 tons of which 85 per cent was lumber and most of the rest flax A considerible quantity of Russian timber which has been floated down rivers in Latvia, is reported awaiting shipment

EXCHANGE IS SOUGHT.

The Russian Trade Commission here has informed German industrial circles that Russia has great quantities of rawstuffs ready for export and desires to exchange these for German manufactured articles, which are badly needed, and which would do much toward the rehabilitation of Industrial Russia" Among the articles particularly needed by the Russians are farm machinery, electrical apparatus, chemicals, and above all," railroad material

The commission enumerates, as ready for immediate export from Russia the following Asbestos, flax, hemp furs sausage skins, horse hair, hogs' bristles goat skins, horn, old rubber, wool, wood, scrap iron brass mineral and agricultural products, caviar, cigarettes deer skins, bed feathers and camel's hair

MATERIALS NEEDED.

In the meantime, Russia steadfastly refuses to permit individual representatives of German manufacturers to enter the country, on the ground that their work would be nullified "by the irregular and uncertain telegraphic communications"

BRADSHAW PLEADS GUILTY AND WILL SEEK PROBATION

Former Richmond Bank Clerk to Ask Court for Chance to Repay Thefts.

MARTINEZ, Aug 4.—Lester J. Bradshaw, 21-year-old self-confessed forger, appeared before Superior Judge R H. Latimer this afternoon to enter a plea of guilty following his confession and the dismissal of his attorneys He will ask for probation he said

Change of the plea from not guilty to guilty came as a surprise today to the authorities handling the case. Bradshaw has steadfastly maintained his innocence and for a time refused to talk when questioned by the police

"I want another chance" said Bradshaw, "and if I am granted probation I will bind myself to pay back the $10,000 to the bank," he declared

BEGINNING OF THEFTS

A suit of clothes, Bradshaw says, opened the way for his peculations

The world demands that a bank employee be well dressed I needed a new suit and borrowed $100 from the bank in March to purchase one I was to pay it back in installments of $20 I couldn't make the payments, so I borrowed $100 from an account, but later returned it It seemed so easy that later I borrowed from accounts again My mother came to America in October to see me and wanted to go back to Australia in November She had sacrificed everything for my education and I owed her something I conceived the idea of forging Nelson's name to withdrawals receipts and going to Australia. The withdrawal was regular I studied Nelson's signature and forged his name Then I presented drafts for $10,000 to the president for signature and cashed them at the Mechanics' Bank A few days later I quit and on December 4 was married Long hours, little pay and big sums of money present a temptation I was getting $110 a month and a million passed through my cage every day"

So certain was Bradshaw that he could defeat any accusation of forgery that he told his friends he was going to Australia He declared that he knew his defalcations would be discovered but he felt certain he could not be extradited

LOSES NERVE.

"I lost courage, though, when I was kept in jail and faced the prospect of two years more in prison if the charges against me were pressed"

Bradshaw is fearful for his mother She was reported critically ill in Australia a week ago and he believes word of his confession may end her life

His wife has been working in an Oakland candy store.

Every cent of the $10 000 and $3000 more that Bradshaw won at Tia Juana on the horse races is gone. Today he is "broke." He spent money lavishly, he said, on his honeymoon tour in the south.

Children Killed By Tropical Malady

BERKELEY, Aug 4—Health officers, after a conference, decided today that the mysterious deaths of two children belonging to Mr and Mrs. H. A Waldie, 3017 King street, and the critical illness of two other children in the family, were caused by flexner or amoebal dysentery.

It is a tropical malady which can be readily carried. The first death in the family occurred Sunday, when Grace, aged four months, succumbed to the disease Her death was followed by that of Ernest, aged six years, who passed away yesterday.

Today it was reported that Herbert, aged three years, was not expected to live Florence, aged four years, is critically ill

This particular form of dysentery was, to a certain extent, prevalent during the war, chiefly in rural districts Health Officer Ernest H Pape and State Health Officer W H Kellog are making an investigation to determine if the malady has spread to other families.

Dr. C A. Koford, in his talk before the Association for the Advancement of Science, today sounded a note of warning against the malady.

Woman Found Guilty Of Disturbing Peace

As the result of a neighborhood squabble raging since January along Fiftieth avenue, Mrs Della Whsneck of 1006 Fiftieth avenue, was today found guilty of disturbing the peace by Police Judge Tyrrell and Miss Ella Flynn, adult probation officer was requested to visit the neighbodhood and ascertain the causes of trouble

The feud started about the construction of a fence Backyard dialogue it is said, raged with increasing bitterness A neighbor, John . Martin of 1000 Fiftieth avenue, was in the thick of the row He finally swore to the warrant charging Mrs Wasneck with disturbing the peace

'She said she'd make me kiss the German flag and talk German before A Iwas through," charged Martin in court today

"I didn't," said Mrs. Wasneck. "I was born here"

Judge Tyrrell said he would sentence Mrs. Wasneck August 29.

Three Ordered Tried Following Knife Fight

MARTINEZ Aug. 4—J Elmer Stine, Nova J Owens and Wallace Keyes, charged with assault with intent to commit murder after an alleged knife attack a month ago on Steve Contorines, restaurant proprietor were held to answer to the superior court yesterday afternoon by Justice of the Peace F L Glass Keyes, son of an Alameda policeman, is at liberty on $1000 bail The others are held in jail

It is claimed Contorines was stabbed in a dispute over the cost of a meal His wounds nearly resulted in his death

GIRL AIDS BANDIT.

SEATTLE Aug 4—While her male companion held an automatic pistol against his spine a stylishly dressed young woman today went through the pockets of J. F. Burgon and robbed him of $352 The young woman is described as 20 years old, dressed in black silk and wearing a costly large black hat.

PILOT ESCAPES; PLANE WRECKED NEAR CONCORD

CONCORD, Aug 4. — Forced to the ground when his motor went dead on him while flying at an elevation of 1000 feet, Lieutenant R B Levisee, a mail pilot, escaped death here today when his plane overturned as he made an unsuccessful landing on the small Concord flying field By skillful volplaning Lieutenant Levisee meneuvered his plane back toward the field, but owing to the cramped quarters and high tension power lines, was unable to make a correct landing.

As the plane careened toward the ground, Lavisee stuck to his seat, spectators said, and when the landing wheels struck the ground and collapsed, the plane nose-dived into the earth and overturned on him Hundreds of spectators who had witnessed the forced landing rushed to his aid, and when extricated, Levisee declared himself uninjured

The plane, a De Haviland Four, will be shipped back to San Francisco for repairs A clogged gas line was attributed by Lieutenant Levisee for the motor stopping. Levisee was on his way to Reno with a cargo of mail He left San Francisco at 8 45 o'clock

WILLIAMS ANGERS FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD OFFICERS

Lie Passed During Inquiry Before Congressional Committee At Capital.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. — Criticism of Federal reserve system credit policies continued yesterday before a congressional commission by John Skelton Williams, former controller of the currency, aroused resentment of the system's two highest officers, Governor Harding of the reserve board and Governor Strong of the New York reserve bank.

In one of the frequent verbal interchanges, Governor Harding charged across the committee room, swinging his fist, but was halted by struggling associates just in front of his adversary, who remained cool, but was rising for the threatened encounter.

A few minutes later Strong, while reading to the commission a report which charged Williams with "false and misleading statements," was interrupted by the former controller, who shouted: "That statement of yours is false."

LIE IS PASSED.

Governor Strong resumed reading and presently referred to Williams as "being jealous of his prerogatives."

"And that's a lie, too," the latter interjected.

Both Federal reserve officials, with a number of associates, had sat apparently unmoved during two days, along with an audience which numbered many Senators and Representatives allied with the "agricultural bloc" in Congress, while Williams elaborated three general charges. He said first that the board had countenanced untrue lendings to a New York banking group during the last two years, for speculative uses, while forcing liquidation in southern and western agricultural districts, and that it had allowed extortionate interest charges and generally failed to "ease down" inflation.

HARDING ENTERS DENIAL.

Governor Harding rose out of the audience and demanded a hearing on personal grounds to deny allegations concerning himself, as Williams had made them, and presently protesting their policy and course, the confidential files of reserve offices correspondence and reports to combat Williams' criticism.

To answer letters and memoranda read by Williams and which he said he had sent to his associates in the reserve board during 1920 and 1921, protesting their policy and course. Governor Harding demanded and received permission to read a letter of response which the board made to Williams in 1921.

"POISON GAS."

The reading of the letter resulted in a remark from Williams about "poison gas," and retorts in which Governor Harding asserted his own desire during all of the preceding controversy within the board to settle matters peaceably, but to fight if necessary.

Governor Strong read extracts from an official confidential report made to the board by him on the New York banking system. It referred to Williams' semi-official reports as "ignorant and misleading" and accused him of "violations of propriety and disloyalty to his associates."

Williams charged that 30 per cent interest rates in New York money markets meant the starving of farming districts.

"Had the comptroller understood the workings of the reserve system," Governor Strong responded, "he would have understood those rates resulted from the constant withdrawal of funds from New York to send to other sections of the country."

Tribune Oracle Answers Political History Query

Iodine stains and political records were among the varied questions that were put to The TRIBUNE'S Information Bureau today. Here is one of the queries:

"In the matter of a set of linen "pockets" which went camping and became stained with iodine. Will anything take that stain out?"

For removing iodine stains, apply a solution of pure sodium hyposulphite and then strong ammonia water, by means of blotting paper, remove excess by pressing between sheets of bibulous paper moistened with water, and dry between clean, warm (dry) blotting pads. Iodine stains may also be removed with alcohol. Common baking soda is also good, sprinkled on the spot and allowed to remain; then wash.

Another query that came in recently was:

"What can you tell me of Grove L. Johnson's political record?"

He is a Republican; was a member of Congress, 1895-1897. State Senator twenty-third and twenty-fourth sessions; a member of the Assembly twenty-second thirty-third, thirty-fourth, thirty-fifth, thirty-seventh and thirty-eighth sessions and a director of the State Board of Agriculture, 1899-1904

The TRIBUNE Information Bureau will answer all questions of a general nature except school or legal problems of a general nature to solve names and queries as to the time of day.

The Bureau is open every day except Sunday, from 8 a m to 9 p m

If answers are desired by mail, stamps must be enclosed. Quickest results can be obtained by telephoning to the bureau. If you have any problems of a general nature to solve ask The TRIBUNE Information Bureau, Lakeside 6000.

"Kid" of Movies to Ask Polish Relief

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4 — Jackie Coogan, the famous "Kid" of the movies, has joined hands with Jan Ignace Paderewski and Madame Paderewski toward assisting the starving children of Poland.

Jackie has just returned from the Premier's ranch at Paso Robles, where he was a guest at a party in honor of Mme Paderewski's birthday. Plans were laid at the party for Jackie to turn over to the Paderewskis contributions to be received by him from youngsters all over the United States.

City Dredger Begins Digging Ship Channels

The municipal dredger today quit pumping sand upon the proposed new extension of West Fourteenth street and went out further into the bay, where it will start dredging ship channels so that deeper water will be given ships entering and leaving Oakland.

The dredger is about ready to quit business, it is conceded, and its condition is such that it has to be patched and repaired constantly, but the mayor and Commissioner Carter believe it will still be able to dig around for a few months until it falls to pieces and go to the repair-yard.

Woman Given Up to Die Saved by Diet of Peanuts

PEANUTS as a food for human beings, containing elements of a certain chemical formation, long recognized by scientists, that acts as a cure for many diseases, are responsible for the saving of a woman's life in Berkeley, according to an announcement made today by the woman and her daughter, Dr. Agnes Bayley. The woman whose life has been saved by peanuts, which she ate as food in the form of peanut candy, is Mrs. M. A. Bayley, 3040 College avenue.

Mrs. Bayley was cured of pernicious anemia after her physicians had given her up to die. The treatment was the result of chance, according to Dr Agnes Bayley.

A member of the family recently brought home a box of peanut candy. The aged woman, almost too weak to partake of food, ate a piece of the candy and liked it. She ate more the next day, and soon she was eating it as food, not as a possible cure for her malady, but because it was more palatable than other forms of nutrition offered her. Her system, she says, seemed to demand it.

Mrs. Bayley is now completely cured of her malady and has gained twenty-five pounds. She says the peanut candy is responsible for her recovery.

LEAGUE TO HEAR TALK.

Florence Crawford and Franklin Harrington will speak next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the Hotel Oakland under the direction of the comforter League of Light.

COMMANDER OF VETERANS COMES

To attend a meeting of the council of administration of the California department of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, H. P. Wall, department commander of California, will arrive in Oakland Saturday with his staff. Following the meeting he will attend a joint installation of Lieutenant Haskell Waterhouse Post and Auxiliary. Commander Wall will officiate at both the initiation of the new members and installation of officers of Waterhouse post.

Delegations from cities all over the state will attend the festivities. Among them are delegations from Stockton, San Francisco, Kentfield, Sacramento, Palo Alto, Berkeley and Modesto.

Mrs. Kate E Hutcheson, national junior vice-president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, will head the committee in charge of the reception and entertainment features. Ladies from other ports will attend the meeting to assist the women of the Oakland auxiliary.

Spurgin Is Located In City in Mexico

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

MARFA, Texas, Aug. 4.—Warren C Spurgin, absconding president of the Michigan Avenue Trust Company of Chicago, has been located in Chihuahua City, according to the district superintendent of a private detective agency here today, and is surrounded by operatives of the company. His arrest is expected momentarily by the Mexican authorities.

Body of Oakland Man, Slain in War, Arrives

The body of Sergeant Otis Kile Norton, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Norton of 1476 Seventy-ninth avenue, killed in France durin gthe war, arrived in Oakland today. Sergeant Norton died August 13, 1918, from wounds received from a German airplane bomb. He was stationed in the Foret de Fere about twenty miles north of Chateau Thierry at the time. He went through the second battle of the Marne, which began July 18.

Norton was employed by a local paint company before leaving here for Camp Lewis in October, 1917. He sailed for France on May 1, 1918, with Company B, Tenth machine gun battalion. He was 24 years old, unmarried, and made his home with his parents. Norton had lived in Oakland twelve years, coming to California from Kansas. He was affiliated with Alpha Camp, No. 101, Woodmen of the World.

He is survived by his parents, by two brothers, Charles Lee Norton and Edward F. Norton, and by twin sisters, May and Mable Norton.

The funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p m. from the residence under the auspices of American Legion Post No. 5 Burial will be in Evergreen mausoleum.

Washington Notes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—President Harding would be made directly responsible for arranging the terms for payment of $10,000,000,000 in foreign loans under an amendment to the refunding bill proposed today by Senator Simmons, North Carolina.

Complete denial that the federal reserve board had ever discriminated against the country and agricultural banks in favor of the big city banks during the recent financial depression was made here today by W. P. G. Harding, governor of the board. He appeared before the house agricultural investigating committee to answer the charge made by John Skelton Williams, former controller of the currency.

Revenue Commissioner Blair has received a formal request from the United States shipping board for a new ruling on the right of American vessels to carry and serve liquor to passengers aboard outside the American territorial limits. The shipping board's request for a new interpretation of the Volstead act followed vigorous appeals from operators of American ships, who asserted that they are meeting ruinous competition from British and other foreign ships.

The senate sub-committee investigating the Ford-Newberry senatorial election contest today decided to put up to the full committee on privileges and elections at a meeting tomorrow questions of procedure raised by Senators Ashurst and Pomerene. Until these questions have been disposed of by the full committee no report on the investigation will be made.

United States District Attorney Hayward of New York probably will be summoned to Washington to discuss the seizure as a liquor smuggler of the schooner Henry L. Marshall outside the three-mile limit off Atlantic City.

Attorney-General Daugherty's report to President Harding recommending that a proclamation of peace with Germany be issued is ready to be sent to the White House, it was learned at the department of justice today. The report will not be laid before the president until he returns from his New Hampshire trip, probably by next Wednesday. Further, it was said that there may be some short delay in the actual promulgation of the proclamation until reasonable time has been allowed for its consideration by the full cabinet.

Many children innocently cheated out of the very food they need daily

Everyone knows that health is the most valuable asset of life. From birth to maturity is the "construction period."

A robust and healthy child will usually develop into a vigorous man or woman. But malnutrition will invariably hamper normal growth and when the child reaches maturity he or she is anemic, poorly nourished and liable to disease.

Many children today are innocently cheated out of the very foods they need. Some parents, either through lack of knowledge, or carelessness, do not provide those foods which strengthen and nourish the growing child.

It is the duty of parents to think for the child, in these matters.

Grape-Nuts, the well-known food made of whole wheat flour and malted barley, served with milk or cream, is one of the most nutritious foods in the world. It provides the elements necessary to nutrition and is a balanced food.

Quite aside from its superior nutritive value, is its delicious appetite appeal. Especially attractive with fresh fruits or preserves.

Grape-Nuts is served and sold everywhere—in leading hotels and restaurants; at lunch counters; in every good grocery store in every city, town or village in the United States. Where you can't find Grape-Nuts—you won't find people.

STOCKTON WATER METER LAW HELD OUT OF REASON

STOCKTON, Aug. 4.—Despite the fact that the city council yesterday repealed the old ordinance under which the Pacific Gas and Electric company is installing water meters, and passed another making it a misdemeanor punishable by fine of $500 or imprisonment and fine, to install any meter or other water measuring system in the city, well informed attorneys unanimously declare the ordinance will not hold water for a moment. They state it is unconstitutional and contrary to all law an dreason.

"As well pass a law preventing a merchant from using scales," said one prominent attorney.

John G Fagg, local manager of the Pacific Gas and Electric company, states the action of the council will be reported to the legal department of the corporation. He declines to comment on the ordinance.

IOWA RACIAL FIGURES.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Iowa's population in 1920 was 89.8 per cent native white and 9.4 foreign born white, the census bureau announced today. The total population included 1,528,553 native white or native parents, 225,647 foreign born whites, 376,710 native white of foreign born parents, 19,005 negroes, 525 Indians, 29 Japanese and 34 Filipinos.

MAN IS TAKEN FROM JAIL THAT HE MAY WED

Miss Cecelia C. Tifer Marries J. Nellen in Effort to Stay Prison Term.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4. — In the hope that she can save him from a term in San Quentin prison, Miss Cecelia C. Tifer married Joseph Nellen and today awaits the word of Superior Judge Louis Ward as to whether her husband shall be given probation or sent to the penitentiary.

The couple married yesterday when Nellen, who has been convicted of felony assault with attempted robbery, was released from the county jail, taken to the marriage license bureau in custody of a court bailiff and later before Justice of the Peace A. T. Barnett.

After the ceremony, bride and groom kissed each other and the now Mrs. Nellen went to the home of her parents, while the court bailiff returned the groom to his cell.

"When a man has done the right thing for 27 years and is guilty of one wrong act, should the years of his life count to the woman he loves and who loves him, or the moment of his wrongdoing?" is the way the bride sums up her love philosophy which led to the wedding.

"I agree with the maxim that a woman should never marry a man to reform him," she continued. "But you see, I didn't do that. To admit that a man is in need of reform is to grant that he has many serious weaknesses. I do not feel that way about my husband. I feel that he is a fine, noble man who did wrong in a moment of depression and when influenced by bad company."

Nellen is a native of Switzerland and a musician. He was arrested May 18 with William Hyland after holding up and beating Isadore Robinson, proprietor of a secondhand store at 255 Third street. They were caught after a sensational pursuit and later confessed.

Judge Ward has not given any indication as to whether he will grant Nellen probation.

CANDY PRICES CUT THIRD.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—A reduction of 33 1-3 per cent in candy prices was announced yesterday by George W. Loft, Inc., one of the largest chain candy store firms in the city. This cut follows closely after that of the Miller Candy Company, the president of which announced that his firm, along with several others, had been making 300 per cent profit.

SHIP SUPREME, AIR BOMB TEST OBSERVERS SAY

Technical Changes Favored, However, to Meet Aerial Warfare Progress.

By A. L. BRADFORD
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The battleship is still the supreme weapon of the sea.

This, it was learned today, is the essence of the report submitted to the joint army and navy board by the official observers who watched the recent aerial bombing tests of obsolete and former German naval craft off the Virginia capes.

It is understood that the observers do not think that the tests which culminated in the spectacular sinking of the former German battleship Ostfriesland by 2000 pound aerial bombs, should bring about a reversal in the present construction of the American navy

However, a number of technical changes in the future construction of American war vessels to meet the progress of aerial warfare are said to be recommended

Whether changes are to be made in future construction of the 1916 naval building program as a result of the board's report is now being studied by the joint army and navy board.

Tribune Shows How Prisoners Get Narcotics

A FRECKLE - FACED boy sat shooting sea gulls with a slingshot as they lighted on the pilings in Oakland's watrfront!

A few days later the Oakland city jailer found cocaine wrapped in tin foil in the cell of a prisoner. He also found a hypodermic needle.

How the freckle-faced kid helped "dope" smugglers to get cocaine to "fiends" in the Oakland city jail is told in the series of articles on Narcotics which George C. Henderson is writing for the TRIBUNE.

The first of the series appears in next Sunday's TRIBUNE. Don't miss any of them. You will learn something about a demoniacal "traffic in souls," the existence of which you have never dreamed.

ACTIVITIES of WOMEN

Cards Issued For Large Reception

An elaborate reception in honor of Miss Margaret Boveroux and her fiance, David Sanders of New York, who arrived this week from the East, and Miss Alma French and Alfred Whitman, whose engagement has just been announced, will be given tomorrow evening by Mr. and Mrs. Leland Stearns at their home on Warfield avenue. One hundred and fifty of the smart set from both sides of the bay have been invited to meet the guests of honor, and although it is to be a large gathering it will be most informal. Assisting the host and hostess in welcoming their guests will be Miss Barbara Bridge of Mill Valley and Miss Elsie Sinclair.

The betrothal of Miss Boveroux to the New York man was announced several days ago at an informal tea given by the former at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Boveroux, on Euclid avenue. With the arrival of her fiance from the East plans for the wedding will be made and it will be one of the interesting nuptial events of the fall. Miss Boveroux recently returned from New York, where she had been about two years. She is a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority at the University of California. Sanders is a graduate of Yale University.

LEAVE ON MOTOR TRIP.

Mr. and Mrs Frederick B Dallam, accompanied by their niece, Miss Elsa Hergert, and Miss Leonore Pfister, left yesterday afternoon on a motor trip to the southern part of the state. They will go direct to Los Angeles, where they will enjoy a visit of a few days with Mr. and Mrs Horatio Harper (Marian Dallam) who, since their marriage recently, have been residing in the southern city. The Dallams with the two girls plan to be away about ten days and the latter part of the month will leave again on a trip to the northern part of the state.

For the afternoon of August 11 Mrs Robert Graff has planned a bridge tea in honor of Mrs Emmett Britton, who will leave shortly for Fresno to make her home, and Mrs. Louis Thiele (Doris Alexander), a recent bride. Mrs Graff has invited the guests to her home on Lakeshore boulevard and about thirty intimate friends will be present. Several social affairs are being planned for Mrs. Thiele who, with her husband, will leave for Detroit, Mich., where they are to reside The wedding of Miss Alexander and Thiele took place in St. Helena about the middle of June.

Japan To Stimulate Her Foreign Trade

TOKYO, Aug 4—In reply to an official inquiry, the Kobe Chamber of Commerce is to submit the following plan to the department of agriculture and commerce for improving Japan's foreign trade

"First—Effect a reduction in the cost of production and a decline in the prices of commodities by lifting the ban on the export of gold and silver by encouraging investments abroad and by enhancing the efficency of production

"Second—Increase the supply of low interest funds among traders and make banks buy cheap bills convertible at as long a period as possible"

The chamber also recommends rules for preventing unreasonable competition in selling goods in foreign markets the establishment of a trade bureau in the center of Japan as an independent institution for encouraging and facilitating foreign trade, the adoption of the export credit scheme in England the opening of a steamship service for [illegible] the Persian Gulf, the Mediterranean and the Black Sea and the laying of submarine telegraphic cables

War Liquor Lid Is Lifted by Commons

LONDON, Aug 4—(By the Associated Press)—The new licensing bill, which finally passed the House of Commons after an all-night sitting and was sent to the House of Lords, where it is not likely to be amended further, removes many restrictions imposed by the defense of the realm act during the war and partially restores pre-war facilities for obtaining liquor

Under the concession which the bill makes to London night clubs their supper drinks may be served with food up to midnight in hotels and restaurants and up to [illegible] in licensed saloons and [illegible] of 10 p m as heretofore The bill also permits distillers to increase pre-war strength of beer to [illegible] The bill enables a barrel to [illegible] liquor at any time [illegible] is residing

Orientals Preparing Text Book Series

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 4.—Following a conference with Sam H. Cohn, state director of foreign language schools, T. Takimoto of San Francisco, general secretary of the Japanese Association of America, announced that the organization he represents is having a series of text-books prepared for use in the Japanese language schools here, and will co-operate in every way possible with the State Department of Education, which under the new law, has supervision over the schools.

Takimoto informed Cohn that a Japanese educated in America is compiling the text-books and that the Oriental schools will comply in every respect with the provisions of the new law.

The secretary of the Japanese association said that it is also planned to establish a training school for Japanese teachers here.

Remember, we have all kinds of photographic supplies and can probably be of material assistance to you in giving you ideas as to the best way to use your camera. The most interesting photographs are frequently those which are taken under the most adverse conditions. With proper instructions and a few Kodak accessories you can take a picture of almost anything under any conditions. If you are in a hurry to see the results of your work you can send us the rolls by mail and we will return the pictures to you in very short order.

AN EASY WAY TO TAKE CASTOR OIL

The best way to take castor oil is to use Aromatic Castor Oil, which takes away the nasty taste; in fact it leaves rather a pleasant taste afterwards.

Aromatic Castor Oil is just as efficacious as the ordinary kind and costs no more.

If you have trouble getting your children to take castor oil you might try this preparation. Price 25c.

IF YOU ARE OUT OF TOWN YOU CAN ORDER of US by MAIL

OUR SPLENDID STOCK OF HAND BAGS

Our stores, for many years, have enjoyed a big patronage for medium priced hand bags.

During war times we, along with all other merchants, had considerable difficulty in securing desirable models at prices interesting to customers who had been in the habit of getting unusual values.

Times have changed, however, and today we display an assortment of hand bags at prices which appeal to the closest, most particular shoppers around the bay.

If you are looking for a hand bag at a moderate price you will make no mistake by going direct to our stores.

LOOK OUT FOR POISON OAK

It's Bad This Year — Taylor's Lotion Will Help

If you are an observing lover of the country you will notice that poison oak this year is more flourishing than ever.

The reason for this is because of the abundant winter rains and the result will be that a great many people will have poison oak more severely this year than ever before.

Taylor's Poison Oak Remedy, if used before subjecting yourself to poison oak, will quite often prevent your taking it. If used after you have contracted the disease it will be found in most cases to be very helpful. Of course, the best thing to do when you have poison oak is to send for the doctor, but light cases can often be materially helped by the purchasing of a 50c bottle of Taylor's Poison Oak Remedy.

OUR MOST POPULAR VIOLET TALCUM

We really believe that we have the sweetest violet talcum powder with the truest violet odor we have ever sold.

This is rather a big statement, when you consider that we carry 50 or 75 different kinds of talcum, some brands of national popularity.

The history of this violet talcum is interesting.

Six years ago our customers began asking for "something a little better than ordinary talcums."

Unable to meet these requirements from available brands, we set about to make a talcum of superior quality in our laboratory.

There was very little trouble in producing the necessary quality, but it was necessary to be able to make it to sell for not over 26c a can. As most talcums sold for 15c, we figured that 25c would be as much as we could hope to get.

By installing improved apparatus and adopting efficient methods and by purchasing our containers in large quantities, we succeeded in producing this new talcum so that it could be sold for 25c

You ought to try it! Ask for Vergo Violet Talcum.

LETTER CARRIER TELLS OF GIRL'S SANTA MESSAGE

Six-Year-Old Expresses Her Thanks for Toys in Eloquent Words.

Leon C. Babbit, mail carrier No. 110, has been in the Oakland postal department since 1911. He carried his first mail over a route comprising Clay, Jefferson, Grove streets to from Twelfth to Eighteenth streets He was later transferred to the Piedmont station, and is now carrying mail to the Rockridge residents. He has served in every branch of the service possible for a letter carrier.

Of the strange incidents that have occurred to him during his ten years service as an employee of the government, Babbit related the following as the most unusual:

"A short time after Christmas last year, I was traversing my route in Rockridge when a little girl, about six years old, ran toward me with a letter to post. She asked me if I would take her letter to Santa Claus and I told her I would be glad to, which pleased her immediately

"Upon looking at the letter my curiosity was aroused as the address and name on the letter, in a labored, childish scrawl, read, Santa Claus, California, U. S. A. The letter was unsealed and being curious to know what the little girl had written to Santa Claus I opened it and read what she had written. It said:

"'Dear Santa—I want to thank you for all of the toys you left me and I am going to be a good girl so you will come again next Christmas. Your little friend,

"'Mary Jane'

"Then it suddenly occurred to me that of all the thousands of Christmas letters I had seen this was the first and only one thanking old Nick for the toys received. I have seen none since that time and don't expect I ever will."

Babbit says that Christmas time is the best time for carrying mail for then he declares, people open their hearts and forget differences and are just "folks."

Postponed Robbery Trial Is Resumed

After a delay of four days, caused by the illness of one of the jurors, the trial of Harry Hiden, charged with attempted robbery, was resumed before Superior Judge L S Church this morning. Miss Louise Maldonado, who fainted on the street while on her way to the court house last week, narrowly escaped pneumonia, her physician explained to Judge Church. She was able to resume her place in the jury box today.

Hiden is accused of attempting to hold up the soft drink saloon of John Souza on Peralta street in West Oakland on the night of February 28, in company with Irving Fisher. Fisher has been tried twice on a similar charge, and both times the jury has been unable to agree. Fisher was arraigned for the third time today and will have a hearing August 26. His bail, which has been $2000, was reduced to $1000.

The attempted holdup was unsuccessful because Souza had too much money to lose and put up a strenuous fight, driving off the would-be bandits.

Building Permit for Hospital Taken Out

As a result of the recent ruling by the city attorney demanding that public buildings must obey the building regulations, the Clinton Construction Company today applied for a permit for the construction of the new county hospital at Fourteenth avenue and Twenty-seventh street. The fee for the permit is $250.

The ruling by the city attorney was caused by the Board of Education constructing many buildings without complying with the regulations as to permits. The school board held that permits for public buildings were not necessary. The matter was referred to Acting City Attorney Leon Gray, who said they were. Contractors on various school buildings were compelled either to secure permits or shut down work. They got the permits

Stiff Collars Now Quoted At 20 Cents

Old H. C. L. got it in the neck today.

That is no mere figure of speech, either, for collars are down to 20 cents. The drop came on August 1, but it was not until today that the results began to be generally visible on the streets.

The "soft collar stoop" is giving way to the stiff collar, chin up attitude. Even the throbbing Adam's apple of the love lost youth is hidden behind a starched, glossy "highboard fence."

It is beginning to look as though the popularity contest between the stiff collar and the soft collar had ceased to be a neck and neck affair. The soft collar, according to latest advices, is limp with despair, while its now formidable opponent is keeping a stiff upper edge.

Suspected Robber of Japanese Is Held

Ignacio Renien, of 332 Eighth street, was arrested this morning and identified as the burglar who has entered the homes of various Chinese and Japanese during the past few weeks.

E. Osaki, of 207 Sixth street, identified Renien as a man the Japanese had captured but who escaped while the other was telephoning for the police, on July 14. F M Yiba, of 327 Sixth street, said he believed Renien was the robber who entered the Yiba domicile on July 22 and E. Kasai, of 207 Sixth street, said Renien seemed to be the man who escaped over a fence recently when Kasai returned home.

Inspectors B. A. Wallman and Tim Flynn say they believe Renien has committed about twenty burglaries in Chinatown recently.

VALUABLE JEWELS LOST.

STOCKTON, Aug. 4 — While Mrs. William MacClellan Cook was eating breakfast in a restaurant this morning, rings and other jewelry valued at several thousand dollars disappeared. According to information given the police, Mrs. Cook either lost the gems while in the restaurant or just previous to going there. The gems were mostly heirlooms and were in a small handbag. Cook is identified with a labor publication at 316 Twelfth street, Oakland.

Educators Will Cement Friendship of Peoples of the Pacific at Conference

Prominent American educators who sailed yesterday on the Matson liner Wilhelmina for Honolulu, where they will participate in the Pan-Pacific educational conference. (Left to right, top), DR. F. L. BURK, president, state normal school, San Francisco; DR. E. C. MOORE, president, south branch University of Southern California; DR. THOMAS E. FINNEGAN, superintendent of public instruction, Pennsylvania; (bottom), DR. DAVID STARR JORDAN, DR. EDWARD O. SISSON, president of the University of Montana; DR. FRANK L. BUNKER, Federal Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C.; MISS JULIA ABBOTT, Kindergarten Division, Federal Bureau of Education.

Californians Prominent in Scholastic Work Sail on Wilhelmina for Honolulu

Educators prominent in California as well as tutors from all over the country, sailed yesterday on board the Matson liner Wilhelmina for Honolulu, where they will participate in the Pan-Pacific eductional conference to be held August 11 to 21.

The purpose of the conference is to discuss matters of common interest "so tha all the Pacific nations and peoples may be brought into a more friendly relationship through better mutual understanding."

The conference is the second of a series. The first, a scientific congress, was held a year ago. The present convention will touch more on the political aspect of things, particularly upon the Japanese question, it is said

Among those who sailed yesterday was Dr. David Starr Jordan, who will preside over the conference, which will be attended by educators from all parts of the United States, Australia and the Orient.

TWO BLOCKS WAS TIRESOME WALK SAYS MRS. KEAGY

"At the time I got Tanlac my health was so bad I could hardly walk two blocks, but now I'm so well and strong it is hard to realize I ever was sick a day in my life," was the statement made by Mrs. J. A. Keagy, 606 W. 85th St., Los Angeles, Cal.

"Two and a half years ago I had a complete nervous breakdown, and was so bad off I just seemed to have no strength at all. I couldn't do a bit of my housework and felt exhausted all the time. I had no appetite, couldn't sleep, and just seemed to get worse right on. I tried this, that and the other medicine, but nothing helped me.

"Finally I got Tanlac, and even before I opened my second bottle there was a wonderful difference in the way I felt. I began to eat and sleep better, and from then on I improved steadily and rapidly. After finishing my fourth bottle I found I had gained eleven pounds in weight and my health seemed just perfect. I've been doing all my housework without a bit of trouble ever since then and have not had a sick day. I have told dozens of my friends about Tanlac, and only last week my husband started taking it. I just know Tanlac is the best medicine in the world for people who want something to give them strength and make them feel right."

Tanlac is sold in Oakland by the Owl Drug Company and by leading druggists everywhere — Advertisement.

TAKES CARE OF 5 CHILDREN

Mrs. Taylor's Sickness Ended by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Roxbury, Mass.—"I suffered continually with backache and was often despondent, had dizzy spells and at my monthly periods it was almost impossible to keep around at my work. Since my last baby came two years ago my back has been worse and no position I could get in would relieve it, and doctor's medicine did not help me. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have found great relief since using it. I keep house and have the care of five children and I am very thankful I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound such a help. I recommend it to any woman suffering as I was before I used it."—Mrs. MAUDE E. TAYLOR, 5 St. James Place, Roxbury, Mass.

Backache is one of the most common symptoms of a displacement or derangement of the female system. No woman should make the mistake of trying to overcome it by heroic endurance, but profit by Mrs. Taylor's experience and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

TWO BOYS ARE CHARGED WITH KILLING MOTHER

One 17, Other 22, Are Placed in Jail in Town in Indiana.

BOONEVILLE, Ind., Aug. 4.—Charged with the murder of their mother, Martha Deffendoll, 70, Willie Deffendoll, 17, and Dollie Deffendoll, 22, are in jail here today. They were arrested by Sheriff Stambust of Warwick county after an inquest and investigation into the circumstances surrounding Mrs. Deffendoll's death. Both denied knowledge of the murder.

Mrs. Deffendoll was shot to death on a farm near Heilman. She had been missing for several days and authorities believe she was slain July 24. The Deffendoll boys, it is said, came to Booneville about three weeks ago to seek work but returned to their home the next Sunday. Neither seemed concerned over the disappearance of their mother, the sheriff said.

When a certain Piedmont matron the other day discarded every straight-backed chair in the living-room and substituted those of the overstuffed variety, a local furniture clerk grew curious. He discovered that she was adopting this method of keeping her husband home nights.

Butcher in Twelfth-street market reports a customer who arrived in a limousine and asked him to "throw in a piece of liver for the cat" with her order. Says the request is the first one in five years.

When you see a woman bareheaded on the street you'll know she has just had her hair frizzled. This information according to a hairdresser in a Fourteenth and Broadway building. Men walk bare-headed usually because their hair is thin and they are trying to save it by fresh air and sunlight.

At a meeting called by the Bartenders' Union in San Francisco to decide on the proposed general strike, only three men appeared, the president of the organization, one man out of a job and the secretary. Just memories.

Three Alamedans are in the mountains of Mendocino county looking for deer. If they carry out all the promises they made to their friends about the city hall, the Elks Club and Park street, somebody is due to be arrested by the state game warden. From the most conservative estimate made by the most optimistic expectant, the three will have to shoot at least six bucks each to meet all the demands for a quarter of deer meat. Even the one promised brother police officers by Grant Hicks won't help relieve the situation.

Kind friends are protecting the name of the young woman who, with some more of her sex, went wading in the bay near the foot of Park street, Alameda, yesterday afternoon. It was embarrassing enough to have to walk home more than six blocks without shoes, without having to explain to everyone that the tide washed them off the beach and out to sea while she was interested in a couple of acquaintances in canoes.

Nobody Looking for Self-Accused Crook

Advices from Washington in the case of Andrew Gallagher, self-accused embezzler, asserts he is not wanted in that city and Gallagher will be released from the city prison.

Gallagher recently stepped into police headquarters and surrendered himself, saying he was wanted for embezzlement from the Union News Company of Washington. A wire was sent east and today Detective Captain McSorley was informed that Gallagher is not wanted there.

Gallagher is a member of the marine corps. His action in surrendering himself is still a puzzle to the police.

Contact With Live Wire Proves Fatal

NEVADA CITY, Aug. 4.—L. O. Harden, a business man of Alleghany, Sierra county, died in a hospital last night after having been burned by coming in contact with a high voltage wire in the sub-station of a power company at Alleghany. Harden had gone to the sub-station on an errand and had walked against the wire.

HAS ESCORT ARRESTED.

Fred Lyons, a cook, is alleged to have escorted Miss Ruby Simpson of 507 Forty-third street, to visit a friend at the emergency hospital. After the visit she discovered the loss of a $50 diamond ring. Miss Simpson says she visited Lyons at his place of employment and he denied stealing the ring, but offered to pay her what it was worth. She caused his arrest this morning.

"Dinkum Digger" Is Pictured as Humdinger By Its Girl Owner

Miss Olive Duncan Acquires 500 Horsepower Boat to Break Records in Australia

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Miss Olive Marcelle Duncan, daughter of a wealthy Sydney exporter, and woman champion motorboat pilot of the Rosebay Motor Yacht Club of Sydney, today bid bon voyage to her fast motorboat, the "Dinkum Digger," and entrusted its future reputation to her driving mate, who will await the arrival of the speedster in Sydney, where it will compete in a series of races. The Dinkum Digger, which is going on a 6000-mile trans-Pacific journey, aboard the liner Sonoma, was rigged up in San Francisco, and is equipped with an American-built airplane engine of 500 horsepower. Miss Duncan predicts it will prove the fastest boat in the Antipodes.

Miss Duncan boarded the liner to inspect the boat before it started on its long journey. She climbed to the bridge deck and lamented she could not be at the wheel when the craft will compete for honors in the waters under the Southern Cross.

The fair motorboat enthusiast is studying music in San Francisco, and due to a prearranged schedule it is impossible for her to participate in the races in which her boat will take part. Later, she says, while she is studying in New York and Rome, she will continue her motorboat penchant.

Herrin's Son Freed Of Charge of Drunk

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—William B. Herrin, son of the vice-president and chief counsel of the Southern Pacific company, was dismissed by Police Judge McAtee today in connection with the charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. Patrolman Lewis, who arrested Herrin, testified that he had been drinking but not to the extent that would make him dangerous to drive a machine. Judge McAtee declared that more serious violations of the law had resulted in acquittals when he had held other defendants to the superior court, and he dismissed the case.

Mrs. Charlotte Ferris, taken into custody with Herrin, was dismissed last week by Police Judge O'Brien.

University Extension Courses Are Mapped

Two courses in French are to be the first offering of the extension division of the University of California to Eastbay students in the fall term. University extension classes will open at the Oakland Technical high school on Monday, with elementary and intermediate French classes. G. Z. Patrick of the University of California faculty at Berkeley will be instructor. The classes will meet on Monday and Wednesday evenings, the elementary class at 7 and the more advanced at 8 o'clock.

In the following week, August 15, classes in Spanish will start in room 213 of the Oakland city hall. A course in business correspondence will start August 15, at 7 p. m., at the Technical high school.

The Oakland Chamber of Commerce, Hotel Oakland, has opened an information bureau for university extension work.

Murder Is Charged To Six in Tong War

MARYSVILLE, Aug. 4.—Complaints charging murder have been sworn out against six Chinese arrested in connection with an alleged tong outbreak here last Saturday night. Three other Chinese were held on charges of carrying concealed weapons and six were released. The murder complaints were sworn to by Frank Hong, member of the Hop Sing tong, who charged that Sing Binney, who was shot and killed in the outbreak, belonged to his tong.

The Chinese charged with murder are Jo Fong, Ging Wah, Tom Yue, Wong Fat, Lee Ping and Fred Fong. They will be arraigned today.

"TEST" MARRIAGE ENDS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—That her husband told her that his marriage was a test that had proved false was the testimony of Mrs. Helen Maguire, who obtained a divorce from Judge Graham today from Arnold G. Maguire, of 794 Lyon street. Married January 8 1921, the Maguires lived together until June 10.

THE CHARM OF A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION

And How To Attain It

To be attractive—to be admired—is the secret desire of every woman, but few know how to attain this accomplishment.

First, it is necessary to remove all blemishes—tan, sun and wind freckles, dark, sallow spots, liver blotches and pimples—and bring a pink glow of life to the skin.

Black and White Beauty Bleach will remove almost all embarrassing blemishes, and make the skin clear, soft and beautiful tinted. Black and White Soap will preserve the complexion.

Black and White Beauty Bleach is a delightfully perfumed, pink tinted cream. When applied it forms an invisible coating over the skin. Beauty Bleach does away with tedious hours before your mirror or in the beauty parlor.

To Wear Thin Waists or Sleeveless Dresses

(Beauty Topics)

With the aid of a delatone paste it is an easy matter for any woman to remove every trace of hair or fuzz from face, neck and arms. Enough of the powdered delatone and water is mixed into a thick paste and spread on the hairy surface for about 2 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed. This completely removes the hair, but to avoid disappointment, get the delatone in an original package.—Advertisement.

A Correction

—Quality merchandise truthfully sold is the keynote of our store policy. Our methods of merchandising are too well known to require description. These ideals are bred into our buyers, our salespeople, and into our organization. Our advertisements, for instance, are closely censored.

—But in spite of all precaution mistakes will happen, as in a case recently called to our attention wherein on April 12th we advertised:

—Petticoats in Heatherbloom type, of figured cotton materials at $1.00.

—We have since found that these petticoats so advertised were not genuine Heatherbloom. We ask our customers who purchased any of these petticoats as genuine Heatherbloom, to let us know and we will cheerfully refund their money, which is our way of doing things.

—This error is very much regretted, inasmuch as it worked an injustice not only to our customers, but to the established reputation of Heatherbloom and to our competitors.

KAHN'S.

—We have the genuine Heatherbloom petticoats on sale, identified by the Heatherbloom label.

OTHER AD DRIVES' HISTORIES AWAIT COUNTY CONGRESS

Reports Showing What Other Communities Won Through Publicity Drawn.

Reports telling of what other communities, including Los Angeles, Seattle and St. Louis have accomplished by campaigns of community advertising were being drawn up today by committees for presentation tomorrow evening at the joint meeting of civic organizations when the $50,000 community advertising campaign for Alameda county is to be definitely launched.

The meeting will be held in the headquarters of the Merchants' Exchange, Thirteenth and Franklin streets, starting at 8 o'clock. It will be attended by representatives of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants' Exchange, the Berkeley, Alameda, Hayward and Livermore Chambers of Commerce, the improvement clubs of the county and others interested in the campaign for advertising the attractions of Alameda county throughout other parts of the country.

The meeting also is to be open to the public and all who are interested in the movement will be welcomed to the conference, according to members of the Alameda County Advertising committee who are fostering the meeting.

"Alameda county is being given some nation-wide favorable publicity by the frank confession of San Francisco that her further progress depends on a bridge which would improve the facilities for communicating with this side of the bay," said J. C. Downey, chairman of the advertising committee, today. "And it will be greatly to our advantage to get the advertising campaign under way at once in order to 'cash in' on this point."

The meeting tomorrow night is a continuance of a movement launched at a meeting of representatives of booster organizations of the entire county, held in the headquarters of the Merchants' Exchange on the evening of March 30 when the advertising committee was definitely appointed. Since then the committee has been making a complete study of community advertising projects which have been undertaken in other cities and has gathered a large amount of information from workers in the other cities concerning the results which have been obtained by means of such campaigns.

These data will be presented at tomorrow evening's meeting when plans for financing the project will be taken up and sub-committees appointed to get the community advertising project for the Eastbay district definitely under way.

Naval Notes

Commander J. A. McGee, chief of staff Twelfth Naval Brigade, U. S. N. R. F., will deliver a lecture to naval reserves at the Oakland City Hall this evening on "Naval Courts and Boards."

Owing to the cut in the naval appropriation there is no money available for the two weeks' training periods for naval reserve aviators this summer.

Two new Eagle boats from Mare Island have just been manned by naval reserve crews, one under command of Lieutenant-Commander Jas. H. Willey, U. S. N. R. F., and the other under command of Lieutenant Julian Ducray, U. S. N. R. F. They will commence this month to make week-end cruises with naval reserves to Santa Cruz and other nearby points.

Passport Officials Are Less Reliable Than Divorce Court

MRS. EUGENE A. DREY (left), bride of a few days, for whom the wheels of the Reno divorce court turned with their usual rapidity, but for whom a passport official failed to move with the same precision, and MRS. H. A. STRINGFELLOW (right), one of a half a dozen brides to sail on Tenyo Maru.

Start of Honeymoon Boat Delayed by Lack of Government Papers

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Divorce courts, especially the one at Reno, can be depended upon, but passport officials can't This is the conclusion reached by Eugene A. Drey, a New York manufacturer, who is now sailing over honeymoon seas on the liner Tenyo Maru, bound for the Orient. He is accompanied by his bride, formerly Mrs. Juanita Fetters Klemm of Gotham, who is recovering from whirlwind episodes that featured their romance during the last few days ashore.

Drey and Mrs. Klemm were engaged to be married before she had secured a divorce from her first husband. The time for the wedding and the honeymoon were arranged, all dependent upon the outcome of the divorce proceedings at Reno. Everything was timed to take place two days after the divorce hearing was set. Mrs. Klemm proceeded to Reno and Drey took a sporting chance and started for San Francisco a day later, expecting to meet his future mate when she was again a free woman.

MEMBER N. Y. EXCHANGE.

Drey, who is a former member of the New York Stock Exchange, bought his tickets and arranged for the wedding. In the meantime the Reno divorce court turned with its usual precision and the divorce was granted on schedule. Mrs. Klemm came to San Francisco. An obliging Superior Court judge postponed a luncheon engagement long enough to make Mrs. Klemm Mrs. Drey; the bride went to the hotel posthaste to arrange for the sending of trunks and trousseau to the pier and the bridegroom went for the passports which he had arranged for beforehand He couldn't find any one who knew anything about his passports The officials were sorry, but there had been a mistake somewhere. Wasn't Mr. Drey dreaming?

In the meantime Mrs. Drey arrived at the pier and went aboard. Time for sailing arrived and no husband. The ship's captain was appealed to for aid. He could do nothing. The ship was scheduled to sail and he intended that it sail on time. If the ship must not sail, to prevent a hubby-less honeymoon, then Mrs. Drey should see the steamship company officials This Mrs Drey did. The boat lingered at the dock a few moments after the sailing hour arrived and a steamship official went to help Drey secure his passports.

"HONEYMOON" SHIP.

Drey made the ship just as the engineer had pulled the siren lever for the last time.

On board the Tenyo Maru also was Mrs. H. A. Stringfellow, one of half a dozen brides to sail on the same ship, the second honeymoon ship to leave this port within a week.

Mrs. Stringfellow was formerly Mrs. Pauline Smith Brackin of St Thomas, Ont. Her husband's parents live at St. Joseph, Mo., where the young couple have been visiting. They are to reside in Shanghai, where the husband is connected with an American trading concern.

400 Sing Last Requiem At Funeral of Caruso

By CAMILLO CIANFARRA,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

NAPLES, Aug. 4.—Mourned by immense throngs which packed the magnificent cathedral of Francesco di Paola and all the streets around it, the funeral of Enrcio Caruso was held today.

Music which would have delighted the great tenor during his life poured from a choir of 400 voices and from an orchestra.

One of Caruso's closest friends, another tenor, de Lucca, sang during the services. Several times his voice faltered, but he finished while many in the great building sobbed.

Thousands who had failed to gain admission to the church were packed about the wide areaway which leads to the entrance.

The program for the funeral provided that the body should be taken to the cemetery this afternoon to be laid in the family vault.

The national and city governments cooperated to see that the highest honor was paid Caruso. King Victor Emmanuel personally saw to it that the famous church of Francesco di Paloa should be the scene of the last ceremonies. Representatives of the city of Naples and of other countries were to pay a final tribute.

The widow has announced that she will make her home in Italy hereafter, retaining the great villa near here for her residence. Her daughter, Gloria, will be reared as an Italian.

CARUSO'S ESTATE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. — Enrico Caruso's income, operatic and special performances, and sale of music records, twenty years preceding death, $10,000,000.

Caruso's estate, net, at death, $1,000,000 to $1,500,000.

These figures, in brief, tell the story of the career and financial accomplishments of the world's greatest tenor.

Caruso died possessed of scarcely more than 10 per cent of the great fortune he had amassed by his marvelous voice and "financial intuition." These estimates were given by two of the dead man's devoted friends, Salvatore Fucito and Constantino J. Sperco.

The will was drawn up two years ago by Sperco, who is a notary. This was just prior to the birth of Caruso's daughter, Gloria. It was witnessed by Fucito and by Bruno Zirato, Caruso's secretary.

The tenor's property was disposed of in six equal parts to the following:

Caruso's step-mother, living in Italy.

Giovanni Caruso, his brother, present at his death.

Caruso's two sons, Rudolpho and Enrico Jr.

Mrs. Dorothy Benjamin Caruso, widow.

Gloria Caruso, daughter.

Fucito said at his Broadway studio:

"I think my dear friend left about $1,500,000 American money. I witnessed the will. It was his dearest wish to care for the nearest and dearest to him."

Sperco estimated the value of the estate at approximately $1,000,000, saying:

"Caruso spent has earnings like wild fire. He never got more than $2500 a performance for singing at the opera here I know, because I always saw the checks. He never refused the appeal for aid of a fellow countryman. He had lots of appeals and always appeased them with $100 bills. His income tax in 1919 was $170,000. In 1920 it was $165,000."

Oldest Attorney Is Dead At S. F. Home

E. W. McGraw, said to be the oldest practicing attorney in the San Francisco Bay district, is dead at his home, 929 Chestnut street, at the age of 84.

McGraw was actively engaged in law work at his San Francisco office until stricken ill two weeks ago He died yesterday

Born in Detroit, McGraw was educated in his native state, and was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1858.

He came to the Pacific Coast later and served as district attorney of Portland, Ore., in the early sixties.

The decedent is survived by eight daughters and one son. They are the Misses Elizabeth, Edna, Elva and Geraldine McGraw, Mrs. Harry Nasburg, Mrs. Joel Hedgpeth, Mrs. Edward Roland, Mrs. Edith Bigelow and Frederick V. McGraw.

Funeral services will be private and will be held from the McGraw residence tomorrow with the Rev. Frederick Doane of San Francisco in charge.

Improvement Club Works for New School

The Golden Gate Improvement Club, which meets every Thursday evening at the Golden Gate Library, Fifty-sixth street and San Pablo avenue, has secured more than 1000 names to its petition to the Board of Education protesting against the repairing of the Bay school and urging a new building, it was announced today. The petition has been in circulation for several weeks, and calls the attention of the board to the condemnation of the school by the city sanitary inspector. The new school board recently promised a new school. The petition, however will be circulated and sent to the board, it was announced.

Rival Chinese Are Fighting on Ten-Mile Front

General Attack Begun Against Hunan Province by General Wang.

PEKING, Aug. 4.—(By Associated Press)—Fighting is reported in progress today along a ten-mile front fifty miles northeast of Yochow, where forces from the province of Hunan, affiliated with the Southern or Canton government of China, recently invaded Hupeh province.

The engagement was brought on, the reports state, by orders from General Wang Chan-Yuen, inspecting commissioner of the provinces of Hunan and Hupeh, that a general attack be begun against Hunan province, where his authority is not recognized.

Georgia Woman Will Talk on Temperance

A series of talks will be given in Alameda county by Mrs. Mary Harris Armor, LL.D., of Georgia, under the auspices of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, beginning August 9. The talks will be given as follows: Aug 9, at 8 p. m., at the First Congregational church, Oakland; Aug. 10, at 8 p. m., at the First M. E. church, Alameda: Aug. 11, at 8 p. m., First Presbyterian church, Berkeley.

Oakland Field Artillery Finally Comes to Roost

Ousted from their original position alongside Lake Merritt slough and chased across the mud flats and garbage dumps behind the auditorium, the Oakland batteries of field artillery finally found a home at Ninth and Fallon streets yesterday afternoon and, it was promised, will be granted further immunity from cruel landlords.

The peace conference which ended the heart-rending retreat of the Oakland artillery was staged under a shade tree by Mayor Davie, Commissioners Colbourn and Carter and officers of the National Guard. The site was picked after an inspection of several others.

"This is as good as any," said the mayor. "I don't care where you go so long as you don't get in the way of our dredging in Lake Merritt slough."

"We've been moved three times," pointed out Captain John Fahy. "Is this the last time?"

"You can stay here till we need the land," said the mayor.

"How long will that be?" asked Fahy.

"Take a chance," suggested Carter.

"We'll have to. We're worn out," said Fahy.

The stables for the batteries are already erected at the old place alongside the slough and will have to be torn down and moved. Work will commence immediately.

Burglar Drops Loot When Scared Away

Making the rounds of his beat, William Granville of the fire despatch service this morning came upon a whole sack full of cigars, cigarettes and assorted tobacco in the rear of a cigar store at 100 Adeline. The place had been robbed and Granville had happened along just in time to scare the burglar away. Inspectors Wood and Gallagher found that the place had been entered by breaking of a padlock on the rear door.

American Invited To Allied Council

LONDON, Aug. 4.—(By Associated Press).—A formal invitation for an American representative to attend the meeting of the Allied Supreme Council, which opens in Paris next Monday, was communicated to the American Embassy here this afternoon through Colonel De St. Alaine, the French ambassador in London.

United States Ambassador Harvey, accompanied by a small staff, will leave for Paris on Sunday.

VISITING WOMEN ARE ENTERTAINED AT FORMAL TEA

Function the Most Elaborate Social Affair of K. of C. Convention.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Hundreds of the visiting women at the Knights of Columbus convention were entertained yesterday afternoon at formal tea by the Catholic women of San Francisco, in the Palm court of the Palace Hotel, at a function which proved the most elaborate social affair of the convention yet held.

An informal reception preceded the tea, at which Mrs. Joseph V. Costello and Mrs. D. C. Heger headed a receiving line to greet the hundreds of guests and to acquaint them with the wives of the supreme officers of the order. With Mrs. Costello and Mrs. Heger were Miss Mary Louise Phelan, Mrs. Matthew McManus, Mrs. Frank P. Hughes and Mrs. C. Harold Caulfield.

Elaborate decorations, with the insignia of the K. of C. order predominant, were utilized in the Palm Court.

Miss Anita Sullivan, colorature soprano, and Miss Madeline Sacre, accompanist, offered several numbers to a musical program contributed by Barnat Jaulus, violin soloist and leader of the Palace orchestra.

Those who occupied seats at the table set aside for guests of honor, where Mrs. Heger and Mrs. Carmody presided, were:

Mrs. James A. Flaherty, Mrs. Martin H. Carmody, Mrs. William J. McGinley, Mrs. William J. Mulligan, Mrs. William C. Proutt, Mrs. Joseph Coyne, Mrs. James Rolph, Jr., Miss Mary O'Brien, Miss Kate Supple, Mrs. J. C. Ruddeck, Miss Florence Mullen, Mrs. C. Harold Caulfield, Mrs. Oliver J. Olson, Mrs. John L. Flynn, Mrs. William A. Kelly, Mrs. Rod Chisholm, Mrs. Charles P. McNamara, Mrs. Frank P. Hughes, Mrs. Matthew McManus, Mrs. Joseph G. Brady, Mrs. C. C. Sullivan, Mrs. Thomas Maguire, Mrs. John E. Mullen, Mrs. F. G. S. Conlan, Mrs. Phil Fay, Mrs. Eleanor Martin, Miss Mary Phelan, Miss Agnes Supple, Mrs. J. G. Brady, Mrs. J. J. O'Toole, Mrs. Charles McGettigan, Mrs. George A. Connolly, Miss Eileen Brady, Mrs. Richard R. Wallace, Mrs. Alfred Kelly, Mrs. W. J. McGinley, Mrs. D. J. Callahan and Mrs. Paul Leche

Irish Question Up at Closing Session of K. C.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Voicing the sentiment that, in view of the conferences now being held for a solution of the Irish question, no added expression to those already uttered in the name of the K. of C. should be made, the Knights of Columbus international convention entered its final session here today.

Last year, at the convention in New York, the K. of C. endorsed Ireland's claims for full self government and urged the government to recognize the form of government selected by the Irish people.

The knights endorsed the Boy Scout movement in the United States wherever it has been approved by the head of a diocese.

The convention also declared that while dubious of the success of censorship of stage or moving pictures, that the public should be on guard against indecency in entertainment, and that the K. of C. councils everywhere should cooperate with other bodies toward the elimination of vicious entertainment of all descriptions and urge increase of the educational phase of the motion picture industry.

MONTREAL ASKS MEETING.

The selection of the next meeting place of the convention was referred by the convention to the executive council Montreal, Canada, is the chief contender for the next meeting. Chicago is also making a strong bid for the 1922 convention.

This afternoon the delegates and ladies of the convention were guests of the Knights of Columbus of California and citizens' committee of San Francisco on a trip to the top of Mount Tamalpais on the famous Tamalpais railroad. For the ladies who did not go on the Tamalpais trip there was an informal reception at the St. Francis hotel this afternoon.

This evening the convention program will come to a final close with an "Au Revoir" celebration and dansant in the Colonial and Italian ballrooms of the St. Francis hotel.

Summarizing the business transactions of the convention leaders agreed that this meeting had been one of the most important in the history of the order.

EDUCATIONAL WORK.

The Knights of Columbus historical commission for the preparation of a "propaganda-proof" history of the American nation was launched as one of the most important features of the welfare work of the order. Plans have been made for the expansion of the educational work of the order, offering to former service men correspondence instruction and in the large cities night school facilities It is planned to place the correspondence instruction on such a large basis that fully 100,000 students can be accommodated the first year.

The convention also has decided to inaugurate American welfare work in Italy as requested by Pope Benedict XV. It is estimated that the work will cost a minimum of $1,000,000, which will be raised by the Knights by subscription among the order's membership.

WORK IN ITALY.

Supreme Advocate Joseph Pelletier of Boston said that it was improbable that the Knights of Columbus would extend its organization proper into Italy, when discussion of the project was brought before the convention, adding that immediate plans called for the establishment of a K of C. service bureau in Rome under the patronage of the pope.

Immediate administration of this new activity will be in the hands of Edwards L. Hearn of New York, European commissioner of the Knights of Columbus

The convention was praised for its work during the war and after by Archbishop Hanna in addressing the convention yesterday.

"We must preach respect and obedience to constituted authority," declared the prelate. "That is the only solution for disorder. Might I give my heartiest endorsement to the history movement of the Knights of Columbus American History Commission? Democracy was never confronted with such great evils as confront it today, and the Knights of Columbus in their magnificent work against disorder, against the evils of socialism and foreign intervention in our history, are serving their church and country nobly."

LAX DIVORCE LAWS.

The archbishop declared the Knights of Columbus movement against Socialism was a powerful and fruitful endeavor, including as it did promotion of respect for the family, which present lax divorce laws that make people consider divorce an American idiosyncrasy instead of an American menace, tend to destroy.

"I wish," he said, "not only to express my admiration but something more for your magnificent work. You, Knights of Columbus, 800,000 strong, owe respect and obedience to your leaders who have wrought wonderful things in your name—to the men whose able administration of the affairs of this organization, its noble pre-war work and its magnificent war achievement has brought to the Catholic people of America immeasurable prestige."

Another important address made before the closing sessions of the convention was that of Edward McSweeney, chairman of the new historical commission, who outlined the aims of that body. He said in part:

AIMS OF COMMISSION.

"The world is now going through its most critical period in modern times in the era of reconstruction after the World War. The masses of the people believe that democracy has triumphed, and while they rest under that illusion the enemies of freedom all over the world are working overtime in order to seize power for themselves and to establish again the reign of privilege and special rights.

"The forces of imperialism are lining up for the last great fight against democracy, and their eyes are turned toward our land as the one which must first be conquered if democracy is to be overcome and imperialism made triumphant. Already many of our outer fortifications have been seized by the enemy, not by force, but by intrigue and chicanery, for those who seek our defeat work by the subtle methods of indirection at this stage of their campaign.

HISTORY FACTOR.

"If any one factor be greater than another in the establishment of nationality it is history, for that alone is permanent and enduring, and may not be changed without changing the nature and being of the nation. When the knowledge has become common that there has been an organized movement in this country for more than fifteen years to change the history of the nation by agreement, it will be obvious that this movement is a direct thrust at one of the bases of American nationality.

"When it became evident that powerful forces from within and without were seeking to weaken the nation, the fourth degree found its call to arms and its program of purpose. It stands for a new spirit of historical inquiry, based on scrupulous accuracy, impartial investigation and convincing presentation of the facts and personalities of our national existence, to the end that history may serve its true purpose and become the beacon that shall guide us to paths of justice and equity.

END OF EPOCH.

"Our recent immigration restriction legislation indicates that the United States is definitely at the end of an epoch. Against outside foes we are reasonably secure. It is the insidious attacks from within that we have most to fear.

"Let us therefore resolve that we shall maintain our history like a fountain of life, pure and undefiled, that we shall make known to our fellow countrymen the stories of the lives and deeds of all who have lived and deeds of all who have shed honor and luster on the name of America, and that we shall drive from among us those evil forces that seek to pull down the pillars of our temples.

"Our prophets still live, and while the world is struggling back through the morass of uncertainty left by the war, there is a sure road to the solid ground of national safety. It is the watchword of all those who believe in human brotherhood and love world peace, liberty, security and America."

Bay Artists to Take Part in Big Musical Program

MISS LENA FRAZEE, mezzo-contralto, who will participate in a musical program to be given at a local studio tomorrow night

A varied program in which a trio of talented artists now residing in the bay region will participate is to be given tomorrow evening at the studio of Miss Z. W. Potter. Invitations have been sent out to a large number of musical friends.

It is announced that Miss Lena Frazee, mezzo-contralto, of San Francisco, is to sing two groups, one by Tschaikowsky and the other to include Handel's "Lascia chio pianga," Sinding's "The Sea Gull," Hageman's "At the Well," and Del Riego's "Homing."

Elsie Cook Hughes, pianist, of London, will present one of her pupils during the evening, in the person of Richard Malaby, who will play the Chopin Scherzo, MacDowell Prelude and Intermezzo, and the Liszt Etude in D flat. Mrs. Hughes will render the Chaconne-Bach-Busoni number and a group of Chopin.

Miss Potter will be assisted in receiving by Mrs. Josephine Swan White, Miss Bertha Weber, Walter Graves and W. W. Wallace.

GREETINGS TO POPE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug 4.—The Knights of Columbus convention has sent the following cablegram to His Holiness Pope Benedict XV:

"Archbishop Hanna of San Francisco and the assembled delegates to the Knights of Columbus Supreme Convention, representing 800,000 citizens, send their greetings to Your Holiness, offering their undying fealty and obedience to the successor of Peter and humbly asking your blessing on their work."

MOST BEAUTIFUL GIRL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Miss Peggy O'Neill was today awarded the prize as most beautiful San Francisco girl on the Knights of Columbus entertainment and reception committee. A lavaliere was presented to Miss O'Neill as the prize. The prize winning beauty is a local dancing instructor.

PUBLIC WASTE IS BLAMED FOR COST OF CURES

Too Many Useless and Dangerous Organizations for Health, Nurses Told.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug 4—Multiplicity of organization is responsible for the great cost of prevention and cure of disease rather than exorbitant fees paid to the medical and nursing profession, Dr W E Musgrave, secretary of the State Medical Society, told the convention of the California State Nurses' Association at the Bellevue hotel yesterday

Delegates to the convention representing the three nurses' organizations are on sightseeing trips about the city today following the close of business sessions last night

"Very few members of our profession are making more than a living," Dr. Musgrave pointed out "The question of whether a nurse receives $5 or $6 a day and what a physician receives for each visit is almost unimportant compared with the hundreds of thousands of dollars the public is paying for the support of many useless or even dangerous organizations of one sort or another engaged in some special health field and spending unwisely much of the vast sums they receive from the public by donation and taxes"

PART OF MEDICINE.

Nursing must be recognized as an integral, inseparable part of medicine if both professions are to fulfill the highest good in the community, in the opinion of Dr. Musgrave

Miss Lillian L White presided at the banquet which brought the three-day session to a close last night.

San Jose was chosen as the next convention city.

Miss Mary Clary of San Francisco was elected president of the Public Health Nursing organization Other officers are Mrs. Margaret Sirch, Los Angeles, first vice-president, Miss Agnes Talcott, second vice-president; Miss Florence Boddy, treasurer; Miss Anastasia Miller, secretary. The directors are. Miss Sidney Maguire, Los Angeles, Miss Isabelle Pirie, Fresno; Miss Josephine Breed, Los Angeles.

Phases of nursing education were discussed at the afternoon session

"Nurses are the teachers of the future, and should have a background of academic education as well as professional training, according to Miss Lucy Stebbins, dean of women at the University of California, who declared that no training was too thorough for a nurse.

Elimination of the drudgery commonly associated with the training of nurses was advocated by Dr. R. G. Brodrick, superintendent of the Alameda County hospital, as a remedy for the shortage of nurses. He also recommended the establishment of training schools independent of hospitals in order to increase the efficiency of these institutions which he declared are frequently hampered by the peculiar policy of the hospital to which they are attached.

Recreational needs of the student nurse were presented by Miss Ruth Heynemann, student secretary of the Y. W. C. A.

McArthur Theater Is Leased to New People

Announcement that the MacArthur theater, recently taken over by the Consolidated Theater and Realty Company, which organization is planning to operate a chain of theaters from Seattle to San Diego, would be opened under the new management about August 21, was made today by Herbert Harris, general manager of the new company Under the name of "The Century," the theater will be directed by Lew Newcomb, resident manager.

The lease owned by J. J. MacArthur, Oakland theatrical man, who had conducted the amusement place for many years, expires August 15. However, Harris stated today that repairs and improvements on the theater were in progress, despite the fact that the new concern does not take possession for another two weeks. Improvements amounting to $25,000 will be made upon the new theater, the most of which will be expended on new entrance, it was announced by Harris.

Back of the new chain of theaters, Harris said, was a group of San Francisco capitalists, among which was Charles Brown, who has been identified with the theatrical business for several years. In addition to the "Century" theater in Oakland, the Consolidated Theater and Realty Company has taken over the Curran theater, also to be renamed "The Century," in San Francisco. For that playhouse, it was pointed out, road show productions of the Schuberts have been secured for the next two years.

Harris denied that the new company was in any way connected with the firm of Ackerman and Harris.

Veteran Firemen of Bay Region to Picnic

Sunday will be veteran firemen's day at Madrone park in Redwood canyon, when more than 500 members of the San Francisco department and their friends gather for the annual outing and picnic of the organization.

Veteran firemen of Oakland will make the excursion and the usual picnic diversions and sports will be in order at the canyon. San Francisco excursionists will leav on the 9:40 o'clock Key Route ferry and the Oakland picnickers will join them at 10:10 a. m. at the Fortieth street and Shafter avenue depot of the San Francisco and Sacramento railroad.

CONDITONS OF S. F. POSTOFFICE COMPLAINED OF

Hays Sends Investigator to Probe Charge That Clerks Are Working in Sheds.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4—That hundreds of postal workers are huddled together in unsanitary sheds along the waterfront, and that the $4,000,000 postoffice at Seventh and Mission is practically abandoned, is a charge made by Thomas Flaherty, secretary of the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks, filed with Postmaster General Will Hays.

Lee K Frankel, welfare director of the United States postoffice department, is at present hurrying from Washington to San Francisco to investigate the charge. Frankel is the first to occupy the new position created by Hays to see that the postoffice workers get a "square deal."

Not only has Flaherty charged that the postoffice conditions are disgraceful, but that the war time emergencies are being maintained at San Francisco, and that clerks who were taken off the San Francisco business routes during the war are still serving as clerks He also charges that the San Francisco merchants are receiving the same curtailed delivery that they received during war times.

MUSICIANS THANK DAVIE.

A letter of thanks for the hospitality of the city of Oakland during the convention of the State Music Teachers here was received today by Mayor Davie from the Alameda County Music Teachers' Association

S. F. Girl Sees Revolution in Central America

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—How she spent her vacation on the firing line in a Central American revolution, was told by Miss Anita Barillas, former pupil in one of the San Francisco schools, who arrived in this port yesterday on the Venezuela. A year ago she left here for a six months' vacation with her father. Instead of resting on her father's plantation in Guatemala, she worked as a nurse on the battle front during the revolution that resulted in President Cabrera's overthrow. Miss Barillas was accompanied yesterday by her sister Elena, who will attend the Girls' High School.

Trusty Foils Escape Of Two Convicts

Two convicts, Joe Thomas and Charles Livermore, made an attempt to escape in a dump cart from San Quentin yesterday but their scheme was discovered by the driver before it left the prison grounds

James Van Ripper, trusty, heard voices in the cart just as he was about to drive through the prison gates. He turned and drove quickly back to the quarry There he emptied the load and with the load, the two convicts.

Warden James A Johnson announced that charges might be brought against the men

Liquor Stock Valued At $10,000 Is Stolen

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug 4 — Charles F Anderson reported to the police late last night that on his arrival home from a week's vacation he found that his residence had been entered and his private liquor stock valued at $10,000 removed. Anderson asked the police if his home had been raided by prohibition agents during his absence but was informed that it must have been a case of burglary, for records showed no raid.

PACIFIC DEALERS' BODY IS FORMED BY GRANITE MEN

John D. McGilvray of San Francisco Made Head by Manufacturers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4 — Formation of the Pacific Coast Retail Dealers' Association occupied this morning's session of the convention of the Granite Manufacturers' Association of California at the Palace Hotel. The new organization embraces granite dealers in all states west of the Rocky mountains

John D. McGilvray of this city heads the association as president for the coming year. Other officers elected yesterday are:

P D Mullaney, Colma, first vice-president; Fred E Brittain, Long Beach, second vice-president; Edward A. Wisenburger, Colma, secretary, Max Roth, San Francisco, treasurer, Clarence F. Pratt, San Francisco, business manager, Patrick Donahue, San Francisco, sergeant-at-arms, and Walter Ghetti (San Jose), James Kane (Oakland), Benjamin Woodhall (Stockton), W. H. Hamilton (San Francisco) and John Stevens (Los Angeles), trustees

Acrimonious debate attended the election of officers, following the nomination of P. D. Mullaney for first vice-president, during which parliamentary rules were practically suspended

The choice of Los Angeles for the next convention site was also made during a stormy session and over the eloquently set forth claims of enthusiastic proponents of Raymond, Santa Cruz, Petaluma, San Diego, San Jose and other rival towns

Humorous innovations were a feature of the annual banquet and reception for members at the Palace hotel last night. The entertainment was attended by women as well as men.

The convention will close tomorrow

AUTO TOURISTS RUSH TO STATE; MANY STAY HERE

The number of automobile tourists in California is greater this year than at any time since the war, is a statement made by Al Healy, who is in charge of the San Francisco office of the state department of finance, division of automobiles.

Before this year the average number of license tags applied for daily was twenty-five, but this year the number has almost doubled.

All cars registered in another state must apply for one of these tags in order to operate in this state, according to a state law. This permits the owner to use his car in California for ninety days

"Many of these cars belong to people who are traveling through the state with the idea of choosing a home," declares Healy. "Many of them already have closed up their business with intentions of settling here"

Woman Whose Child Drowned Is Located

Disappearing soon after her 10-year-old daughter was drowned Sunday, and believed to have been the victim of her own grief, Mrs J A. Taylor was found today by the police at the home of Mrs G W. Madeley at 3361 Fourteenth street, where she had gone for companionship. Neighbors of Mrs. Taylor had spread the alarm when she disappeared, fearing she had broken down after the tragedy

STATE ACCEPTS HICKEY FOREST AS PUBLIC PARK

RedwoodTract in Eel River Country Is Gift From Big Lumber Firm.

One of the most beautiful stretches of redwood forest in the Eel river country has been accepted by the state of California through the board of forestry for a public park as a gift from Standish & Hickey, San Francisco lumber firm.

The forest gift is of forty acres and will be known as the Edward R. Hickey Memorial Park in honor of the late son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hickey of this city. The only obligation upon the state is that provision be made for the upkeep of the tract as a public park.

The tender of the gift was made to the board on behalf of the donors by Col Ed Fletcher of San Diego, one of the board members.

Acceptance of the gift is had under a bill passed at the last legislature authorizing the state board of forestry to accept on behalf of the state deeds of gift to tracts of timber for park purposes. The bill gives the donor the right to name the park, and the state assumes the responsibility of properly caring for it. The forestry board is campaigning to interest other large timberholders in gifts of this kind to the end that the great virgin forests of the state can be perpetuated

Oil Deposits Found In Lower California

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4. — Important oil deposits have been discovered in the vicinity of Magdalena Bay, Lower California, by geologists employed by the Mexican government, according to Edward J. Sullivan, a Los Angeles business man, recently returned from an extended tour of Lower California. Sullivan said he met a number of Americans and several representatives of the British government near the new oil prospects and that they were preparing to develop the oil and mineral resources of the peninsula.

FULTON

Announcement is made by the Fulton management that Harland Tucker, the Oliver Morosco star, will make his first appearance as leading man of the Fulton Players next Sunday, appearing as leading man in "Turn to the Right." Harland Tucker succeeds Paul Harvey, who goes to New York in "The Skirt," where he is to be leading man at the Bijou Theater with Bessie Barriscale.

While under Morosco's direction, Tucker was rated as the most promising of his juvenile stars. It is predicted that his youth and good looks and his wholesome personality will make him a great favorite at the Fulton.

Emmelie Melville will play the famous little mother role in "Turn to the Right."

AMERICAN

Bebe Daniels in Elmer Harris' sprightly comedy, "The March Hare," continues to be an attraction at the American. On the same bill is George Bronson Howard's sensational story "Sheltered Daughters," with Justine Johnstone. Both plays are gorgeously staged and John Wharry Lewis and his orchestra offer a clever musical interpretation.

Next Sunday comes Tom Mix, in "Hands Off," a Western thriller built along decidedly new lines, and remarkable for several of the most thrilling stunts the "Daredevil of the Screen" has yet put into pictures. On the same bill comes Wanda Hawley in "The Outside Woman," a clever farce.

LOEW'S STATE

Adventures in the frozen north, intrigues in the social world, and the swindling machinations of a spurious promoter who fools society, combine to crowd thrills into "Gilded Lies," starring Eugene O'Brien at Loew's State Theater for the balance of the week.

At the top of the vaudeville portion of the show are Nat Vincent and Blanche Franklyn, writers of some of the most popular songs on record. Harry Sykes, is an applause winner, as are Olive May and Carl Hill, McConnell and Austin, cyclists, and Cooper and Ridello.

Coming Sunday to continue until the performance Tuesday night is Shirley Mason in "Love Time," and an all-star variety show.

FRANKLIN

"Carnival," the dramatic story of the stage which was actually photographed in gay Venice at carnival time and which features England's greatest actors will close its week's run at the New Franklin Friday night to make way for Tom Meighan's newest starring picture—Booth Tarkington's The Conquest of Canaan" which starts Saturday.

"Carnival" tells the story of a great Italian actor who is forced to go on the stage to enact the tragedy of his own life—and who forgets that he is only acting and lunges at his wife in deadly earnest in the great climax of the play.

Larry Semon in "The Rent Collector" and "Trapping the American Badger" are other attractions on the bill.

BROADWAY

"Cousin Kate," starring Alice Joyce, will be the attraction together with "The Gambler" at the New Broadway theater today and tomorrow.

In "Cousin Kate" Alice Joyce has the role of "cousin" the girl who essayed to patch up a disrupted courtship only to find that she has unwittingly become the chief figure in the romance.

"The Gambler" has enough thrills and excitement to satisfy lovers of the melodramatic.

Saturday's program will have three Griffith stars, Lillian Gish, Mae Marsh and Bobby Harron in "Elder Bush Gulch." "Thunder Island" is on the same bill.

CHIMES

"Man, Woman, Marriage," Allen Holubar's drama-eternal which is being presented at the Chimes Theater today, is proving to be one of the season's greatest pictures.

Much has been written about this remarkable superdrama and much was expected and that it fulfilled every expectation was evidenced by the breathless interest with which it was witnessed at the Chimes yesterday and Tuesday. Tonight will conclude the run of this remarkable picture.

T. & D.

"Mother O' Mine," the big special Thomas H. Ince production, will be continued for the balance of the week at the T. and D. Theater. Few screen productions have aroused greater comment than that which has been inspired through "Mother O' Mine."

The plot revolves around the scheme of a father to disgrace his own son, the child he disowned at birth. The boy is accused of murder and is sentenced to be hanged. At this juncture comes the mother's sacrifice.

Ben Turpin appears in a new series of Mack Sennet comedies, "She Signed by the Seaside."

Eva Novak is starred in "The Golden Trail," a production that gives her the opportunity to play a dual role in a creditable manner.

KINEMA

Fatty Arbuckle's "Crazy to Marry," which completes its week's run at the Kinema theater on Friday night, will be followed by five weeks of thrills and excitement in Colonel Selig's sensational "Miracles of the Jungle," the first book of which will start Saturday.

"Crazy to Marry," tells the laughable adventures of a roly poly surgeon, sought as a son-in-law by a social climber, who became so absorbed in a hobby that he forgot about his wedding day and eloped with the wrong girl.

Other attractions include the farewell week's act by Prince Lei Lani and Bob Carlson a clever dog comedy, "Society Dogs" "Mutt and Jeff," Burton Holmes and news flashes.

PANTAGES

The Greenwich Villagers will troop into Pantages next Sunday as the topline feature. The Villagers promise a somewhat different entertainment than the usual musical comedy. It carries a flock of well known principals a large chorus and out of the ordinary stage settings. A second headliner will be Clay Crouch a blackface comic, telling stories in his own inimitable way.

Other interesting acts will be Henry and Adelaide, a duo of nifty dancers. Perry and Peppino two young musical artists with violin and piano accordeon, Lea Greenwood and Company in "Prediction" a character comedy drama, and Davey Jamieson, adept dancer.

ARCADIA

The weekly souvenir night at the Arcadia Dancing Pavilion this evening will feature roly-polys something novel in the gift line. Also there will be some "roly-poly" music by Professor Stech and his Arcadia orchestra. Thursday evening of next week will be designated as Alameda Night and although bathing girls will not be among the attractions there will be other features to entertain. The Arcadia all-star orchestra continues to make a hit with the terpsichorean fans with the latest popular dance music.

Conference Held On Boulder Canyon Dam

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4.—Representatives of Arizona Nevada and the Imperial Valley conferred here with city officials and with officers of the Southern California Edison Company for the purpose of getting a clear understanding of the claims of the city and the electric company for support in their opposing projects for development of the Boulder Canyon dam project.

The Edison company announced it was fully able to finance the proposed system, even if the cost went to $300,000,000. The city has definite plans for the development, it was announced, but would have to vote bonds for the necessary funds before it could go ahead.

U. S. Students Help French Boy Scouts

PARIS, Aug. 4.—After fourteen days' labor as regular seamen on the United States Shipping Board freighter McKeesport, four American college students have arrived here to assist in the instruction at Boy Scout camps which the American committee for devastated France, in conjunction with the three French organizations, will hold this summer for about 1000 French men and boys. The four, who have volunteered their services and who worked their way across the ocean are Barrie Rich of Yale and Paul North, Jack Danforth and J. Woods, all juniors at Princeton.

The two camps now open at La Croix St. Ouen, near Compiegne (Oise) and at Corey (Aisne) are the largest ever held in France and will continue until September 6. Under the direction of Dr. D'Ellscu of Temple University, Philadelphia, a model swimming pool has been formed at La Croix St. Ouen.

About 500 boys from villages in the devastated are are being sent to the camps as guests of American Boy Scout troops, who are defraying the cost of $25 each for the maintenance of one boy for two weeks.

MAN, BOY DYING, SEVEN HURT IN AUTO SMASHES

Lad of 4 Is Struck by Truck; San Franciscan Hit by S. P. Train.

Two persons are dying, one of whom is a four-year-old boy, and seven are injured as a result of a series of automobile accidents last night and early today.

The dying:

Gus Lucas, aged 4, 3402 Laurel avenue, Oakland.

Raymond Tognodi, San Francisco.

The injured:

Rodney Cameron, aged 6, 645 Hobart street, Oakland.

Zackary Quayle, aged 8, 578 Jones street, Oakland.

George Aitken, Hotel Menlo, Oakland.

George Floyd, 1623 Divisidero street, San Francisco.

George Welden, Lafayette, Contra Costa county.

Joseph Spurgion, 542 Seventh street, Oakland.

Carl Bowman, 706 Laguna street, San Francisco.

Gus Lucas, aged 4, of 3405 Laurel avenue, was struck by a United Parcel truck driven by Frank Blair, when he darted into the street at Tenth and Jefferson streets during a fire alarm in the vicinity.

SKULL IS FRACTURED.

He was rushed to the Emergency hospital, where it was found the lad was suffering from a possible fracture of the skull, possible internal injuries and lacerations. His condition is critical, physicians said.

Raymond Tognodi of San Francisco was hurled through the windshield of a truck driven by Carl Bowman of 706 Laguna street when the vehicle was struck by a Southern Pacific ferry train at Pearl street and Fernside Boulevard. He landed on his head and in addition was painfully slashed by the glass in the windshield. Bowman was hurled from the truck and painfully bruised and shaken up.

The other man in the truck, Joseph Spurgion, 542 Seventh street, Oakland, was also hurled to the pavement and is suffering from several fractured ribs, a possible fracture of the skull and internal injuries. The truck was completely demolished. Engineer Herbert Weymouth said the accident was unavoidable. The injured were treated at the Alameda Emergency hospital.

BOY INJURED.

Rodney Cameron, aged 6, 645 Hobart street, Oakland, was struck by an automobile driven by V. P. Peck, 2285 Shattuck avenue, Berkeley, last night at Seventeenth and Telegraph. The boy was bruised and shaken, but was not seriously injured.

Zachary Quayle, age 8, 578 Jones street, was brought to the hospital by H. J. Sommerfield, 1514 Alice street, and Patrolman A. H. Cladding of the Oakland police department, after he had been struck by Sommerfield's automobile at Twenty-third street and San Pablo avenue. He was not badly injured. George Aitken, residing at the Hotel Menlo, was struck at Seventh and Fallon streets by an auto truck. He was not severely injured.

George Welden, a Lafayette (Contra Costa county) rancher, is suffering from bruises and abrasions today as a result of injuries sustained when his vegetable truck was demolished by a Southern Pacific ferry train at Shattuck avenue and Carlton street. Welden was hurled to the pavement and stunned. He was treated at the Berkeley emergency hospital, where it was said his injuries were not serious.

Noodle Feast Then Ptomaine Poisoning

ALAMEDA, Aug. 4.—E. N. Chapman partook of a big feed of Chinese noodles just previous to setting out on a cruise on the yacht Carrie L., with the vessel's owner, Bob Tappan. When the call came for all hands to turn out and up anchor, Chapman was among those not present. Instead, he was in his bunk suffering from the full effect of ptomaine poisoning contracted from the Chinese dish. Tappan hurriedly called the ambulance and Chapman was conveyed to the emergency hospital and later removed to the Alameda Sanitarium.

Former Alameda Man Gets Orient Position

ALAMEDA, Aug. 4.—Walter O. Jacoby, former chief of police in Alameda, has been assigned to a chief clerkship in one of the Pacific Mail company's Oriental branches, according to an announcement made by Mrs. Jacoby, yesterday. Jacoby will be stationed at either Singapore or at Calcutta. As soon as he is located Mrs. Jacoby will follow him.

Since resigning from his position here a year ago, Jacoby has been acting as freight clerk with the Pacific Mail company and is at present on the high seas.

Funeral of Retired Cigar Merchant Held

ALAMEDA, Aug. 4.—The funeral of Charles H Johnston, a retired cigar merchant who died at his home, 2840 Encinal avenue, very suddenly Monday, took place this afternoon. Interment was in Evergreen Mausoleum.

Johnston has lived in Alameda only a couple of years, having been engaged in business in Oakland. He was a native of Vermont and 84 years old. He is survived by a son, F. K. Johnston, and a daughter, Mrs. F. Frisbie.

Speeders Are Fined By Alameda Judge

ALAMEDA, Aug. 4.—Judge L. R. Weinmann celebrated his return to the police bench from vacation this morning by soaking ten speeders. John Hinkel, a 16-year-old boy, be prohibited from driving for one month. Richard McDermed was fined $10; A. E. Coney, J. Epstein, M. Ishio, Charles Moebus, Ed Lindberg, N. M. Clegg, M. Hoffman and W. Breen were each fined $5.

TECHAU TAVERN CASE UP.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4. — The cases of the Techau Tavern and Purcells' Cafe, which were raided Saturday night by prohibition inspectors, came up before United States Commissioner Francis Krull today when the government announced that information charging violation of the Volstead Act would be filed against both cafes in order to take the cases directly into the District Court.

Policeman Had Right Ideal But Thief Got Away

ALAMEDA, Aug. 4.—A cool and collected auto thief stole the machine of V. V. Knowles yesterday from in front of his home, 1429 Webster street. After taking the car he stopped in front of Neptune Beach, where Policeman Blunk noticed that the car which was from Nevada, only bore one license plate. Blunk asked the driver how it was that he only had one plate.

"That is all they give us in Nevada," was his reply.

Blunk was not satisfied and he telephoned the police station to see if this was correct. He was told told that it was not correct and that the car had been stolen. He hurried back, but the thief had driven away. The police have a good description, however.

Delivery Boy, on Wrong Side, Runs Down Wheelman

Youth in Trouble Before, May Have to Stand Arrest and Suit.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 4.—E. Reek, a youth residing at 668 North Fourth street, this city, today faces possible arrest or the filing of a suit for damages as the result of an automobile accident late yesterday in which, it is claimed, his negligent handling of an automobile delivery truck resulted in his running down and injuring Edward Yaeger of 1045 Lick avenue, this city.

Yaeger was riding a bicycle at the corner of Second and San Antonio streets, witnesses state, and was on his own side of the street when suddenly he was struck by the delivery car operated by Reek, who, it is claimed, was driving fast and was on the wrong side of the street.

Yaeger was rushed to the Emergency hospital, where Dr. Paul Sanford, city physician, found him to be suffering from severe cuts and bruises about the face and head. Several stitches were taken in his right ear, which was badly lacerated.

According to City Traffic Officer Edward Stough, Reek has twice previously been in trouble for violation of the traffic laws, including cutting corners and speeding. Yaeger stated today he would probably take some action in the matter, although undecided as to what it will be.

Supervisors Deny Hayward Request

East Fourteenth street, between San Leandro and Hayward, must not be used as a race course, even to boost the Hayward Farm Products Show, the Board of Supervisors decided today, and denied a request from the committee in charge of the show that the street be closed for that purpose during the show. Deputy District Attorney Ralph Hoyt lent added strength to the decision by advising the supervisors such action would be illegal.

The request of the Associated Charities that an automobile be provided for country trips of investigation was tentatively granted when the secretary of the Associated Charities was ordered to include the estimated cost of the automobile in the yearly budget to be presented by that organization.

Recruits Enlisting In Alameda Company

ALAMEDA, Aug. 4.—An enthusiastic recruiting meeting was held in the Elks' clubhouse last night in aid of organizing a howitzer unit of the national guard in Alameda. The gathering, composed of Elks and citizens interested in military affairs, was addressed by Lieutenant Roy Nevis. The other speakers were City Manager Clifton E. Hickok, who was a major in service, and George Sperbeck, assistant city engineer and a captain in the recent war.

At its meeting the night before, the Elks endorsed the organization of the national guard unit in Alameda by a formal resolution. The signing up of recruits for the company will be started shortly, according to Nevis.

Fruitvale Telephone Service Improved

With the installation of hundreds of additional lines in the Fruitvale district, the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company announced today that it expects before long to catch up with the increased demands made on the company in that district and provide relief in the remaining sections of the city where demands for service are being made.

In the Fruitvale district the company has installed many miles of new cable, both aerial and underground, and numerous poll lines have been reconstructed. The cost of this work amounts to more than $50,000, according to an announcement from the Oakland office.

Berkeleyan Dies At Masonic Home

DECOTO, Aug. 4.—John D. Ricardo, 72, one of the oldest Masons in California and a charter member of Western Star Lodge No. 2, F. and A. M., of Shasta, died today at the Masonic Home here.

He is survived by a widow, Salome Ricardo, who lives in Berkeley. He lived in Berkeley for many years and until coming here was for years Southern Pacific flagman at Shattuck avenue and Center street. He was a native of France.

The body has been removed to Berkeley, where funeral services will be conducted on Saturday under the auspices of Durant Lodge of Masons.

WOMAN BITES BANDIT.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4.—Three highwaymen who halted Robert A. Norton of Pomona and Miss M. Thompson as they were walking near the young woman's home here, were sought today by the police. Miss Thompson bit the arm of one of the bandits and then fled to her home. Norton reported he was robbed of $4.75.

DRINK VENDERS NABBED.

Frank Roma and Tony Mello, operators of a soft drink saloon at 301 Filbert street, were arraigned before United States Commissioner Albert M. Hardie today on a charge of violating the prohibition law. The case was sent over indefinitely pending a chemical analysis of the liquor sold by the men, which is claimed by prohibition agents to be in violation of the law.

7-YEAR-OLD GIRL KIDNAPED; FATHER SUSPECTS MOTHER

Warrant Issued for Man in the Case; Divorce Action Expected to Follow.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 4.—Officers of every city in California today were being asked to join in the search for 7-year-old Thelma Riley, kidnaped in a sensational manner here last night, and the man and two women who carried out the abduction.

At the same time George Riley, father of the kidnaped girl, was taking precautions and safeguarding his 9-year-old son, Richard, whom he feared might be sought by the abductors.

Walter Harrison, whom Riley says he will name as co-respondent in a divorce suit he is soon to file against his pretty wife, Mrs. Irene Belle Riley of Santa Barbara, and Mrs. Riley are two of those sought for the kidnaping. A warrant for the arrest of Harrison was secured last night by Riley following the abduction.

Pretty little Thelma Riley was at play with her brother, Richard, in the yard of the home of Riley's mother at 195 Autumn street, here, shortly after 8 o'clock last night, the children having been brought here a week ago from Santa Barbara by their father following a quarrel with his wife, when suddenly a high-powered touring car drove swiftly up in front of the residence.

An unknown man, believed by Riley to be Harrison, a young Santa Barbaran, leaped from the machine, which was left with the engine running, ran into the yard, grasped Thelma in his arms and rushed her to the automobile. There she was half hurled into the tonneau of the car, where two women were seated, and the machine sped away.

The man made an effort to grab Richard but the lad eluded him and ran screaming into the house, where he told his father of the kidnaping of the daughter.

Calling on a neighbor for aid, Riley jumped into a machine and sped in pursuit of the fleeing kidnapers. The case followed for approximately 25 miles south on the State highway, but finally the "mystery car" disappeared from sight on a side road and Riley was forced to return here, after which he notified the police.

Riley said that descriptions of the man and his automobile answered those of Harrison and his car.

The Rileys have resided for several years in Santa Barbara, where both are well known. Their domestic difficulties, the husband stated last night, developed within the past few months with the appearance of Harrison in the case. Riley declares that Harrison "broke up" his home and "stole the affections" of his wife.

The husband told officers here that he consulted his attorney in Santa Barbara before bringing his children to this city. He states he was informed there is no law against a man kidnaping his own child.

Meanest Thief Robs Kids of Their Savings

SAN JOSE, Aug. 4.—Two little kiddies at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Post, 336 North Eleventh street, this city, are grieving today.

They were visited last night by burglars.

The night prowlers, operating while the Post family was attending a local theater, made their way into the residence through a rear window. Once entry was made the looting began. The result was that the sole "pillage" obtained was about $10 or $12 which was stolen after breaking into two small banks which the Post children had been guarding with zealous care for many weeks.

The outcome of the whole affair is that today the savings of weeks and weeks on the part of the little kiddies are in the hands of some burglar now sought by the police, while the youngsters themselves are inconsolable. Not another thing in the Post residence was molested, although there was considerable jewelry and silverware in plain view of the burglars.

Alameda Pioneer Claimed by Death

ALAMEDA, Aug. 4. — Valentine Baldaramos, one of the last of the old Spaniards who were taught by the padres of the California missions, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Rose Miller, 3041 Twenty-third avenue, this morning.

Baldaramos was 91 years, 6 months of age and had been brought to California from his birthplace in Chili when only a very small child. Nearly all his life was spent in the bay district. In the earlier days he was a well known lawyer. For many years he lived in Alameda. For the past year he has been bedridden and his death was not unexpected.

Baldaramos is survived by three sons, Manuel, Joseph and Neat Baldaramos of Alameda, and a daughter, Mrs. Rose Miller of Oakland.

Fruit Products Course Arranged

BERKELEY, Aug. 4.—A nominal fee of $1 instead of $10 as previously published will be charged by the University of California for enrollment in a two-day course in fruit products to be given on the campus on Monday and Tuesday under the direction of Professor Meyer Jaffa of the nutrition department. Enrollments are now being received at the college of agriculture on the campus.

COURT OFFICER DEAD.

PASADENA, Aug. 4.—Captain A. C. Dodds, 75, known as a leader in juvenile court work, is dead at his home here today. Heart trouble was given as a cause of death. Captain Dodds has been in charge of the adult probation department of the superior court of Los Angeles county for eighteen years.

PROBATION FOR FIGHTER.

Howard Deal of 1117 Castro street, who on Monday night beat Albert Mallano of 767 Forty-seventh street with a pair of roller skates, was today given three months' probation by Police Judge Tyrrell. The fight occurred when Mallano emerged from Deal's home after a visit to Deal's mother.

HUSBAND BALKS WHEN WIFE GOES WITH "ANOTHER"

Gilbert French has filed a suit for divorce from Ruby Ellen French. He balked when his wife demanded he stay at home on Sunday so she could go to San Francisco with another man, according to the complaint.

French was married March 26, 1921. He took his bride to a cozy bungalow in Berkeley. He says his bride invited a "Mr. Herbert" to be their house guest, and every day he was working she made daily trips to San Francisco with her friend. Sunday came and French wanted to make a "threesome" out of the San Francisco trip, but was told to stay home and that his wife and Herbert could have a much better time without him.

The strange house party ended right there, but French alleges his wife kissed Herbert an affectionate goodbye. When he remonstrated Mrs. French replied that she was in love with "lots of men." Then romance died.

S. F. BOND THIEF IN CANADA JAIL

MONTREAL, Aug. 4.—Charles Hayes, serving a three months' jail sentence here, is wanted in San Francisco on charges of stealing $50,000, in bonds from the Anglo and London Paris National Bank there, police said today. Two royal mounted detectives have entered claim to the $1000 reward for capturing Hayes.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Charles Hayes disappeared several months ago with $50,000 of the funds of the Anglo-London Paris National Bank while acting as a chauffeur for the institution.

Later he sent $10,000 to his wife from Salt Lake City and she returned it to the bank. She divorced Hayes and was given a position in the bank.

Fruit Thieves Fail to Show; Police Puzzled

SAN JOSE, Aug. 4.—Santa Clara county has yet to experience its annual wave of fruit stealing for the season of 1921, according to information given out by Sheriff George W. Lyle today.

Yearly, the sheriff states, his office has been kept busy by a flood of complaints against the stealing of fruit in the orchards along the state highway by automobilists. In past years these offenses have been so numerous that it was necessary for the county supervisors to vote the addition of two men to the sheriff's force for the sole purpose of patrolling th orchard districts to watch these offenders.

To date this year, Lyle declared today, he has not had one report of the theft of fruit along the highways. What the cause is, he states, he is at a loss to figure out. The imposition of somewhat heavy fines on those arrested last year, the sheriff thinks, may have caused somewhat more apprehension on the part of tempted autoists, while still another reason for the lack of fruit thefts may be found in the prevalance of warning signs with threats to shoot, which have been resorted to by orchardists.

Lower Prices for Grapes Are Expected

LODI, Aug. 4.—Every indication points to the acceptance of far lower prices for grapes than prevailed last year when buyers fairly fell over one another to contract for everything in sight. A slow movement of selling is observed here. Zinfandels are selling as low as $50 a ton. Some choice black grapes have been contracted for at $60 net. Buyers who care to express an opinion declare prices will not advance on wine grapes. The Tokay shipping season will start in three weeks and already the town is filling up with seasonal employees.

Youth Stabbed in Quarrel At Cannery

HAYWARD, Aug. 4.—John Moore, aged 18, an employee of the California Conserving Company, was stabbed three times last night during the course of a brawl near the Hunt Brothers' Cannery at Hayward. Moore, with several other boys of Hayward and San Leandro, are reported to have gone down to the Hunt cannery to look up a bunch of Los Gatos lads employed at that place. They found them and a row resulted. His wounds, which were dressed at the county infirmary, are said not to be of a serious nature. There were no arrests.

Former Business Man Of Oakland Dies

MARTINEZ, Aug. 4.—Herbert F. Seiler, purchasing agent for the Yosemite National Park company, died here this morning of a heart stroke. He was recuperating at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ruth Glass, from a period of illness when death overtook him. Until five years ago Seiler was a merchant of Oakland. He then sold his business and went with the park corporation. He was born in San Francisco fifty years ago.

Sheriff Empties Wine And Burns Barrels

YUBA CITY, Aug. 4.—Sheriff B. B. Manford yesterday poured ten barrels of wine into a slough and then burned the empty barrels. The wine was part of a quantity seized in recent liquor raids. Several more barrels of wine still held in the Sutter county jail will be destroyed soon, Sheriff Manford said.

TRAINMEN INJURED.

RIVERBANK, Aug. 4.—Three Santa Fe trainmen living here were injured at Calwa in a collision between a switch engine and a through freight. Conductor Harry Kopenhefer was badly cut about the face. Engineer Robert Fordstran sustained a severely bruised leg and was badly hurt about the head and face. Brakeman J. Evans was gashed on the forehead. All are at their homes under medical care.

BANKER DIES.

PASADENA, Aug. 4.—Dr. Nathan H. Williams, retired physician of Jackson, Mich., where he was also president of the Jackson State Savings bank, died at his residence here last night.

PRINCIPALS ARE SELECTED FOR TWO SCHOOLS

G. E. Furbush and Willard E. Givens to Head Fruitvale and Garfield.

The appointment of G. E. Furbush and Willard E. Givens as principals respectively of the Fruitvale and the Garfield Junior high schools, was announced today by Superintendent of Schools Fred M. Hunter.

Both the new principals are eminent educators. Furbush recently resigned as principal of the Haight school in Alameda, where he has taught twelve years. He has been connected with education in California for twenty-four years, having taught at Livermore and Benicia before going to Alameda.

Givens is known as one of the foremost educators in Hawaii, having been principal of the McKinley school in Honolulu. In 1918, he headed the educational department at Mare Island navy yard, and previous to that he taught in Indiana.

Givens was educated at Indiana University, the Union Theological Seminary in New York and Columbia University. Furbush is a graduate of Livermore high school and Stanford University.

MISCONDUCT AT HOSPITAL DENIED

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 4.—Charges of misconduct and mismanagement of the Weimar Tuberculosis Sanitarium were denied today by Chairman Robert E. Callahan, of the hospital central committee; Dr. William G. Hittington, medical director, and P. McGovern, superintendent of the institution.

Reports of alleged immorality on the part of patients and officials had their origin in charges made by a San Francisco detective, who is said to have visited Weimar as a patient to gather "evidence of maladministration."

Such an investigation was sought by San Francisco officials, it is said, because of impending action regarding the signing of a contract with the sanitarium for the care of San Francisco tuberculosis patients.

The detective's report charged that patients, men and women, "ran around the woods like wild people," and that a laxity of certain laws permitting the promiscuous distribution of liquor among the patients.

Action Brought To Recover Big Amount on Note

SAN JOSE, Aug. 4.—Suit for the recovery of $27,900 on a promissory note alleged due and unpaid was filed in the Superior Court here late yesterday by H. A. Gabriel against C. Nicholls Broglie and Weva Nichols Broglie, the action being one of the largest filed in Santa Clara county in several months.

The defendants, according to the complaint filed, borrowed $27,900 on a promissory note on March 3 from Frank, Manuel and Joseph Rose, brothers, of this city. The note was payable May 10, the money having been desired for the purpose of carrying out a business deal which was expected to net considerable profit.

The Rose brothers state that no part of the principal of the note has been paid and that they have turned the note over to H. A. Gabriel, a local attorney and plaintiff in the case, for collection.

The complaint further states that Weva Broglie, one of the defendants, has departed for New Zealand and is not expected to return.

Water Is Planned For 18,000 Acres

TRACY, Aug. 4.—Tom Paine slough will furnish the water supply for the new Banta-Sarbona irrigation district, announces the board of directors. Pumps will be installed at the Ansbro place. The canals will carry water to the high points on each 40 acres for distribution. It is estimated that the cost per acre will not exceed $35. The board is now negotiating with A. O. Stewart of San Francisco for right-of-way across his property. Probably today the state bond commission's representative will arrive to go over the big project, which embraces 18,000 acres. By next season it is expected that water will be on the land.

Manteca Trying to Solve Water Problem

MANTECA, Aug. 4.—City Engineer Sloan has presented two plans to the town trustees to enable them to arrive at a conclusion regarding the water problem. The first is to put in a municipal plant. The second project would purchase the present waterworks and enlarge the mains, add some new machinery and scrap part of the existing plant. He claims the present pumping machinery is too powerful for the mains. The water question is acute, rendered more so by the installation of meters now going in. Property owners complain that meters will increase rates to such an extent that lawns and gardens will be things of the past.

S. J. Italians Doubt Caruso Death Report

SAN JOSE, Aug. 4.—D. M. Denegri, local city councilman and one of San Jose's leading Italo-Americans, today stated that many of his countrymen, among the uneducated, at least, refused to believe for many hours and even as late as last night that the famous singer, Enrico Caruso, was dead. Many reading of Caruso's death, Denegri said, called on him for confirmation, questioning him closely as to the positiveness of the passing of the famous Italian.

V. E. BASSETT SOUGHT.

Mayor Davie today requested the police to search for V. E. Bassett, formerly of 121 Twelfth street. The mayor was requested to search by N. J. Good, a brother-in-law, who lives in Bremen, Ohio, and who intimates that Bassett has come into an estate.

Indian Tribes Bury Hatchet Ending Feud of 271 Years

(By Associated Press)

PENETANG, Ont., Aug. 4.—Friendliness existed today between the hereditary Indian foes, the Hurons and Iroquois, whose feathered chieftains buried the hatchet yesterday and smoked the pipe of peace in the presence of a great multitude gathered on the shores of Penetang Bay for the tercentary celebration of the coming of the pioneer chieftain. The ceremony ended a fued that began 271 years ago.

Chief Ovide Sioni of the Hurons, said to be Big Chief Andrew Staats, leader of the Mohawk Tribe of the Six Nations:

"Now we go kill moose together."

They had puffed at the pipe of peace and buried the war hatchet beneath a huge red boulder.

Bay Bridge Project Will Go to War Department

The movement for bridging San Francisco bay now awaits the holding of a formal hearing by the War Department for the purpose of securing from military engineers a definite statement of policy, following a decision of the general committee yesterday at the San Francisco city hall.

At this meeting the engineers' report, recommending that the Davies-Modjeski or any plan for bridging the bay be not acted upon pending a thorough study of engineering and traffic conditions on both sides of the bay, which was formulated at a meeting on Monday was presented.

After a discussion, the general committee decided that a petition for a War Department hearing on the bay bridge project would be requested. Accompanying the petition will be certified copies of resolutions passed by the boards of supervisors of San Francisco and Alameda counties and by various civic organizations on both sides of the bay.

This petition and the accompanying documents will be forwarded to Colonel Herbert Deakyne, local engineer representative of the War Department, who will forward it to Washington for consideration of the Secretary of War.

The petition will ask that the board of military engineers conduct its hearings either here or in San Francisco and not in Washington, in order that a greater volume of evidence may be secured.

Marin avenue was conquered yesterday by a Lexington in a manner that is deserving of loud praises. Roy Mires, driving a Lexington with an Ansted power plant, lowered the time on this tough old hill by seventeen seconds when he set a mark of 1 minute 54 1-5 seconds. An Essex had held the laurels for fifteen months with a performance of 2 minutes 11 1-5 seconds. More than two dozen attempts have been made by all kinds of cars to lower the Essex performance, some contenders practicing as long as an entire week over the steep Marin grade but not until yesterday was the record in danger.

The way in which Mires put the Lexington Lark model up the hill, on his first official trial, is indicative to the writer that if someone comes along now and betters Mires' showing the Lexington still has a little reserve left to meet the new performance.

Marin avenue has no counterpart in all of the hills now used for stunt work around the San Francisco bay cities, where the power of a motor can be so convincingly shown. Duncan street, Sunnyslope and similarly pitched grades are known as "Trick Hills," which, if hit the right way, with luck entering the fray as a factor, will enable a clever demonstration to be made. On Marin a car has to dig in from the foot of the more than eight-tenths of a mile climb and keep digging persistently until the summit is crossed. The last two blocks on it are the steepest pitched of eleven separate hills that constitute the avenue.

The road bed on this Berkeley stunt hill is in poorer condition now than the writer has ever seen it and this factor adds a little more glory to the Lexington victory.

J. F. Kaar, owner of the J. F. K. Motor Company, Lexington dealers on this side of the bay, supervised the arrangements for the climb and today he is the happiest automobile man along the row because he is convinced there isn't another stock car made that can lower the mark his car made on Marin.

USED CAR SALE PLANNED.

"Don't give business a chance to get bad." Following that precept and conditions will remain good.

Carl Christensen, owner of the Victory Motor Sales Company, believes in that sort of gospel, and to stimulate what he declares to be an already healthy sales volume he is starting tomorrow in his downtown salesroom, the first annual clearance of used automobiles which he has had occasion to arrange.

"The accumulation of used cars from the spring new car selling period have been priced at a figure that will make them move quickly, will clean us out of our used models and place us in a strong position to compete for the big fall business that is in prospect on new automobiles.

"We haven't started any new scheme," Christensen declares, "but are simply following the plan of well run merchandise stores, which regularly clear out their unsold goods, and we think the idea will be a success."

SCRIPPS BOOTH SALES ACTIVE.

The response to David Aronson's announcement that he had lowered the price on a limited number of Scripps Booth cars brought out the largest number of buyers Aronson has had in his salesroom for two months. Eight cars were sold up to Wednesday noon, according to a statement made by Byron Gray, manager of the concern. Aronson intends to keep the low prices only for a period of thirty days.

On Saturday he will display in his Broadway showrooms the larger model Scripps Booth. Advance information concerning this model is somewhat meager, other than to infer that critics will find little fault with the body design or construction principles employed in it.

STREET BATTLE OF BOOTLEGERS TERRIFIES TOWN

NEWPORT, Ky., Aug. 4. — Clifton, a suburb of this city, was kept in a state of terror all last night by three separate fussilades of pistol shots, the heaviest of which happened just before dawn. Residents near the scene of all the shooting looked from their windows and saw two gangs of men firing at each other. More than one hundred shut were exchanged but it is not believed that any one was injured. The shootings happened after the mysterious appearances of motor trucks, the loads of which were transferred to touring cars.

It is believed the shootings resulted from a quarrel among bootleggers.

Hat Factory Sold to Pay Taxes for $321

ALAMEDA, Aug. 4. — "What am I bid! What am I bid for this fine hat factory?"

This was the cry which caused everyone entering the lobby of the city hall to turn about in surprise at 9 o'clock this morning. The cry came from City Assessor Fred L. Croll and the call was for the sale of the Goswald Hat Manufacturing Company, located at 1519 Park street. Croll found it necessary to sell the institution for non-payment of city and county taxes.

Only one bidder was attracted by Croll's oratory and he was L. A. Konigshofer, owner of the building in which the hat factory was located. He bid $321.50 the amount of the taxes, and being unable to arouse any more interest in his auction Croll finally let it go to him.

The factory included a large amount of machinery, both up to date and ancient, as well as a collection of head coverings in various stages of completeness.

Hunger Plea Fails To Save Pilferer

A plea of hunger on the part of William Coachman, negro porter of the Carlisle club in West Oakland, did not save him from being sentenced to 150 days in the city jail for robbery. Coachman admitted he realized $200 from the sale of plunder from the club, stolen from the lockers at various times. He said he was hungry and forced to steal. Evidence showed that the Carlisle club at least paid him enough to provide nourishment.

WALES TO VISIT CANADA.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—(By Canadian Press.)—The Prince of Wales may be in Canada again in April or May next year. The Daily Mail states that his tour of India will conclude at Karachi March 17, 1922, whence the prince and his party will return home by way of Japan and probably through Canada.

JAPANESE FUNDS TO BLOCK CHINESE FOLLOWED APPEAL

Translation Introduced in An Effort to Discredit Testimony Before Committee.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. — A translation of a Japanese appeal for funds to send representatives of organized labor to Washington to protest against temporary admission of Chinese coolies to Hawaii, published in the Labor Review, Honolulu, was placed in the House immigration committee record today by Chairman Johnson. It was sufficient, Johnson said, to discredit the testimony of George W. Wright, editor of the Review and president of the Central Labor Council of Honolulu, concerning agricultural labor conditions on the islands. Previous testimony had shown that Wright and Wilmot Chilton, treasurer of the union, had been sent here on funds supplied in part by the Japanese in the islands.

"We believe the secretary of labor is standing on our side, and if such a bill passes Congress he will never put such a program into practice," the translation said. As to the "capability of Wright and Chilton, who are always our friends," it added: "As the situation of the coolie bill does not allow us to hold optimistic feeling, we are sending Wright and Chilton as the representatives of the Central Labor Council to present evidence of facts to the Washington authorities to block the treacherous plot of importing coolie labor. The expense of sending delegates is defrayed by raising money from every organization as well as contributions from persons who belong to our class. We hope as many persons as possible will contribute."

Woman Arrested At Downtown Hotel

Mrs. Francis Alethia Head, inspirationalist and truth teacher, who was recently acquitted of an insanity charge, was arrested today following her appearance at the Hotel Oakland, where she is alleged by the management to have harrangued several guests, accusing them of various wrongdoings.

Two women guests, according to the management, were assailed by Mrs. Head in the main dining room, and several male guests were accused by her of following her about.

The woman was warned by the management that she would be arrested if she did not leave the place. She refused to leave, and later engaged in boisterous conversation with another guest, whereupon the police were called in. She is charged with disturbing the peace.

Capitalist Denies Intoxication Charge

Joseph J McHugh, Oakland capitalist, denied he was intoxicated while driving his automobile on the night of July 2, when arraigned on that charge before Judge Samuels. According to allegations against him he forced Thomas McClure, 318 Jerome street, Piedmont, into the ditch on the Tunnel road. The police say they found seven bottles of whisky in McHugh's car. He will be tried September 1.

NATION'S DESTINY TO BE FULFILLED SAYS PRESIDENT

Harding Says Coming Conference Gives Promise of Ending All Wars.

LANCASTER, N. H., Aug. 4.—Confidence that American institutions are more firmly implanted than ever before and that in the near future America's example will lead all the nations to permanent peace was expressed by President Harding today in an address at a Harding today in an address at a ter. The coming disarmament conference, the President said, gave promise of an international agreement that would end wars and turn the attention of mankind to constructive and beneficial pursuits.

He asked for the support of the American people in the government's trial over the reconstruction period and pledged in return that the administration would serve the nation to its highest ability

The President's speech was delivered from his automobile in Continental Square here to a crowd of several thousand who had come to bid him welcome to the White Mountain country. He was cheered many times while he was speaking, and after he concluded the crowd broke police lines to crowd about him and shake his hand.

DESTINY TO PERFORM.

"Today I stood on Mount Prospect and saw a wonderful picture," said the President "In some of the valleys there were clouds and signs of storm bedimming our vision, but above the peaks rose serene and untroubled. And while I gazed my mind turned to the affairs of men, and I said with some comfort to myself, that though the clouds may be dim we need not lose confidence, for I believe with all my heart that no matter what bedims the picture we of America have a God-given destiny to perform which nothing on earth will ever prevent

In a century and a third we of the United States have outstripped every record of civilization in the history of this world. This republic, which had its beginnings in a little group of colonies now is conceded the leadership of the world

"The story of the world is one stage after another of development of warfare until we of this generation have witnessed the most gigantic conflict of all time The cost of the conflict was so great that we are coming to have a consciousness and determination that the whole development has been wrong and that acquisition by might is unjust.

WOULD END WARFARE.

"We of this country and all the world are resolved today that warfare ought to come to an end.

"I'm happy to bring you word that your government is doing all it can to have a conference at which the representatives of the nations can look each other in the eye and work together for a way to remove the causes of war and put an end to costly armament I believe we shall succeed."

Referring to his conferences at Washington with leaders of various national groups, the President asserted that his contact with these men had deepened his confidence in the soundness of American public opinion. He told how he had received a letter here suggesting that he "behead" all those who had more than their share of wealth and continued: "I have never believed that to be the mission of this republic. I wonder what wealth is? I like to think of the leader in the community of the man to whom those about him turn for counsel and advice. That's the great man of America no matter how you measure his wealth.'

ALL DOING THEIR BEST.

"In the past few weeks I have had an opportunity to meet many such leaders—leaders of capital, of labor, and the leaders of the other groups that make up the nation, and I want to say to you that there is not one in any group who deep in his heart does not want to preserve our America and continue its onward course. Those who are suspected most sometimes are most generous of all, in their tenders of help to those in authority.'

"Sometimes you think your government is not alert, but let me tell you—and I care not what party is in power—your government is trying to serve you as best it can. You can't be told everything that's going on—that is not a practical plan—but it is fair to tell you that your public servants are honestly, and to the best of, their ability, trying to promote the fortunes of our common country."

BIGAMY TRIAL DATE SET.

Louis Greenwell, accused of marrying Miss Lorena Chase, 20-year-old Oakland girl, when he was already married to Mrs. Catherine Greenwell, mother of his two children, pleaded not guilty to the charge when arraigned before Superior Judge George Samuels today. Judge Samuels fixed bail at $2000, which Greenwell was unable to furnish, and set the case for hearing on August 24. The alleged bigamous marriage occurred on May 2.

VETERAN HOTEL MAN DIES.

NAPA, Aug 4.—William W. Lane 69, Civil War veteran and hotel man in San Francisco in the early fifties is dead at the Old Soldiers' Home at Yountville. He is survived by a son, Charles J. Lane, of Oakland who will take charge of the funeral Lane was engaged in ranching near Santa Rosa after the Civil War and went to Oakland in 1906.

WARNING!

Notice is hereby given to all persons in the City of Oakland owning or having possession of dogs, that under the provisions of Ordinance No. 856 N. S., licenses for the year beginning July 1, 1921, are now due and payable.

Under the provisions of the ordinance a failure on the part of any person having possession of or owning a dog to obtain a license for the same constitutes a misdemeanor, and is punishable by a fine not to exceed fifty ($50.00) dollars; and it is the expressed intention of the city authorities to rigidly enforce the ordinance.

Belles, Fruits and Flowers for Products Show

EDEN SHOW WILL PLAY UP FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

HAYWARD, Aug. 4.—According to a report by the chairman of this department, Frank Cunha, here today, the fruit and vegetable exhibits at the coming Eden Township Farm Products Show will be the most extensive and varied, as well as the most interesting feature of the entire fair Originally the backbone of the Eden Township fair, this department has increased with the growth of the vegetable growing industry in Alameda county, till now it ranks among the leading attractions at the land show.

Changes incident to the greater development of the department have taken place, states Cunha. For one thing the exhibits this year will be of a specialized nature rather than of general fruit and vegetable entries Few will compete for the sweep-stakes offered the "most extensive, perfect and varied exhibit on one farm in Eden Township," according to Cunha. Many have been growing special varieties of both fruit and vegetables for the coming show

All entries in this department must be on hand and in place by noon of Thursday, August 11, when the big four days' fair opens its doors to the general public, according to an announcement by the committee head here today.

TRUCKS TO COLLECT.

Trucks will be supplied to collect exhibits for this department from all over the township. Over fifty growers are listed to enter in the coming show. Competition this year will be keen between the commercial vegetable men and the private owners. On the list of specially grown exhibits, which will be entered in the coming show, is an entry of mammoth horse beans, grown by Frank Ferrio of the eastern district of the township. This exhibit is said to be the finest of its kind ever shown at the annual fair.

On this list of special entries is also an exhibit of green peas in alcohol. This will be the only exhibit of its kind in the department and is illustrative of the growth of the peas on the vines. It has been carefully prepared and shows up the minutest details. With pea growing one of the foremost industries of Eden township this exhibit has created a good deal of interest. All other entries in the vegetable department will be fresh picked, mature examples of the produce of this section. The department is limited simply to the township, states Cunha.

In addition to the two items mentioned above several growers are planning to enter selected exhibits of fancy corn, squash and cucumbers, according to the chairman.

SHOW FINE FRUITS.

The fruit department of the coming Eden Township Farm Products Show embraces such varieties as apples, pears, peaches, plums, prunes, nectarines, figs, oranges, lemons, grapes, apricots, cherries, strawberries, blackberries, loganberries, currants, loquats, quinces, crab-apples, walnuts, almonds and hazelnuts, all of which can be and are successfully, if not commercially, grown within the boundaries of Eden Township. According to reports by the committee in charge of this department, this exhibit at the coming show will vie with all others for a place among the features of the four day fair.

On the list of vegetables which will be entered and judged are the following: Parsley, tomatoes, Irish potatoes, parsnips, carrots, blood beets, sugar beets, radishes, cauliflower, brussels sprouts, turnips, cabbage, lettuce, onions, garlic, artichokes, celery, rhubarb, squashes, pumpkins, cucumbers, beans, lima beans, kidney beans, white beans, bush beans, pole beans, field beans, horse beans, peas, purple eggplant, mangel-wursels, rutebega, stock beets and corn. The list is said to be an incomplete grouping of the varieties of vegetables produced in Eden Township.

In line with the growth and development of the fruit and vegetable department at the annual land show a great deal of attention has recently been drawn to the commercial development of the latter industry in Eden Township. The following figures obtained through the co-operation of Frank Cunha, head of the Farm Products Show Association committee in charge of these features at the coming show and superintendent of a local commercial organization embracing six hundred fruit and vegetable growers in the county, the majority of whom are located in Eden Township, bear out the contention of the show committee that these departments are among the main features of the fair.

HORSE BEANS HEAVY.

In Eden Township alone, among the growers who are co-operating to put over the annual land show as a big yearly event, there are over 60 growers of horse beans tilling an acreage of better than 600 acres, from which 25 carloads of this produce were shipped to eastern points during the last season. There are 385 pea growers within the township, the acreage under cultivation being approximately 1500. Upwards of 68,000 sacks of peas were grown on these holdings during the season that has recently closed There are over fifty commercial corn growers averaging a cultivation of ten acres a piece in the Township; 32,000 sacks of corn have been handled through a clearing house located in Hayward up to the present date this season. The same clearing house averages an annual turnover of slightly in excess of $1,000,000 a year in vegetables grown in Eden Township alone. Statistics available on the growth of the most recent addition to the commercial vegetable industry of the township, that of early potato cultivation, show that, although this branch has only been existent for a period of five years, the yield during the season of 1921 approximated 37,000 boxes and 1100 sacks.

Practically every known variety of vegetable and fruit can be grown in the township, according to the Show committee in charge of these two branches. The main vegetable growing section lies in the neighborhood of Mt. Eden, San Lorenzo and San Leandro, along the floor of the valley. Fruit is grown in all sections of the township but particularly along the more elevated belt of which Hayward is the center.

JUDGING ON FRIDAY.

The judging of the fruits and vegetables will take place on Friday afternoon, Aug. 12, according to the committee. Judges will be selected by the heads of the executive committee. Scoring will be based on a published count and the prizes will consist of ribbons as in the other strictly Eden Township branches of the show.

In addition to the fruit and vegetable departments at the 1921 Eden Township Farm Products Show there will be poultry and pigeon exhibits, live stock entries, industrial exhibit, a monster out-door pageant, a baby show and a great many specili features stunts, band concerts, orchestra, entertainments, public dancing and the usual fair concessions.

"Something doing every minute" has been adopted as the fair committee's slogan and every effort will be made to live up to the watchword. The annual show opens at noon of Thursday, August 11, and remains open till midnight Sunday, August 14. A gate charge of 25c will be levied and an announcement by the committee states tht children under ten years will be allowed to enter free. The public dancing will be held each evening and Sunday afternoon at a nadditional charge, according to the sub-committee in charge of this feature.

British Army Chief Near Death in Sea

COWES, Isle of Wright, Aug. 4.—(By The Associated Press)—Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson, chief of the British imperial general staff, had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday while following the races for small craft in the Cowes regatta. He was in a little yawl and a heavy sea washed him overboard.

Two yachts competing in the race, sailed by Sir Arthur S. Cope and Colonel Hobart, went to the rescue of the officer who had managed to keep afloat When they had rescued him and placed him in a dinghy which had put off from his yawl, Sir Arthur and Colonel Hobart resumed the race in which their boats finished respectively second and third.

But 119 Aliens Are In Oakdale District

OAKDALE, Aug. 3—Only 119 aliens have been found in this entire district upon checking up registration, which is believed to be the low record for the state, pro rata of population

Only five Japanese were found. Chinese were somewhat in excess of that number. Mexicans were numerous, 50 registering A surprisingly large number of Italians or Swiss-Italians registered, eligible for citizenship, who have never taken out papers. The new law, however, has resulted in many of them taking steps to become citizens.

Union District For Schools Urged

RIVERBANK, Aug. 4.—Movement is under way again to form a union grammar school district with Riverbank, McHenry and Stoddard districts joining hands. Petitions are being circulated for signatures, and it is believed by proponents of the plan that enough will be obtained. Increasing difficulty to obtain teachers in the smaller schools is behind the movement to form one large and wealthy grammar school district. Riverbank some time ago voted bonds for a new schoolhouse large enough to care for the additional number of pupils, should consolidation be effected.

LONGER SKIRTS GET APPROVAL OF PARIS WOMEN

PARIS, Aug. 4—Take the word of a competent American observer, 'French women are better dressed than ever."

The observer was Milton Wolff, who has arranged to distribute in America Paul Poiret's famous collection of 100 models.

"Longer dresses haven't hurt the appearance of French women" he said. "Flowing lines of skirt and sleeve give them a slender, girlish appearance which is most attractive."

Wolff had ample opportunity to study the entire range of French fashion at Deauville, the great resort.

"There are just two colors there," he said, "white and orchid."

At Wolff's request, Poiret exhibited his 1921 dreams for the United Press.

Dominant features of the display were:

Long, loose kimona-like effects.

Wide sleeves of Chinese origin.

Collusion Suspected On Part of Fighters

Efforts on the part of James Muir to have himself adjudged winner of a four-round bout by the default of his opponent, Paul Cademartori, who failed to appear, were thwarted at the luncheon of the Progressive Business Club in the Hotel Oakland yesterday when charges of collusion between the scheduled pugilists were hurled

The two men were scheduled to stage a four-round boxing exhibition for the club, the winner to get a box of cigars. Cademartori failed to appear and when Muir made strenuous efforts to collect the cigars as winner by default, the club members became suspicious and ordered an investigation as to possibility of collusion between the fighters.

Successor to Farm Adviser Is Sought

A special meeting of the Farm Bureau directorate will be held to choose a successor to M A. W. Lee, Alameda county farm advisor, who has handed in his resignation to go into effect September 1. Lee lives at Niles.

Lee is a graduate of the University of California, former swimming champion of the Olympic Club, and had occupied his present position of farm advisor for the past four years. He has leased his ranch at Niles and it is announced he is to engage in the buying and selling of cattle and hogs.

OIL STATION IS ROBBED OF CASH BY BOLD YEGGS

Two Young Men, Unmasked, Pull Off Holdup in Downtown District.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 4—Footpads operating in a daring fashion in the down-town business district here last night staged one successful holdup and a second hold attempt and today had made good their escape. $80 richer as a result of their highway robbery.

The successful holdup was staged by the two young men, unmasked but heavily armed at the corner of Second and San Carlos streets, two blocks from the heart of the business district shortly after 10 o'clock when they entered an oil service station and, at the point of guns, forced E W Peshrom, the attendant, to hand over $80 in the cash register Following the holdup they escaped on foot

The unsuccessful attempt, made by the same men, was staged at Fourth and Santa Clara streets also near the heart of the business district, where they held up R. I Knapp, a young man of this city

The two men were loitering in a doorway of a store and as Knapp walked up they stepped out, stuck their revolvers in his face and demanded his money Knapp, however, was not so inclined and started to run calling for the police at the same moment. The footpads fled.

An all night search by the police failed to gun any trace of the daring young bandits Special watch for them will be thrown out tonight, Chief of Police J N. Black stated.

War Trophy Measure Recommitted by House

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—After five hours of debate a Senate bill authorizing distribution to states and municipalities of cannon and other war materials captured by the Americans from the Germans was recommitted by the House to the military committee by a vote of 103 to 99.

A section appropriating $400,000 for the distribution was eliminated on a point of order by Representative Garrett of Tennessee, acting Democratic leader, but the House, by a vote of 126 to 120, immediately rejected an amendment to require communities receiving the captured articles to pay all transportation and packing charges.

Chairman Kahn of the military committee reported that $4,000 trophies, including 70,000 rifles 10,000 machine guns and 2200 field guns and trench mortars, were in storage

"Mouse" As Evidence Stirs Women Jurors

Women jurors, hearing the testimony in the damage suit of Mrs E. L. Bush, of Alameda, against the Southern Pacific Company, gathered their skirts closer and fought to repress a feminine shriek when the attorney for the plaintiff announced he would introduce a mouse in evidence. Their apprehension was not quieted when he described it as a joint mouse, rather was it increased by the plural sounding name They were not reassured until Dr. Charles E. Peters, an X-ray expert, placed on the stand, explained that a joint mouse is not rally a mouse but a medical name for a bit of loose cartilage floating about in the fluid sac surrounding a joint.

Mrs Bush is suing the Southern Pacific Company for $25,113.50 damages for personal injuries sustained on March 12, 1920, when she was a passenger on the Alameda "dinky." The dinky struck an Oakland Fire Department truck at Sixth and Webster streets

Water Users Plan Cut in Power Cost

TRACY, Aug 4—The directors of the West Side Irrigation district have called a meeting of all water users within its boundaries for August 2, to consider the regulation of pumping, with a view to reducing electric costs

E. C. Woodruff, representing the Pacific Gas & Electric company, has convinced the board that the steady operation of a few pumps, rather than the spasmodic use of the entire battery, will result in a material decrease in such costs, as the rate is fixed on the basis of the maximum load used during any month.

NEW TRIAL DENIED.

MERCED, Aug. 4.—Tom Barr and H. L. Frost have been denied new trials by Superior Judge E. N. Rector, following their conviction on a charge of holding up and robbing a Hindu Notice of appeal has been filed.

AGED TRAVELER LOSES GRIP AND COIN; ARRESTED

A. G. Fields, an aged traveler from Iowa, was taken to the city jail last night by a taxicab driver, who charged that Fields would not pay a $6 fare. This morning Fields was released from the city jail and the taxi man induced to accept $2.50

Last night Fields visited the home of William E Pitcher at 5512 Thomas street Mrs. Pitcher offered to take him to the station, but he held that he needed no assistance

Somewhere during the course of his travels to the railroad depot, Fields lost his baggage and his ready money He had engaged the taxicab but when time for payment came Fields had nothing The taxi driver took him to police headquarters

Mrs. Pitcher was asked to see that Fields gets to the station in good order

Small Boys Give Sheriff's Office 'Firebug' Scare

Flaming Hat Tossed Into Hay Loft Brings Out Milpitas Firemen.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 4—Rumors that firebugs had fired the last night set afire to and destroyed the livery stable and livery stable owned by Costigan at Milpitas, in Santa Clara county's northern industrial section resulted in a hurry call to Sheriff Guy W Lyle and the despatching of several deputies on a flying trip to the scene of action The upset of the whole affair, however, was that the tide was in vain

Several small boys of Milpitas had been playing near Costigan's place One of the little lads, being in a particularly playful mood took a straw hat worn by one of his playmates and very humorously lit a match to it Then the fun started

The youngster 'sailed' the hat in its blaze of glory with the result that the hat sailed into the loft of the livery stable Then the boys ran Costigan was close at hand and succeeded, without the aid of the home hose fire department in squelching the flames The officers rounded up the Milpitas youngsters administered a lecture and departed.

Uncle Wiggily Stories

By Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE FLYING FISH.

"Who are you?" asked Uncle Wiggily

"I wish I were a bear," sighed Sammie Littletail, the rabbit boy, one day.

"A what?" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily, who was hopping through the woods with his bunny nephew.

"A bear," went on Sammie. "I'd like to be a bear like Neddie Stubtail. I think bears have lots more fun than rabbits."

"Oh, I don't know about that," said Uncle Wiggily. "Each one is best as he is, I think. What could you do if you were a bear that you can't do as long as you are a rabbit?", asked Mr. Longears.

"I could climb trees!" said Sammie. "That's one thing."

"Yes, it is very true that bears can climb trees and rabbits can't," agreed Uncle Wiggily. "But, at the same time, rabbits can run much faster than bears, except, of course, sometimes. And rabbits can hide in a much smaller hole than a bear could hide in, and, of course, we rabbits have much finer and larger ears than bears."

"Well, I don't care!" pouted Sammie. "I'd like to be a bear!" And he made himself quite unhappy fretting because he couldn't be something else than he was.

Uncle Wiggily walked along through the woods with Sammie, and the old bunny gentleman was trying to think of a way to cure Sammie of wishing he was a bear.

All of a sudden, as the two bunnies passed the duck pond, a voice called:

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily! I wish you would help me!"

"Hello! What's that? Trouble? And who are you?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"I'm a fish," was the answer. "And, though I'm not exactly in trouble, I wish you'd help me."

"What's the matter?" the bunny gentleman wanted to know.

"Well," went on the fish, "I'd like to fly like a bird. I'm tired of staying down here in the water all the while and watching the birds skim in the air above me."

"Oh, you want to be a flying fish—is that it?" asked Mr. Longears.

"Yes," was the answer, as the fish poked its head out of the water, near shore, to look at Uncle Wiggily. "I want to skim in the air."

"Poh!" exclaimed Sammie, who for the time seemed to have forgotten about wanting to be a bear. "Fishes can't fly!"

"Oh, yes, they can!" exclaimed the chap who swam in the duck pond. "I have some cousins in the warm, Southern ocean who fly."

"Can they?" asked the boy rabbit of his uncle.

"Yes," answered Uncle Wiggily, "there are flying fish in warm countries. They have fins that are like wings, and, though they cannot stay in the air very long, as the birds do, the fish certainly can skim along out of water, though it isn't exactly flying, even if it looks like it."

"That's what I want to be—a flying fish," said the chap in the duck pond. "Please, can't you get me a pair of feather wings, Uncle Wiggily, and I'll fasten them on in some way and fly. Oh, won't it be glorious!"

"Hum!" said the bunny. "It seems to me that as a fish you will be much better off in the water than in the air. However, I'll do what I can to help you. I'll get some feathers and make you a pair of wings."

"I'll help," offered Sammie. "I know how it feels to want to be something else than you are," said the rabbit boy to the fish, as Uncle Wiggily hopped away. "I want to be a bear," said Sammie.

"I hope you get your wish and I hope I get mine," the fish whispered as Sammie hopped off to join Uncle Wiggily.

Some feathers were picked up near the coop of Lulu, Alice and Jimmie Wibblewobble, the ducks, and Mr. Longears soon made these into a pair of wings for the fish. The wings were stuck on the fish with some sticky gum from the pine tree, as water would not wash this gum off.

"Now I shall fly!" cried the fish, when the wings had been fastened on its sides.

"Don' stay in the air too long," warned Uncle Wiggily. "Remember that you are still a fish, even though you have wings, and you can not breathe long out of water."

"I'll just fly a little," said the fish. "Oh, how happy I am!" He swam very fast and then, with a jump, left the water, moving his little fins to which were fastened the featherwings. But, as soon as the flying fish left the water, a big hen hawk swooped down out of the air and tried to grab him, thinking he was a duck.

"Oh! Oh!" cried the fish. The hawk fastened its claws in the wings and, as they were not growing on the fish, off they came, and the hawk flew away with them. The fish dropped back into the water with a splash.

"Shall I make you another pair of wings?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"No, indeed!" answered the fish. "I am content to be what I am. The water is the place for me. If I had been a real flying fish even, with wings that wouldn't pull off easily, the hawk would have me now."

"Yes," the bunny said, "I think he would." Then the fish, who never again wanted to fly, swam away and Sammie said:

"I don't want to be a bear, Uncle Wiggily."

"I'm glad of it!" laughed the bunny gentleman.

And, if the sprinkling wagon doesn't dry up and blow away like a kite's tail when the June Bug pinches it, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's window washing.

HIS WORK

There isn't much fame on a farm, an' the farm doesn't pile up the wealth,
It gives you an appetite early an' late, an' it's usually lavish with health;
The world travels by in its cars, but the men and the women don't see
Any reason to cheer anything that I do or pin any medals on me;
But I'm doin' my work just the same an' at night time the Lord an' I know
That the wheat's lookin' fine in the acres out there, and I—well, I helped it to grow.

Sometimes I get gloomy an' blue an' wish I could rise with the great,
An' wish I could point something out which my hands have builded or helped to create;
Then the orchard looks over to me an' the fruit-laden trees seem to say,
"If it were not for you an' the care that you've given, we wouldn't be bearin' today."
An' the acres of corn over there, I planted 'em all, row by row,
"The good gift o' nature," the poets declare—but the Lord knows I helped it to grow.

I reckon I'm fillin' my place, though workin' all day on the soil
An' standin' the heat of the merciless sun isn't listed as glorious toil;
There's little of brilliance here, an' there's nothin' to brag of, I guess,
A farmer's a farmer, an' that's all he is—an' his crops are his only success;
But the Lord knows, an' I know it, too, as I plough or I harrow or hoe,
That these fields would be barren of wheat an' of corn, if I hadn't helped 'em to grow.

Winifred Black's Column

A "CURE" FOR OLD AGE.

She's old—and she won't admit it.

She's tired — and she won't acknowledge it.

She's lonesome—and she won't say so.

She's bored to death in her little boarding house, and she wouldn't confess it for the world.

And so everyone says:

"What's the matter with Mary? She's getting to be a regular nuisance—always fussing around over nothing — calling the doctor if she has a pain in her big toe—wanting a trained nurse if she has a headache — telephoning her friends when she happens to be blue, and being offended if they're too busy to come to see her.

"Going to parties and feeling slighted if no one pays particular attention to her—trimming and retrimming her hats—taking the braid off her cape and putting it on her dress—having a buckle where there used to be a ribbon bow, and sewing the ribbon bow where there never was anything.

"Restless, dissatisfied, discontended, injured, neglected and feeling sorry for herself."

And there isn't a thing in the world the matter with Mary, only she's older than she was 20 years ago—and she won't admit it.

Now, if she'd only sit down and look in the glass and say:

"Once I was pretty and a good deal of a coquette—once I was very much sought after and a good deal spoiled. People used to quarrel about who would have me to dinner first, and wherever I stayed the doorbells were always ringing and the florists never forgot my address or the way I spelled my name.

"Theaters, parties, dinners—I had them all—and now, I'm through, and I'm going to sit down by the fire and think about it and be happy.

"And when there is a young girl in my vicinity, I'm going to make it my business to help her to have a good time.

FOR OTHERS.

"And when there's a young matron who's having troubles of her own with the twins, and doesn't know quite what to do about her husband—he's playing golf a good deal with that pretty widow with the dangerous reputation—I'm going to mother her, and help her out just as her own mother would, without a word or a look or a hint.

"The little governess in the great house where I visit—I'll put myself out to make her happy and contented.

REAL HAPPINESS.

"The new minister—I'll invite his wife to luncheon with me and tell her how much we liked his sermon last Sunday.

"The new girl who's just come into the choir—I'll tell her I like her voice and smile at her from my pew. Maybe she'll think I look like her mother back home in the little village.

"The maid in the kitchen—she's just from the Old Country. How bewildered and how lonely she must be sometimes. I'll make her feel that I am her friend."

What a little world of love and service and happiness Mary could build up around herself—if she only would.

I wonder why she won't.

One of the first of the Theodore N. Vail distinguished service medals to be awarded is to be given posthumously to Miss Elsie H. Bosler of Philadelphia, a night chief operator, who lost her life in a blizzard last year while attempting to get to the office, where she feared she was needed because of trouble caused by the storm.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 4

On this day, and in 1816, Russell Sage didn't have a cent to his name. What is more astounding, he didn't care. It was his birth date. The day is also famous for the birth, in 1782, of Louis Le Conte, naturalist. Jesse W. Reno, who arrived in 1861, invented the moving stairway, little dreaming that it would serve motion picture comedians so well.

EVENING SONG.

Though poets and worse may boast in their verse
Of Lily or Mabel or Letty,
They're not of my choice, for I lift up my voice
To a mile of elusive spaghetti—
A quivering, shivering,
Pleasure-delivering
Mile of elusive spaghetti.

Indifferent of fate
It lies on its plate;
All moist and unstable
It graces the table.

It is aimed at your lip
And it lands in your lap;
Of your water you sip
While you feel like a sap.
Once again on its trip
To your teeth-bordered trap
It is started. Hip-hip!
It arrives safe, mayhap.

From the depths of your chair
You come up for air;
While a curse starts to roll
From the depths of your soul,
For a yard—more or less
Of the savory mess
Must be wrestled away
'Ere you call it a day.

Though it saws at the grain
Of your hesitant nerve,
And a spasm of pain
Shakes your faltering verve,
You must solve it again,
Every angle and curve.
And that's why I sing, as my fancy takes wing,
Not of Lily or Mabel or Letty,
But of something as pensive—though not as expensive,
A mile of elusive spaghetti,
A quivering, shivering,
Pleasure-delivering
Mile of elusive spaghetti.

Chapter 47

The Puzzled Rescue Party

"DEAR me! I wish I had that extra copy of my resolution with me!" Reddy Quackenback quacked. "I'd read it to you to show you how deeply I am moved by the awful fate that has overtaken our friend the Roly Poly Pup."

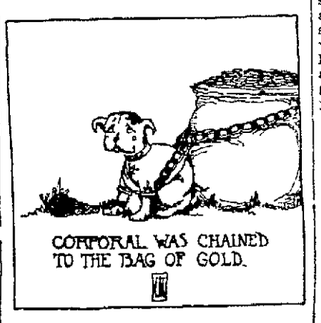

"This is no time for resolutions," the Duckess returned. "Come, let us get into the aeroplane with Alex and go to Corporal's assistance at once!"

To this Reddy agreed, and he and the Duckess and Alex and the Gingersnap Phone flew to Wall Street where Corporal sat chained to his bag of gold. The policeman was still with him, but instead of entertaining the Roly Poly Pup by reciting poems, he was listening open-mouthed while Corporal related some of his war experiences.

"Poor Corporal!" cried the Duckess, fluttering up to him. Alex has been telling us about the terrible thing that has happened to you. How dreadful it must feel to own a whole million dollars!"

"It is quite a burden," Corporal admitted. "I'd much rather carry a check for a million around with me than go through life chained fast to a couple of tons of gold."

Reddy Quackenback took his notebook and pencil from his vest pocket. He laid the notebook upon the ground, gripped the pencil in his bill and began covering the pages with figures.

CORPORAL WAS CHAINED TO THE BAG OF GOLD.

"Dear me, Redford," quacked the Duckess. "This is no time to be figuring your income tax."

Reddy continued multiplying and dividing without replying to the Duckess.

When he had finished he held up the notebook for everyone to see, and said:

"At ten dollars a day, working five days a week, Corporal could earn the privilege of giving away $2880 per year. At that rate he could get rid of his entire fortune in about three hundred and forty years!"

"It would take Corporal several lifetimes to get rid of his money at that rate," said the Gingersnap Phone. "I have a better plan."

By way of setting forth his idea he recited the following couplet.

Phil Osiphar is just the cat
To settle problems such as that.

Household Hints

COLD PACK CANNING.

All women who have vegetable gardens or who live where vegetables are plentiful and cheap, should be interested in this method of conserving them for winter use.

Old-fashioned methods often result in poor products, and the food sometimes ferment and in other ways become useless, but with modern cold pack formulas there is rarely a failure if the directions are carefully followed.

An old-fashioned boiler with a rack in the bottom to hold the jars, a pair of jar-lifting tongs, a wire basket which fits into a good-sized kettle for blanching, a jar funnel, jars with tops and fresh rubbers, plenty of cheesecloth squares and a pancake turner with the blade bent to a right angle with the handle to move the jars about, or help in lifting them, is all the equipment needed. There are more expensive modern canning outfits, but the old-fashioned method will prove satisfactory.

Blanching of vegetables removes excess acids, improves the flavor and causes a slight shrinkage so that more may be put into a can. It also helps retain their color.

While preparing the vegetables let the jars and rubbers sterilize.

In canning the pod vegetables, proceed in this manner:

Shell the peas and lima beans, string the green or wax beans, then cut them into short length and cut the stems, but leave the little caps on the okra. Then blanch each kind in boiling water from two to five minutes, plunge into cold water, then pack into the jars. When packed, add a level teaspoonful of salt to each jar and fill with boiling water. Place the jars in the hot water bath, after slightly screwing on the tops, and sterilize for two hours. Remove the jars, screw down the tops tightly and stand upside down to cool. When cold, tighten the covers again, wash the jars off and label them. Keep in a dry, cool place. If in too strong a light, cover the jars with brown paper so the products will not lose their color. When the jars are set in the water bath, the water should come within an inch of the top of the jars. Count from the time the water begins to boil, the necessary two hours.

Vegetables in the root and tuber class such as carrots, beets, turnips, parsnips and sweet potatoes should be washed, scrubbed, pared or scraped, diced or sliced, then packed in the jars. Add a level teaspoonful of salt to each jar, fill with boiling water and sterilize as hour and a half, after lightly screwing on the covers. Cool, wash, label and store.

Tomatoes should be of medium size, smooth and firm, scalded long enough to loosen the skin, plunged in cold water, the skin removed and the stem end cut out. Pack in sterilized jars, add a level teaspoonful of salt to each jar, no water, screw on the tops lightly and cook in the water bath twenty-two minutes. Lift, tighten the covers, invert the jars to cool, wash, label and wrap in dark blue or brown paper to keep the color.

In putting up pumpkin or squash for pie filling, peel and cut it in pieces and stew it until soft, then mash it through a sieve. Add one cupful of sugar and one level teaspoonful of salt to each quart of pulp. Fill the jars and partially screw on the tops, then cook in the water bath for one hour and a half. Lift, tighten the covers, cool and store.

Blanch the selected young and tender corn on the cob for three to five minutes. With a thin, sharp knife slice it down and with the back of the knife scrape out the milk, but do not get the husks. Put in the jars, adding a teaspoonful of salt to each and enough boiling water to fill the jars, screw the covers partially on and sterilize for three hours. Lift, tighten the covers, invert to cool, wash, label and store.

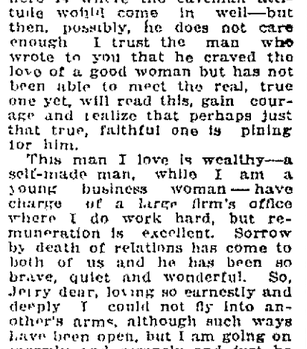

Sir Jagadis Chandra Bose has discovered that it is possible to transplant trees without injuring them if the operation be performed while they are subject to the effects of an anaesthetic. A tree so treated sheds its leaves after transplanting in the summer instead of in the autumn, but it very soon recovers itself and becomes normal.

Cry on Geraldine's Shoulder

Listen, World!

There is a widespread impression that Tolerance is a pretty nice, not to say mushy way of describing the other fellow's short comings—emotional charity, as it were, and the erring one is supposed to be properly grateful when receiving it.

Now I think that's all wrong. Tolerance isn't a pretty spiritual gesture. It's a vital function of the human soul and a help more necessary to the tolerator than to the tolerated. The sinner may be able to get along quite nicely without your understanding or sympathy. In fact, if you're giving that sympathy and understanding merely to "improve me!" on the Heaven's book yourself, the sinner is vastly better off without them. But you yourself can't get along without tolerance. The giving of sympathy and understanding are as necessary to your mental and spiritual health, as air and water are to your physical well-being.

Don't wear halos because you're tolerant.

You might just as well take unction to yourself for breathing through your nose as for helping some unfortunate. The essential life of you will suffocate in case you neglect to do better.

Jerry asked for your opinion on the Divorce Problem and its possible cure. And they are coming. Coming by the dozens and scores. It is going to prove the biggest task we've ever had yet and YOU should be in it. What do YOU think of divorce? Are YOU for it or against it? What makes married life such a difficult problem? What would you suggest as a remedy? Never mind how drastic your suggestions are, send them along. YOURS may be the words that will change the current of many lives. Tell us what you think and hurry so that your letter will arrive in time to be printed in the big divorce special which will shortly be printed.

Here's a Man Hater. Tenyrate she says she's a man hater and if anyone should know, she certainly should. She's agin 'em all—the lads with the patent leather hair and the lads with the innocent looks. They're all a bad lot, according to her. So gather 'round, Boys, and hear about yourselves.

Dearest Jerry:

I've been standing in the background for some time listening to all the men rave about the girls not being like "Mother used to be." Now I laugh when I hear that saying, (and I'm not the only one who laughs at it), it's certainly the biggest joke out. Not that I don't love all mothers, I certainly do, and I've got the dearest mother in the world. There are just as many good mothers now as before. These young mothers I mean are just as good and true to their children and husbands as the old-fashioned mother was, only in their "new fashioned way." I don't say all of them are, but all of them weren't in the olden days either. But I'm wandering from my starting point, and what I wanted to say was:

Is there any fellow in the world worth having? Are there any left? I wonder! Jerry, no one has been saying much about the boys, everything is the girls, girls, girls. Good for you, though, Jerry, you're one that stands by us.

I'm a young college girl and love to dance and love all clean sports. But, Jerry, when it comes to boys I simply can't find one that after you have danced with or seen a few times isn't fresh.

Jerry, at dances I've danced with boys that want to hold you so tight and stand so close to you that you are uncomfortable, and if you say anything to them you generally get some insulting answer, and in about five minutes they try the same thing again.

Others Know It.

I'm not the only one that knows these things, Jerry, as I go with ten girls most of the time and we talk it over because we're simply disgusted with the fellows. We dance with some of them, but when they ask to take us home we do the best we can to give them some excuse.

They want to know why they don't meet any of the decent girls, I'll tell you why, because the decent girls don't want to meet them. They know how the majority of them act.

And let me tell you it isn't only the fellow with the patent leather hair comb, or the parted in the middle style, but it's also the fellow with his hair parted on the side with an innocent look. Sometimes, he is worse.

The boys say if the girls don't lay off on the paint and powder and short skirts they are going to be left. Well, I want to tell you that if the boys don't stop acting so fresh at dances and on the street they are the ones that are going to be left.

Under a little paint and powder there is many a clean soul, but I think underneath these fresh fellows there's not many a clean mind nor soul either.

If they think the girls like them because they get fresh, they are certainly mistaken. The girls have their numbers and they tell one another, so don't think you're getting away with it.

Some of you young girls add some more, will you? Let's show some of them up. We'll prove whose the "worstest," the boys or the girls. Let's show them we have a backbone.

All the love to Jerry, dear.

MARCELA WAVE.

"Just Loving" Enough

Speaks now one who finds that "just loving" is enough, even though that love be not returned. Her cry is very different from some of the hopeless wails that arise from unrequited loves, and it seems to be very brave and beautiful.

Dear Geraldine:

The following poem expresses my attitude in my love affair and it has been a great comfort to me:

TO DREAM OF YOU.

To dream of you—that is the one bequest
That fate has made me, sorrow is my quest
Through all the weary day, but when the night
Comes with its quiet peace and tender light—
My tired head soft pillowed on her breast,
Close, close within the arms of sleep I rest,
And count that in my dreaming I am blest—
Yea, in its slumber glory in the right
To dream of you.
It is not in the power of fate to blight
My joy, for me the way must still seem bright,
While valiantly this boon from her I wrest—
To dream of you.

It does seem that there is quite a number of our pals suffering from that painful malady—love-sickness—and I am one. To love a man very deeply and truly and faithfully for years means deep suffering—and yet this great love I have for this particular one has enriched my life to a great extent—has made me a stronger woman both mentally and physically—yet I go on loving him secretly and loyally.

Her Heart's Secret

The situation is this: When I see him I am pleasant but seemingly unconcerned and always quite indifferent, when really I just long for his companionship. Now here is where the caveman attitude would come in well—but then, possibly, he does not care enough. I trust the man who wrote to you that he craved the love of a good woman but has not been able to meet the real, true one yet, will read this, gain courage and realize that perhaps just that true, faithful one is pining for him.

This man I love is wealthy—a self-made man, while I am a young business woman — have charge of a large firm's office where I do work hard, but remuneration is excellent. Sorrow by death of relations has come to both of us and he has been so brave, quiet and wonderful. So, Jerry dear, loving so earnestly and deeply I could not fly into another's arms, although such ways have been open, but I am going on merrily and serenely and just be an old maid.

One thing more. Friend of many aching hearts, I have had several proposals and I feel that real men are not beasts of prey, just desire the holy, restful, peaceful love with the girl they can trust. Our Sheltered Girl friend has probably never really loved. Just wait until she does and Mr. Right comes along, then she will write of her wonderful new happiness.

I am going right on being an old maid. The beauty of this world and the joy of living is wonderful—just —

A BUSINESS WOMAN.

A Personal Word

TO ONE OF THE GANG AND CONSTANCE—Your questions are similar so I will answer them together. The district attorney's office gave me the information I am handing on to you. When a marriage license is issued it becomes public property and there is no way of keeping it a secret. If you wish friends to be kept in ignorance of your marriage, go to some other county and obtain the license. You must be married in the county in which the license is issued. That, I think, answers "One of the Gang."

CONSTANCE, maybe, wants a little different information, although I am not sure. If a man and woman live together as man and wife and are known as such, but not married, they can go to any minister or justice of the peace and have the knot tied. The person performing the ceremony sends the record of the marriage to the county clerk within one month, and with no publicity the couple are legally wed.

RED HEAD—Why not ask your mother her reason for not letting you spend the evening alone with him. It sounds to me as though she had one and the sharing of it might bring you closer.

IGNORANT — Write me again, asking for the information you want and giving your name and address and I will try to help you. There are several books you can read which will give you the clean, healthy information you want.

Holding a Husband

by Adele Garrison

"I told you I wanted to hear nothing from you except that one assurance. Until you can give me that I am going to my room, Margaret, you may come to me and tell me when Richard returns to his senses or whatever passes for them in his case."

She rose and majestically swept out of the room.

Dicky wiped his forehead with his handkerchief and looked at me blankly.

"What's eating her?" he demanded, in the slang I detest. "Is there anything you can do with her?"

Even as he put the question he looked at me sharply, sprang to his feet, and threw up his hands in dismay that had a touch of truth through its burlesque.

"Oh!" he groaned, "don't tell me you're on her side, too!"

WHAT MADGE DEMANDED OF DICKY.

I looked at Dicky coolly, appraisingly, with an air of detachment from his concerns which I purposely made as strong as possible. It was distinctly "my innings," and I meant to make the most of my opportunity.

Not that I wished to revenge myself upon him for the inconsiderate action of which he had been guilty. I acquitted myself of that after a single searching glance into my mental processes. But a grave emergency confronted me, one that required every ounce of whatever strength and executive ability I possessed. If Dicky remained in the mental attitude in which he had bargained to sell our house without consulting me he would be so much of a hindrance that I could do nothing. I thought whimsically of something which dear, irascible Mrs. Stewart used to say.

"If ever I had an especially difficult job of housework to get done at a certain time," the old woman with whom my mother and I lived so long, would drawl, "I always had to reduce Stewart to a pulp first and sweep him out of the way. Then I could go ahead."

"Reducing Dicky to a "pulp" however, was not exactly the idea I had in mind. But I did mean to show him clearly that if he wished the house vacated by May first, as he had promised, he would have to give me absolutely a free hand, and abide by my decisions. And in order to get him in the frame of mind to do that, I knew that I must call to his attention a few unpleasant truths.

"Please sit down," I said quietly. "I have two or three things to say to you, and they will take some time. I trust that you will show me the courtesy I would offer to you under similar circumstances, and refrain from interrupting me until I have finished."

Dicky stared at me for a second, then gave a short laugh and sat down as I had asked.

"I suppose it's coming to me," he remarked to the surrounding furniture with an air of martyrdom which made me bite my lips to keep from smiling. "And she's dangerous in this mood. But I won't dodge. Shoot, dear one."

Ignoring his raillery, I went steadily on.

"SHOOT, DEAR ONE."

"In the first place," I said, "without consulting me at all, you closed a bargain to sell our home, something few women would ever forgive or forget. And now you calmly tell me that you have agreed to give possession in three weeks. I am aware that the mention of the time means nothing to you. You have no more conception of the time and labor involved in packing and moving the contents of a house like ours than Junior has. But I know, and I tell you frankly that I will not undertake such a project unless you give me a free hand absolutely. You must agree not to hinder me in any way, and to help in any way I ask."

"Who's asking you to do anything?" Dicky replied wrathfully, as I paused. "I'll go back to Marvin, pack and move all that stuff myself to a strange warehouse."

DICKY IS STUMPED.

"Have you looked into the storage warehouse situation lately?" I asked quietly. "But that is beside the question. I have had one experience with you helping to move at the Brennan house. I do not want another. And if you persist in refusing the very natural request I have made you, I shall take back my promise, and refuse to sign that deed day after tomorrow. This is final."

I rose from my chair, walked toward the door. But Dicky caught me before I had reached it, swept me back into my chair by main force, and drew his own up opposite. I think he understood that I was in no mood for endearments, for he made no attempt to take me into his own chair, as he had done before.

"There is one quality I possess," he said lightly, "which even my worst enemies acknowledge. I always know when I am absolutely up against it. And I judge this is one of the times. So outline your plans, old dear. I'll promise to keep out of it unless there is something I want you to do."

JAPANESE FINANCE A LOBBY.

Very interesting was the disclosure in Congress on Monday that Japanese in Hawaii had entered the fight to prevent the admission of Chinese laborers into the Hawaiian islands, that they had contributed liberally to send a lobby from Honolulu to Washington to work in opposition to a proposal to permit a limited number of Chinese workers to enter the islands to replenish the labor supply on the sugar plantations. With the exception of the conduct of the Japanese consul general at Los Angeles, this is the most conspicuous example of the political activities of Japanese aliens in American territory. As a rule the Japanese have held aloof from political schemes unless their own interests were directly affected.

Chinese workers in Hawaii would tend to break the domination of Japanese in the sugar producing industry. The producers would not be so wholly at the mercy of the Japanese. They would have some choice as to the Oriental laborers they employed. Moreover, the replenishment of the labor supply by the admission of Chinese workers might interfere with the rapidly materializing hope of the Japanese of complete control of industrial and then the political affairs of Hawaii.

This newspaper is in no position to say whether or not it would be wise to lift the bars against the migration of Chinese, even in a limited number, to Hawaii, for it is first necessary to be able to measure the truth in the claims of the sugar cane growers that they actually need more workers and must look to the Orient for their supply. From all available information it would seem best to prevent further Oriental immigration to Hawaii from any source. Hawaii is close to the continental shore and the operation of the citizenship laws might work for the building up there of an Oriental stock which would ultimately find its way to the mainland.

But there is no occasion for hesitancy in saying that the federal government should decline to be influenced in the slightest degree by lobbying efforts at Washington financed by Japanese residents of Hawaii. The ugly disclosures that the delegation that went to Washington to oppose the Chinese proposal is financed by Japanese has embarrassed the whole opposition, not excepting Mr. Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor.

MOROCCO POT BOILS AGAIN.

Spain has suffered a severe disaster in Morocco, with the capture and death of General Sylvestre and his staff and approximately 5000 men at the hands of a powerful insurrectionary force, largely comprised of Kabyl tribes in the Melilla district. Reinforcements have been hastily organized and, under the command of General Calvacanti, are preparing a campaign against the tribesmen that is expected to avenge the defeat and regain Spanish supremacy. Unless complications at home set in order is expected to be restored before long and the natives of Morocco taught a salutary lesson.

But the Moroccan debacle may have far-reaching effects. Already there is a recrudescence of the quarrel between the Socialists and Monarchists, with the former trying their best to embarrass fatally the Spanish government. Morocco, which is another example of Spain's failure at colonizing adventures, has always been a dangerous subject in Spanish politics and the radical elements have more than once before found it a vehicle behind which to rally their forces.

And Spain is not the only European country concerned. Official charges have been made at Madrid that German officers were found among the leaders of the Kabyl tribes. Due to the proximity of French Morocco to the Spanish area, this report has greatly interested France. Premier Briand and other government leaders have been quick to charge Germany with a breach of faith and when the Allied Supreme Council meets next week it is stated that Mr. Briand will make Morocco an excuse for not even listening to proposals to withdraw the Rhine-Ruhr sanctions.

Thus the laxity of the Spanish in Morocco in not taking proper precaution to guard against such a disaster as the Sylvestre defeat has brought serious vexation to those working for final liquidation of the war problems. If Germany is actually guilty of having permitted her officers to engage in the Morocco insurrection she deserves no sympathy, but this is a charge which obviously deserves very careful examination. Most any folly at Berlin is possible, but such a futile and costly policy as stirring up trouble in Africa at this time seems even beyond the stupidity of Berlin.

THE PHILIPPINES.

So far nothing has been made public from official sources to indicate the nature of the report which General Leonard Wood and Hon. W. Cameron Forbes will submit regarding the Philippine Islands. But since the return of the two investigators sent out by President Harding to Manila ten days ago, from a tour of the provinces, there have been dropped in speeches and interviews utterances which are taken to show the direction of the wind. General Wood and Mr. Forbes are now at work on their report and it is believed they will submit their recommendations at an early date.

The situation in the Philippines is of such a nature that speed in determining the future relations with this country is the thing most needed to bring about a rehabilitation of confidence and business prosperity. The air of uncertainty and apprehension must be removed, in order that business men, especially American business men, may map out their future plans.

A special cable despatch from Manila a few days ago, from a correspondent who has been with the investigators since they left the United States, predicted that the Wood-Forbes report would omit to fix a definite date for complete independence, would recommend the retention of the islands under American sovereignty, the continuation of autonomy under the Jones Act but with closer American supervision, cleaning up of the courts, rehabilitation of finances, breaking up of peonage and improvement of sanitation. The first two points—neglect to fix a date for independence and drawing the strings on the license permitted under the Jones Act—will inevitably provoke the heated opposition of the Filipino politicians who have been working on the independence propaganda for their own promotion, but the other reforms will be pretty generally approved by native and American residents of the islands.

Mr. Forbes issued a significant statement at Manila, in which he severely criticized the authorities for prosecuting Filipinos who testified to abuses before the mission and cites cases in which Filipinos who appeared before the commission have been thrown into prison with a bail ten times the usual amount or who are under administrative investigation. "If that is the way certain authorities here regard freedom of speech it will be so recorded and embodied in the report of the mission to Washington," said Mr. Forbes.

This persecution of witnesses called before the commission is only one of the several mistakes the native politicians who are pressing the demand for immediate and complete independence have committed. The leaders in this movement really have showed up very badly, revealing limitations which, if they did not shock the American mission, certainly created very serious doubt as to the wisdom of giving greater latitude for such practices.

The mission will be in the Philippines about one more month and it is expected that they will have finished their report to the President very soon after having left Manila. The precise nature of the recommendations regarding the future status of the Philippines will not be known, of course, until the report has been made public by the White House. But so much evidence has accumulated of failure of the Filipino political leaders to realize the expectations manifested by Governor General Harrison's regime, failure to justify the large advance in actual self-government which that regime made beyond the authority of the Jones Act, that it is practically certain the re-establishment of former safeguards against incompetence and venality will be counseled.

CREDIT FOR THE FARMERS.

Senator Norris of Nebraska feels hurt over the fact that his bill to establish a $100,000,000 corporation to finance the export of farm products through use of government credit has apparently been abandoned by the majority of the "agricultural bloc" of Senators. They have swung their support to an Administration measure, introduced by Senator Kellogg of Minnesota and designed to use the existing War Finance Corporation for similar purposes by extending its powers for the extension of agricultural credits. Some of the friends of the farmers will declare that they have been betrayed—as always happens when a favorite bill is supplanted by another which seems likely to pass.

The farmers themselves seem not to share the feelings of their political protectors. The American Farm Bureau Federation has ceased advocating the passage of the Norris bill and is backing the Administration measure. Farm bureau spokesmen have explained this attitude by saying that what primarily concerns them is relief for the farmers on a sound economic basis, and that if they can have this through existing Federal agencies they would prefer it to creating new ones. This point of view is to the credit of the farmers' movement, which appears to have developed leaders with a clearer grasp on economic principles than was possessed by the men who headed "agrarian crusades" of past years.

The series of articles on the agricultural situation and the farmers' organizations for self-help, now appearing in the Evening Post, are illuminating as to what fifty years of experiments and agitation along various lines have taught the farmers. They have real grievances, which must be met in the interest of the country's welfare. If they have turned their backs on Populism, cheap money, State subsidies, and the other patent remedies of the past, they should have no difficulty in securing the whole-hearted co-operation of the cities, which depend upon them, in any sane program for economic aid.—New York Evening Post.

NOTES and COMMENT

The first report of a deer hunter being shot comes from Healdsburg. He was not mistaken for a deer, and the incident thus loses a thrill that might otherwise have adhered; but the man unaccustomed to a gun who goes forth to slay game and pots a fellow, however it is accomplished, is entitled to a place in the news.

The prohibition enforcement office is giving signs of activity that may well perturb certain circles in San Francisco. All the clerks and attaches have to punch the clock or record themselves in another way, when they report on and off. Evidently a job in this new bureau means something besides drawing a salary.

The controversy in Marin over the proposition to install a monster search light on Tamalpais of five hundred million candle power, at a cost of $12,000 a year, has kicked up a fine rumpus. The city engineer objects that it will "invade the realms of the deer and other wild animals and birds," which may not be doubted, but which is likely to draw forth that commonplace query, "What of it?"

* * *

If General Wood shall accept the Governorship of the Philippines the clamor for unconditional and immediate independence would undoubtedly be stilled, and both the Filipinos and the well wishers in this country would be reassured. This dependency is receiving that intelligent and rational treatment that would have placed it in a much more desirable position had it been administered eight years ago.

Every industry and occupation is organizing these days, so why not the artichoke growers? The artichoke zone lies on the San Mateo peninsula with an ocean exposure, a fact that may not be understood by everybody. That the industry is large enough to justify organization, that those engaged in it are mainly Italians and that carloads are shipped east, are also interesting facts.

The immemorial fight against Tammany is on. Tammany has been vanquished in some of these engagements, but somehow the victory is never lasting. The tiger bides its time, and in due course again dominates. Municipal politics, the country over, is much the same.

Those who were seeing the oil wells give out and the price of gas to rise till it became prohibitive, will be disappointed to read that the price has dropped two cents. It must be concluded that those right up against the production are sanguine, otherwise the price would be boosted instead of cut.

ESTHONIA

"World attention has been focused so closely upon storm centers of Central and Southern Europe that comparatively little has been heard of the new nations carved from Russia along the Baltic Sea," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

"But with the gradual resumption of commerce between Russia and the outside world, Esthonia and Latvia will assume a more important aspect, either as barriers or gateways to interior Russia.

"Much, too, has been written of the oppressions of other subject peoples. The Esthonians might well claim to be the peers of any national sufferers since medieval times because they have been sore beset both by Germans and Russians.

"From the eighties of the last century until the world war period Esthonia bore the double yoke of Tsarist laws administered by German officials. As one writer exclaims, 'Heaven preserve us from Russian law as interpreted by Germans! The Russian official may not take a Russian law very seriously, but one can be sure that the German officials will.'

"One must go far back into Esthonian history to trace the origin of this duplicate despotism. And to the student of human geography the emergence to a sudden independence of a people so long submerged will make an experiment worth watching.

"The Esths are an aboriginal people of northern Europe who once terrorized the Baltic by piracy, and later clashed often with Swedes and Danes.

"Tradition has it that the oldest flag of Europe, that of Denmark, dates from 1219, when the Danish Waldemar II, who may be likened to Alfred the Great, was conducting a campaign to subdue Esthonia. A great silver cross appeared against a fiery background in the heavens as an omen of success. This same Waldemar, in the same year, founded the town of Reval, now capital and seaport of Esthonia.

"Few nations can show so consistent a record of conquest under the guise of conversion as the Esthonians. The Danes came to baptize them at the point of the sword; then entered the Knights of the Sword, coming in the role of Crusaders, and remaining for some six centuries as overlords. During the long era of German ascendancy the country became thoroughly Protestant.

"Within the past half century the Russians undertook strenuous methods to gather the Esths into the fold of their Orthodox church. Long experience taught these people the wisdom of accepting 'conversion' and then returning to their fold. But when they tried this expedient after the visits of Russian priests they found it a civil crime to withdraw from the Russian church after having entered it. Moreover, for a Protestant clergyman to marry a man or woman who belonged to the Russian church was punishable by imprisonment.

"The rugged endurance of this northern people, their vitality and spirit, is sufficiently shown by their bearing up under oppression that was both religious and political, and from the political standpoint both Prussian and Russian. Perhaps their Mongolic descent helps account for that.

"Before the World War Esthonia was accounted one of the most progressive regions agriculturally, in Russia. Nature is scarcely kinder to the Esths than nations. They live in a low, swampy country, nowhere as high above sea level as the base to top height of the Washington monument. Their summers are hot; their winters cold.

"The people have an especial love for song, are industrious and progressive, and their struggle to gain a livelihood from the soil rather than a lack of enterprise accounts for the fact that some of their smaller villages have been described as being among the most nondescript and least lovely in all Europe.

"It should be noted that the free Esthonia recognized by many European governments comprises more than the old Russian Esthonia. A part of Livonia is included in the new state, while the southern part of Livonia, along with Courland, goes to make up Latvia. The Esthonians and the Letts have less in common than one might expect of two neighbor peoples who have suffered for centuries the same slings of outrageous national fortune.

"Reval, busy seaport city, betrays its German influence, and has been described by some visitors as akin to a medieval German town. It has had a commanding position in commerce since it was one of the 85 city members of the first giant trust, the Hanseatic League. But it has Russian hall marks, notably the Tower of St. Olaf, one of the tallest in Russia, which would o'ertop the Times building in New York.

"Dorpat is the Cambridge of Esthonia—perhaps the Heidelberg of Esthonia would be the better appellation, since Dorpat was a seat of German influence. The University of Dorpat was founded by Gustavus Adolphus twelve years after the Pilgrims set foot on Plymouth Rock, and more than a century before the next oldest university in prewar Russia, that at Moscow."

THE BONUS AS AN ISSUE.

Republican politicians at the national capital are fearful lest the Administration's stand on the bonus issue will be reflected adversely in next year's elections. Democratic politicians, it is said, are already sending out campaign material assailing the majority's attitude.

It was probably to be expected. If the bonus question can be made a partisan issue, a partisan issue it will be made. If the politicians on one side overlooked the opportunity those on the other side would attend to it.

There is properly about as much politics in this question of the bonus as there is in the movement of the tides. It is an economic and financial, perhaps a moral, issue. It is not political in any sense. It ought to have no more effect on the 1922 elections than sun spots or harbor conditions in Monrovia.

But the politicians' code demands politics where none exists. The Administration must be lambasted for suggesting a postponement of the bonus issue. We must fight the issue over again at the polls and after the ballots are counted know as little about it as we did before.

Why will politicians never learn?—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

About YOUR HEALTH

Just What You Can Give As First Aid in Earache

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Ear trouble in infants is frequently overlooked. This may seem an extreme statement to a mother or father who has walked the floor all night with a child suffering from what was later discovered to be earache. But we must not forget that the ear trouble may have been long present.

In the absence of symptoms directing attention to bowel or stomach disturbance, the presence of fever or apparent discomfort in a child, especially if accompanied by a running nose, must excite the suspicion of middle-ear congestion.

In adults there is much less likelihood of overlooking ear symptoms. The patient, himself, will immediately report the trouble.

When there is too much blood in the middle-ear, the patient will be grateful for the relief following fluid instillations, hot as can be borne. Since all such cases may go on to pus formation, it is unwise to use oils or greasy substances which will be in the way later. Substances readily disssolved in water, and yet heavier than water itself, will retain heat longer, and seem to be more productive of comfort.

For instance, strained honey or thick sugar syrup, heated in a teaspoon and poured into the ear, will sometimes promote comfort more than hot water alone. Later this may be washed out.

Ordinarily, however, irrigation with hot boric acid solution is quite sufficient, and, in some ways, is preferable to any other substance employed with a view to give the comfort of heat. This may be instilled by means of a medicine dropper, or permitted to flow into the ear canal from a fountain syringe raised but a few inches above the level of the ear. This treatment should not be continuous, but may be given in ten-minute sessions, at intervals of half an hour.

Sometimes, when the pain is radiating and neuralgic in character, a large flannel cloth wrung out of water hot as can be borne, may be bunched over the ear and side of the head, and covered with a dry towel. Against this may be placed a hot water bag.

Many household remedies—some proper and other unmentionable—are used. But practically all of them possess virtue only in proportion to the amount of heat they carry to the inflamed part and retain there.

As a remedial agent in earache, cold is much less frequently indicated than is heat. In an occasional case, cold applications may serve to control the pain, but usually the reverse is true. In threatened mastoid involvement, cold applications may relieve the inflammation and abort the disease. Generally speaking, however, cold is of little value in dealing with ear disturbance.

All these first aids to earache, of course, are only first aids. You should go to your doctor for him to examine you and to banish the causes, as well as to give you real relief from the symptoms.

ONE TOO MANY.

A literary family to which a seventh child had just come was at a country house and for a time a good deal of the care of the other six children devolved upon the father, who had Spartan ideas as to the upbringing of his sons. One morning he carried his two-year-old to the creek near his home to give him a cold plunge. The child objected lustily to this proceeding, but was firmly held and ducked, notwithstanding.

At the instant of the ducking, however, a brawny hand seized the Spartan father by his shoulder and flung him back, while the angry voice of the farmer, who was his nearest neighbor, roared in his ears:

"Here! None of that! I'll have the law on you for this."

For some time the father endeavored to convince the farmer that he was not trying to drown the child. Even then he wasn't wholly convinced. To the very last minute he kept shaking his head skeptically and saying:

"Well, I dunno about that, I dunno. You got six besides this."—Harper's Magazine.

Doctors Urged to Give Best That Is In Them to Conserve Public Health

DEAL FAIRLY WITH PEOPLE, SAYS EXPERT

Public Is Losing Confidence in Profession Through Ethics Displayed by a Certain Few, Say Scientific Heads

BERKELEY, Aug. 4.—Doctors who place money above service were rapped today at the opening session of the Pacific Division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in Wheeler hall.

The speaker, Dr. S. J. Holmes, professor of zoology at the state university, placed the blame largely upon certain classes of doctors for the high death rate. Sharing the responsibility with the doctors, said Dr Holmes, was the public itself which through ignorance of health matters, he declared, was cutting down the longevity of the race.

Warning was sounded by six speakers of perils confronting the human race unless steps are taken to bring about a more efficient public health service.

EPIDEMIC THREATENED.

That California is threatened with a spread of amoebic dysentery, a tropical infection which grew to magnitude during the war, unless sanitation is improved in certain localities, was the warning of Dr. C. A. Kofoid, of the University of California, who served in the medical corps during the world war.

Dirty hands, the community washbasin and community towel, were means by which this malady could be spread, said Dr Kofoid.

Thousands of lives are being snuffed out annually because insufficient precautions are taken to guard them from death, declared Dr. Holmes in his discussion of "Education in Relation to the Public Health."

Education in public health is sadly needed," he said. "Ignorance on these subjects is directly responsible in the United States for the loss of several hundred thousand lives each year and amount of sickness and suffering which we can express in no adequate measure. Ignorance of the laws of health, the causes of disease, of how to avoid epidemics, ignorance of how to take care of children in the perilous period of infancy, ignorance of how to secure proper medical aid in case of sickness and how to take care of persons when ill, ignorance of one form or another is the most potent of all the allies of the angel of death."

AVOIDABLE SICKNESS.

"Relatively few human beings die of old age. Death can be attributed to failure to make the proper adjustments in life We must all necessarily die some time, but knowledge has enabled man to cut down very materially the death rate from many causes. It is not enough that the knowledge be merely in the hands of the medical profession The general public must be enlightened. There is a tremendous amount of sickness and death which could be avoided if the great mass of humanity could avail itself of resources of medical knowledge and skill."

That a strained relation has grown up between the medical profession and the public was the statement of Dr. Holmes, a condition of affairs he said for which the doctors themselves were largely to blame.

"People are losing their old-time confidence in medicine," said Dr. Holmes, "and to a certain degree in the medical profession. It is important that the public be made to realize that although medical practice is very old, scientific medicine is still in its infancy.

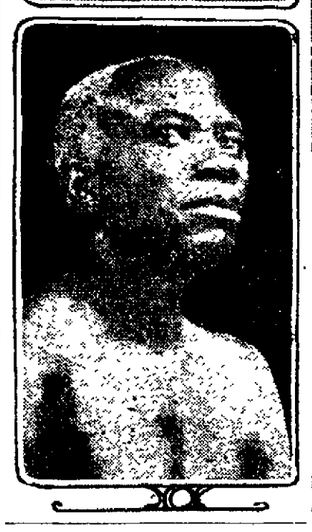

"The public health is a public trust. If the trust is not discharged properly the public will have to pay a fearful bill. The more informed the public the higher standard will be demanded of those who practice the healing art. Humanity at the present time comes very far short in getting out of the medical profession the aid it is capable of furnishing and which could probably be furnished without greater expenditure of time

SON OF ZULU KING WOULD BE CITIZEN

Was Brought Here From South Africa in Childhood by Dr. L. F. Herrick; Was Friend of Henry M. Stanley

Musa Bryam, Zulu, has applied for naturalization papers at the Alameda county court house, renouncing forever all rights of succession to the throne of his fathers —for Musa is the grandson of a Zulu king, the son of a Zulu king, and his uncle, "M'bogo," today occupies the throne that should be Musa's if he chose to return to Zululand to claim it.

Like a chapter from a Rider Haggard romance is the story of Musa, who, with his brother, Juma Bryam, was brought to this country in 1894 by Dr. L. F. Herrick Juma is now living in Los Angeles, earning his living at the prosaic trade of bricklaying Musa is proprietor of the shoe shining stand at 932 Broadway

"I was fifteen years old when I came here," Musa said, after a brief moment of mental retrospection.

MUSA TELLS OF YOUTH.

He speaks very good English, in addition to eight or ten other languages, including Spanish, Arabic, Hindustanee, German, French and Portuguese, but his pronunciation is slightly edged with the burrs of the other tongues. "I did not want to come, I mean I did not ask, an interpreter asked me if I would like to come to America with Dr. Herrick Juma and I said yes, we would come, and so we did. We were playing on the sand on the beach at Zanzibar when Dr. Herrick sailed. You know Zanzibar is a seaport town, just like San Francisco, but the ships do not land at the wharves but anchor out in the stream about half a mile away

"I am not a native from Zanzibar, I am Swahili, from Zululand. My father is M'lumbo, son of a king He is Swahili. He comes from another part of Zululand and meets my mother, who is a Zulu. When my grandfather died my father was then king for a while, but he gave up his throne to my uncle, M'bogo, who is now king there."

REMEMBERS STANLEY.

Asked if he was in Zululand when the English took possession, Musa was not certain. "I was too young then to pay attention to those things. But I remember Stanley, the explorer, he was a friend of my father when he was king, and my father knew Livingstone, too. I have heard him say so"

Musa, for all that he has decided to become an American citizen, believes the customs of his country are more sensible than over here His opinions were expressed in answer to whether he had any brothers over in Zululand. "Well, now you know that is hard to say. In Zululand, you know, a man marries three or four or five times if he wants. There is no worry there about whether he can take care of more wives. A man has a forty-acre ranch. Everything he eats grows on it. He has cocoanuts on one side, mangoes on one side, pineapples on one side, rice growing, everything he needs to eat. He marries one wife, then another and another. First wife she is boss of all the other wives, they have to do what she says. When anything growing is ripe they cut it, put it in bags and sell it, after they take what they need. If anything is left they put it in the shed for what you call the rainy day. When a man gets a new wife he builds a new house for her. He does not keep them all in one house—no, they fight too much, like cats. So I don't know, you see, if I have any other brothers now. When I left I had one sister and Juma, who came with me. But we never have any trouble with the judge or with lawyers. I guess we are socialists over there. The king is the only judge and what he says goes, you bet"

MOHAMMEDAN IN FAITH.

Musa is a Mohammedan and strictly orthodox, he does not eat pork nor meat that was killed standing up His wife is of American birth, "a Texas woman"; that is why Musa wants to become an American citizen.

Juma has a sense of humor. He declared, in answer to a question by Joe Kingston, naturalization examiner, that he had never been in jail. "But I nearly was once," he explained. "Friends of mine they ask me to go to San Francisco. 'We will have some red wine and dance,' they said. So I went We went up to a house and hardly got there when the police came I said to the policeman, 'You aren't going to take me, are you? I've only been here ten minutes' But he said, 'Come along,' so I went with the rest of them. At the station the desk sergeant ask me where I am from. I tell him Zululand. He asks how did I get here. I tell him with Dr. Herrick. The sergeant says 'I know him very well. What is your name?' So I give him a hard one," and Musa repeated a miscellaneous jargon of grunts and gurgles "'What's that?' he asks me I say it again. 'How do you spell it?' he asks 'I don't know,' I say Then he says, 'Get to h— out of here.' So I got out, and that's the nearest I came to being in jail.

"Believe me, I ain't been in San Francisco since."

WAS ONCE PRIZEFIGHTER.

When he first arrived in America, Musa Bryam became a prizefighter, and later embarked upon his career as a bootblack He is at present living at 442 Sixth street with his wife Louisa. He is said to be the first Zulu to declare his intention to become an American citizen.

As an indication of his rank Musa Bryam points to the position of the large round holes pierced in his ears. The holes are in the upper portion of the ears and Musa Bryam explains that the holes in the upper part of the ears indicate royal birth. The Zulus of ordinary birth have holes pierced in the lobes of their ears

Ape Keeps Leap Ahead Of Pursuers

All North Oakland is in a state of intense excitement and Boy Scouts of the entire district, as well as several patrolmen from the northern station, are out scouring the neighborhood for Fanny, the huge money which escaped from a local park yesterday.

The latest report on Fanny's whereabouts was made to the police shortly before noon today when the monkey raided the pantry of A. H. Williams, 422 Fifty-first street, and carried away all the food in sight. A few moments later Patrolman W. J. Atkinson appeared on the scene and sighted the beast in a vacant lot. He took a shot at the animal, but missed. The monkey escaped over a fence

Lieutenant William Wood in charge of the northern station, today gave his men orders to shoot the monkey on sight if it resisted capture. Boy Scouts are making huge nets out of gunnysacks with which to effect a capture.

Women of the district remained indoors this morning and, according to the police, forbad their children to venture out.

According to officials of the park, Fanny is gentle and will not bite. Having gained her freedom, she intends to keep it as long as possible, according to her trainer, who has also joined in the chase

Bail Reduced for Accused Husband

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—In expectation of permission being received from Washington for Cecil H. Doty, chief electrician on the U. S. S California, now being detained at the Mare Island receiving ship, to give himself up to the civil authorities to face charges brought by his wife, his attorney, T J Savage, today had his bail reduced from $5000 to $1500 in bonds or $500 cash Mrs. Doty alleges that her husband was found in the apartment of a San Francisco widow recently She preferred a statutory charge

"Inventor" Held for Fraud Is Released

Sam Spitz, inventor of the "Spitzoscope," which gained much attention from citizens and scientists some time ago, was arrested today at the request of San Luis Obispo authorities on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, but was later released.

The "Spitzoscope" was called the "wireless eye." Through it one might see a city or town miles away, it was claimed, and many persons had a look It was finally alleged that the machine merely had pictures of the faraway city placed in front of the machine so that the onlooker was hoaxed.

TRIAL SEPARATION FAILS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug 4.—A trial separation having proved a failure, Mrs Mary Bregard filed suit in the superior court today for separate maintenance against Claud I Bregard. In her complaint she sets forth that after trouble in the home the couple decided to live apart for six months Later they returned again to the family fireside, but this time, she says, her husband became cruel to her.

MOTHER WINS CUSTODY OF BABE IN ARMS

Witnesses At Divorce Trial of H. L. Hammond Say Father Struck Wife On Occasions Before Birth of the Child

Baby Douglass Hammond, one and one-half years old, will remain in the custody of his mother, unless his father, Harold L. Hammond, can introduce evidence that will convince Superior Judge George Samuels that Mrs Lillian C. Hammond is unfit to care for him.

This was the opinion of the judge today upon the conclusion of the examination of witnesses brought in by T L Christiansen, attorney for Hammond. Hammond is asking for a decree of divorce and Mrs. Hammond is battling to secure the decree for herself, charging cruelty according to the complaint.

An attempt was made by Hammond to show that his wife had neglected to take the child to an eye specialist when told that it needed treatment It is alleged by the defense that Mrs. Hammond had no money with which to pay for the treatment.

Judge Samuels declared that the evidence produced by the plaintiff had not so far shown that Mrs Hammond was not a good mother and that to take an infant from its mother's arms would be an injustice. The judge gave the defense until 3 o'clock to produce additional witnesses

Hammond drank whenever he could get liquor, and cared more for drink than anything else in the world, it was brought out in the testimony of Mrs Hammond.

Hammond was called to the stand and declared Mrs Hammond was easily irritated and upon slight provocation would fly to her room in tears

An attempt was made by the attorney for the plaintiff to show that Mrs Hammond had been guilty of an indiscretion in admitting 19-year-old Jack Simons to her apartment when she and her husband were separated. Miss Minnie Pedmore, an artist, with whom Mrs. Hammond shared her apartment, admitted seeing the pair leave for a motion picture theater upon two occasions. She had never noticed any impropriety in the conduct of Mrs Hammond, she said

All witnesses examined pronounced Mrs. Hammond a good mother

A mock marriage ceremony in Tacoma to which one child was born and given to Dr. Frances Brown of the northern city, unfolded by the young wife on the witness stand yesterday, is said to be the cause of much of the trouble in the Hammond family.

Hawaii Lures Antioch Teacher; Takes Island School for Year

Daughter of Contra Costa Sheriff Sails to Test Father's Enticing Reports of Waikiki

Lured by the interesting tales brought home by her father, Sheriff R. R. Veale of Contra Costa county, Miss Miriam E. Veale of Martinez has sailed for Hawaii as a passenger on the Wilhelmina and will be away from the Eastbay cities for an entire year.

Contra Costa's chief peace officer escorted his daughter from her home to the ship, after remaining awake the greater part of the night while engaged in securing a confession from Lester Bradshaw, who was brought back to the United States by Veale. Bradshaw had fled to Australia and fought extradition for three months

Miss Veale said

"I taught school at Antioch for four years. When father returned he told about the things he saw in Honolulu, including Waikiki beach and other attractions For weeks we talked of nothing else and when I received a handsome offer to teach school in the islands I accepted. I hope that my letters will not prove so enticing that father will decide to leave Martinez and his job, because I really do not intend to remain in Hawaii for a longer period than I have planned."

LEGION CHIEF AT ALAMEDA LEAVES POST

Commander Floyd R. Gray Resigns, As He Will Quit City Soon: Organization of Guard Unit Is Endorsed

ALAMEDA, Aug. 4 — Floyd R. Gray, commander of Alameda Post, American Legion, tendered his resignation to the post at the meeting last night. Gray is leaving Alameda to assume the principalship of the Taft Union High School. A successor will be elected at the meeting of the post next Thursday evening.

The members of the post were addressed by Roy H Nevis, who is attempting to organize a national guard unit in Alameda. According to Nevis, it only requires forty men to create the unit. The post enthusiastically endorsed the plan of organization.

Wife Asks Arrest of Husband for Larceny

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Emil Abel, a jeweler of 1347 Polk street, complained to the police today that Isadore Klimen had obtained jewelry to the amount of $981 from him, paying for it with a spurious check. Before he could recover the property, he says, Klimen purloined it from his wife to whom he had given it as a present, and fled the city Mrs. Klimen has obtained a warrant charging her husband with grand larceny The couple lived together only a little over a month when Klimen induced her to visit her safe deposit vault with him and while she was not looking, obtained money and jewelry to the amount of $2500. Included in the articles taken were a ring and a pin purchased from Abel with the alleged bogus check.

Perjury Alleged In Bankruptcy Plea

Julius J Heyman, proprietor of the Terminal jewelry store at 486 Seventh street, was bound over to the superior court today under $2000 bail by Police Judge Tyrrell on a charge of perjury.

It is alleged that in his sworn statement in bankruptcy, Heyman failed to include $1500 worth of jewelry among the assets.

Benjamin Feigenberg, auctioneer 522 Seventh street, testified that Heyman gave him $1500 worth of jewelry to sell before the bankruptcy petition was made out, and Heyman received the $1500 from the sale of the jewelry

LOCAL BASEBALL MAGNATES RETURN FROM TRIP TO SEATTLE

SEATTLE SUPPORTING ITS BASEBALL CLUB IN WONDERFUL FASHION

Cal and Del Spent Thei r Time Changing Tires Until Ewing Takes Runout Powder on Pal

By EDDIE MURPHY

J. Cal Ewing, president of the Oakland baseball club, and his associate, George Elmer Howard, returned home yesterday after watching the Oaks lose five games out of seven with the Indians, and what do you suppose those two gentlemen of baseball fame sprung on us? "We have retired." Right there we thought there was some big news for the baseball fans of the coast league circuit. Thought maybe that they became disgusted with the club losing its first series in ten weeks, and were just ready to tell them they had a lot of nerve feeling that way after a team had not lost a series in nine weeks, when Cal Ewing explained: "I will never ride in a machine with that fellow Howard again unless he has the wheels wrapped in solid tires, and has an extra set besides."

Right there we knew what they meant by retir(e)ing. They were not quitting baseball or anything, but yesterday both Howard and Ewing hopped off the train at Castella and decided to motor down in Del's machine. Ewing says everything happened to Howard's tires. "We must have retired twenty times, before I got tired of playing errand boy and mechanic, and decided to leave Del all by his lonesome just outside of the city limits of Berkeley," said Cal. "It was at the limits that Del last ordered Cal to beat it to the nearest garage and tell a fellow to fetch a mechanic and a set of tools. Ewing wishes that he had taken along a couple of pairs of overalls. So the next time that Del and Cal travel together it will have to be by boat or train and not in Del's automobile.

Howard Says That He Has Real Pitching Find.

Howard after arriving in town some hours later was none the worse for his experience, for Del is a demon at making long trips in automobiles and having the usual tire troubles. Del had a nice boost for the Seattle baseball fans for the way they are supporting their ball club. Big crowds were out to the games every day and Del thinks that the stands will have to be enlarged to accommodate the crowds next season.

It was Howard who signed the young pitcher named Lowry for the locals. Howard says that a friend of his at Seattle tipped him off about the lad. He graduated from the Franklin high school at Southwest, Washington, a couple of years ago, and has been burning up a small independent league in that section. Howard watched him pitch before signing him to a contract, and claims that he showed him a better curve ball than any pitcher in the Coast league this season. Howard has asked if he was not taking in a lot of territory, but he replied that he meant just what he said. He will bring the young pitcher down before the close of the season, after the player limit is lifted.

Hal Rhyne Will Be a Regular Next Season.

Before leaving with his club for Los Angeles, Manager Charley Graham of the Seals was asked what player he expected to lose to the majors and if he thought he could get a man to fill the shoes of the athlete who would leave. Graham did not know what player he will let go, but said that if either Kamm or Caveney is selected, then he knows what player will be expected to fill at short or third. Hal Rhyne, former TRIBUNE and Mission leaguer, is the fellow upon whom Graham will pin his hopes. Rhyne is now the property of the Seals and is going big in the Western league. He is hitting and fielding with the best of them. Graham said that he does not know of any other player in the minor leagues at the present time whom he would rather have to fill the shoes of Kamm or Caveney than he would Rhyne. This is quite a boost for the San Jose kid.

Bill Burnside Writes From Western League.

Bill Burnside, who will be remembered as an umpire in The TRIBUNE Midwinter league and who is now acting in that capacity in the Western league, writes to Ambrose, the Tailor, that Hal Rhyne, along with Walter (Seacap) Christensen, another local boy, is going big in that league. According to Burnside a number of California boys are making quite a reputation for themselves in that league. But Bill failed to mention anything about his good work as an umpire. Reports from A. R. Tearney's circuit are that Burnside is slated to step up into faster company next season. It would not be a surprise to hear of Bill graduating to the majors, as he came very close to being picked for one of the jobs last season.

ANOTHER FOR McCHESNEYS.

The McChesney club defeated the Risdon Bakers 8 to 7 in a hard-fought game. Quirck's hitting and catching featured for the winners. The score:

Local Club Has Fastest Skaters In the Country

Oakland, California,
August 3, 1921.

Sporting Editor:
Oakland TRIBUNE,
Oakland, California.

I am a constant reader of your sporting page and noticed an article on the breaking of the one mile roller skating record in Reading, Pa., by Frank K. Klopp, time being two minutes and forty-five and three-fifths seconds. I would like to state that our club, The Idora Skating Club, have three skaters that have skated one mile in under the above time. The time for one mile championship in February of this year was two minutes and forty-two seconds, won by William Wreath.

The five mile amateur championship race will be run next Sunday, August 7. The winners of the heats are: Otis Parker, time 15:04; J. Hammond, time 15:21; Frank Nemeth, time 15:32. Fast time is expected Sunday as the boys are training hard for this race. Hoping that you will be able to publish this and let the West know that we have some of the fastest skaters right here in the Golden West.

Thanking you for your past favors

I remain
O. T. BIANCHI,
President of the Idora Skating Club.

TIGERS WALLOP SEALS IN FIRST GAME.

LOS ANGELES, August 4.—"Wheezer" Dell, the tall gentleman who pitched for the Vernon Tigers displayed too much class for the Seals in the opening game of the series here, so the visitors went down to a 4 to 1 defeat. The only run made off Dell was a gift on an error by French, after Maury Rath had beat out an infield hit. Johnny Couch, the leading pitcher of the league started for the Seals. It was a pitching battle for seven innings after which Couch retired in favor of a pinch hitter, and then Sam Lewis let the Tigers get two of their runs in the eighth. The score:

Zenith Millers Win From the Calatones

The Zenith Mill boys kept up their winning streak by defeating the Calatone Waters 6 to 2.

It was a pitchers' battle between Bray and Hafey up to the eighth inning, when Dreisbach polled out a timely triple with two on and later scoring himself to cinch the game.

This was one of the fastest and scrappiest games to be seen on a local bush lot for some time. Bray allowed five scattered hits and fanned 12. Hafey whipped 10.

Another League Is Against Black Sox

HOQUIAM, Wash., Aug. 4.—L. H. Burnett of Tacoma, president of the Pacific International League, here on a business trip, said none of the White Sox players acquitted by a jury last night need look for a job with his league.

"Under no circumstances will we accept any of those players," he affirmed. "The Pacific International League stands for clean baseball."

Phil Koerner was there with the stick against Dinuba Sunday, helping Ralph Stroud win his game for Hanford. Phil got a triple and single.

LOCAL NIMROD BRINGS DOWN MAGNIFICENT MOUNTAIN LION

Gus Nordquist Shoots a Big One Up in Calaveras County.

Some folks get a thrill out of knocking over a jack rabbit and right now thousands of nimrods are getting a wonderful kick out of perforating an unsuspecting deer. You simply can't get Gus Nordquist, local taxidermist, interested in game like that. When Gus feels he wants to go a-hunting he grabs his trusty rifle, calls his dogs and goes after real game and the accompanying picture shows that he brings back the goods.

The stockmen around the country know Nordquist and when some "varmint" gets over-gay with their stock they drop Gus a note and give him an idea where the game is to be found.

Recently some ranchers down Calaveras way were pestered by a mountain lion that specialized on lambs. At the present price of chops the farmers were losing a lot of money and they asked the local nimrod to make the lion acquainted with a bullet.

Gus and his trusty hounds responded and they got Mister Lion after one day's chase. The dogs hunted the brute out of the brush and treed him while Gus did his bit by getting a bead behind the animal's shoulder and pulling the trigger. Mister Lion tipped the beam at 165 pounds and measured seven feet six inches. Before coming home Nordquist got a line on a smaller lion and added it to his collection.

Saturday nights when the moon is right Nordquist and his dogs squeeze themselves into an Elizabeth and cross one of the ferries. When they return Monday morning a lot of coons and wildcats and things accompany them.

Some hunter, this Nordquist boy.

Gillespie and Schnell Are Sold to Cincinnati

Johnny Gillespie and Carl Schnell, local high school boys, playing their first year in professional baseball, have been sold to the Cincinnati Reds for the biggest price ever paid for Class-B athletes. The pair brought $10,000 on the hoof.

Gillespie pitched for Tech High and graduated from The TRIBUNE League and with Schnell, accompanied Joe Devine to the wilds of Canada. They pitched Devine's Calgary team into the pennant in the first half of the Western Canadian League season and their work attracted the attention of many scouts.

"Chicken" Hawkes and "Seacap" Christensen, two local kid outfielders were developed by Devine in Canada last year and sold to New York.

Do You Know That A Year Ago?

That Phil Neer, Portland, Oregon, won the British Columbia singles tennis championship at Victoria, B. C.

That the Waverly C. C. Portland, Oregon, defeated the Tacoma C. C. golf team 26 to 2.

That Walter Hagen of New York and James Barnes of St. Louis defeated Harry Vardon and Ted Ray, England, in a 36 hole match at Deal Beach, New Jersey.

That Earl Sheely, Salt Lake, led the coast batting with 385 per cent and Wheezer Dell, Vernon, led the pitchers in the Coast league.

That Joe Lynch outpointed Charlie Ledoux in twelve rounds at Jersey.

That the U. S. pistol team won the Olympic games series at Antwerp and G. Papneuse, Brasil, won the individual title.

That Pat McDonald was injured on the boat going to the Olympic games at Antwerp.

CHICAGO, Aug 4.—Pal Moore, the Memphis bantamweight, and Jack Sharkey, New York, were today matched to box ten rounds at East Chicago, Ind., August 18. The match was substituted for the proposed contest between Johnny Wilson, the middleweight champion, and Harry Greb, Pittsburg, light heavyweight.

Did YOU Have Bet On This Race Horse

Buck Weaver Is. Not Satisfied; Wants Salary

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—At least one of the seven acquitted former White Sox players probably will bring suit to recover payment of salary that stopped when suspension followed exposure of the baseball scandal, it was indicated today when Attorney M. J. Ahern, who represented George "Buck" Weaver in the trial of the players, declared his client has a legitimate claim in connection with his contract.

While rumors of other suits were heard, these, for the most part, were denied, and it was believed that the other former White Sox delighted with the jury's verdict will content themselves as best they can with the aftermath verdict of those who control the game that they be barred forever from organized baseball.

"Weaver's contract," Mr. Ahern stated, "was to have run through the season of 1922. He probably will ask us to bring action to recover whit is due him for 1921, less what he earned this year. He was receiving $7500 a season, I believe. If successful in this suit we shall bring another action at the close of the 1922 season."

Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the White Sox, declared he was ready for any action that might be brought against him. "They have all been paid every nickel they had coming," he said.

WINNING STREAK OF BEAVERS IS CUT SHORT.

PORTLAND, August 4.—Bill Plummer and Roy Coleman, a couple of recruit hurlers were hit hard in the pinches by the Salt Lake Bees here yesterday afternoon, so the Portland Beavers after winning three straight games, lost to the Bees 5 to 2. All five runs were made off Plummer. Walter Leverenz worked for the Bees and allowed eight scattered hits. The Beavers got their two runs off him in the first inning. The score:

JOPLIN TO STICK

JOPLIN, Mo., Aug. 4.—Joplin will retain its franchise in the Western league by virtue of the success of a campaign for a fund to put the club on even terms financially. Approximately $6000 had been raised up to today by the sale of stock in the Jasper County Park Association, owner of the franchise, it was announced.

Black Sox to Be Barred in Every League

Judge Landis Commended for Blacklisting Chicago Ball Players.

Action of Judge Landis, supreme baseball commissioner, in barring the "acquitted" Black Sox players today met with the unanimous approval of officials of the game.

Opinions of league heads, gathered by the United Press, show the popularity of the ruling.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—"I am very much pleased that Judge Landis will not permit the acquitted White Sox players to return to baseball," Thomas J. Hickey, president of the American Association, said today.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—"Judge Landis did the right thing when he barred the acquitted White Sox from baseball," John Conway Toole, president of the International League, said.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Aug. 4.—M. H. Sexton, president of the National Association said:

"The accused players' only defense was a confession of guilt. Their plea was that their act was not a violation of the law."

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—William H. McCarthy, president of the Pacific Coast League, said:

"In spite of their technical acquittal in court and in spite of the whitewash thrown on them, in the eyes of the baseball world they always will be the 'Black Sox.'"

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Aug. 4.—"Judge Landis silenced the death knell of baseball when he barred the acquitted White Sox," E. W. Dickerson, president of the Central League, said here today.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 4.—"I knew that Judge Landis would render a fair, impartial and just decision in the case of the accused White Sox," John D. Martin, president of the Southern Association, said here today.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—John J. Evers, manager of the Chicago Cubs, is seriously ill, according to word given out at the Cubs' office today.

Evers has been succeeded as manager by Bill Killefer, catcher.

16-YEAR-OLD LAD BRINGS HOME A BIG DEER.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 4.—The antlered bucks are falling fast in the mountains east and west of the Santa Clara valley, according to reports from hunters returning here daily, and the statements are being backed up by the exhibition of genuine proof.

It remained today, however, for 16-year-old Samuel Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Johnson, prominent residents of the valley, to slay the season's largest deer. Young Johnson went hunting yesterday in the Santa Cruz mountains, he being the sole member of his hunting party. Late last night he proudly entered the yard of his home seated beside a rancher whom he was forced to hire to help him bring home his booty—a 175-pound antlered beauty.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gilman, Mrs. Bart Lorigan, William Costa and George Helwig are others who have reported success in "dropping" deer, while a party composed of Harold and Listus Hayes, with two others, returned yesterday with four bucks to their credit. J. F. Tatham, who was arrested last week for shooting a doe, went out yesterday and returned with a buck.

Del Montes Easily Defeat the Knights

The Del Monte Packers No. 6 won their second straight game when they gave the Knights of Pythias a 21 to 6 beating. The Knights were no match for the Packers, who have hit their stride. Manager Ben Garibotto started Harold "High" Langtry on the hill, while the Knights used more than five chuckers. They all looked alike to the hard hitting Packers. The hitting of Joe Sanginetto, and Tehan for the Del Montes was the feature. Tehan is a new man and has won a steady berth by his wonderful work around the short patch. The Del Monte boys went wild on the bags, stealing fifteen bags. Once the Packers got started they were never headed. Bob Hunter pitched a few innings, and showed some class. The score:

Errors Help In Defeat of "Buz" Arlett

Carroll's Triple With Bags Loaded Cinches Win for L. A.

A triple by Dixie Carroll in the eighth inning when the bases were jammed spelt defeat for the Oaks in the opening game of their series with the Los Angeles club, and also aided the southern boys to step a game nearer the Seals, who are leading the pennant chase. The Angels took the biggest part of a 6 to 4 score, but hadn't Al White at short in place of Ray Brubaker, and Catcher Art Koehler made a couple of costly errors, the Oaks would have no doubt slipped the short end of the score to the Angels.

A single by Lindimore, a sacrifice by Stanage and another single by Statz gave the Angels a run in the third, and Art Griggs' home run into the left field bleachers in the fourth increased their lead to two runs. Ray Kremer was on the hill for the Oaks when those runs were made, and he gave way to Buz Arlett after the fifth inning.

BOOTS ARE COSTLY.

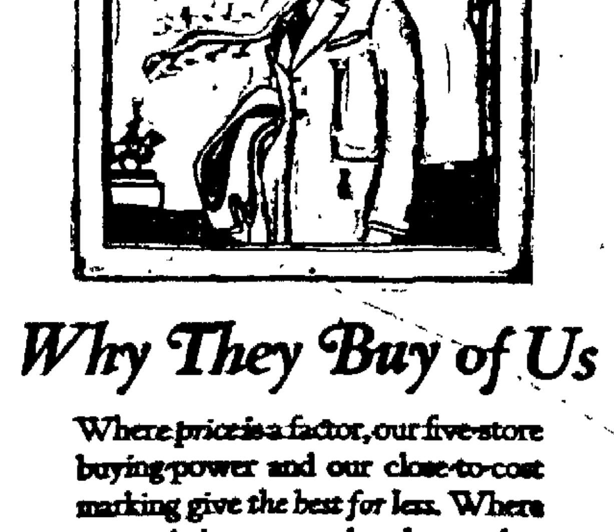

For the first six innings, Otis "Doc" Crandall made the Oakland sluggers look helpless, but in the seventh Cather, Miller and Knight touched him for singles in a row that netted one run, and then Crandall helped the Oaks to another when he fielded Louie Guisto's bunt and made a wild heave to third. Koehler's sacrifice fly scored one more and gave the Oaks a one run lead, and with a runner resting on third, White fanned and Arlett went out via the infield.

Only two hits were made in the eighth when the Angels got four runs, but one of them was that big triple by Carroll. They were the only hits made off Arlett in the four innings he worked, so the big fellow was not responsible for a run made off him. Stanage started the eighth with a single, and Killefer, who ran for him advanced to second on Crandall's sacrifice. White booted Statz's grounder and two were on. Pinelli made a great scoop of McAuley's hot bounder, and threw to Koehler, but the latter tried to chase Killefer down at third, and when he did throw the ball to Pinelli, he hit the runner in the back and the bags were jammed. Cather played in right center for Carroll, who is a left-handed batter, but he was crossed up when Carroll hit to left center and put the game on ice. A sacrifice fly by Griggs scored Carroll.

CALIFORNIA TENNIS PLAYERS ARE GATHERING HONORS IN PACIFIC NORTHWEST TOURNEY

WATTS TRACT BOXER SHOWS THE CUSTOMERS HOW GAMENESS LOOKS

Alex McDonald Holds Vargas Even; George Gibbons Has Improved Under Broom's Wing

By BOB SHAND

The usually fatal handicap of a "glass jaw" made a hero of a fighter at the auditorium last night and dimmed the brilliance of the victory of an unknown youth from the country over a city lad with championship ambitions. Teddy O'Hara of Watts Tract was the victim and the hero which is paradoxical, but Teddy's worst enemy won't say anything against him today. The "Boo Boys" will be all primed for O'Hara's next start which will be in the near future, but the anvil chorus is silenced today and the velvet is on the hammers.

When O'Hara entered the ring last night to do battle with Roy Sutherland of Benicia he got his usual reception. "Swell head" and all that sort of stuff from the dark recesses of the gallery. Teddy hadn't appeared here in a year but the gang was still "on" him. The man from Watts Tract took it all smilingly. He had a mission to perform and it was not talking back to the cash customers. Against Sutherland, O'Hara looked like a stake horse pitted against a selling plater. Sutherland didn't see it that way and kept on top of his man for two rounds. In the third O'Hara started "shooting" some wicked hooks in the clinches and he cracked his man some clouts that hurt in the break-aways. The rules called for clean breaks and Teddy was warned by Referee Gerald Beaumont. Breaking from a clinch Teddy was preparing to come in when Sutherland started both hands swinging. A light left grazed the O'Hara chin, but the right that followed landed flush and Teddy's head hit the floor first. Flat on his back he stiffened out on the canvas while the customers commented on the "cleanest knock-out in years."

Not a muscle moved in the fallen boxer for eight seconds. He was "out," the customers started for the exits and the janitors started to move in. But the fight was not over. The old battling instinct was still dominant. O'Hara arose before "ten" was counted but he was still "out." Unconsciously he ducked underneath a volley of punches directed at him by his heavier opponent Sutherland shook him off and swung with both hands. Again unconsciously O'Hara swayed out of harm's way and dropped into another clinch. He was punch drunk and out but a man who once questioned the gameness of the O'Hara boy kicked himself and sneaked out of the building. Teddy lasted the round out and came back in the fourth still dizzy and dopey but fighting like an infuriated tiger.

It went the limit with the decision going to Sutherland, of course, but the cheers were all for O'Hara. Punch drunk and all as O'Hara was in that fourth round it was Sutherland who was doing the holding. Maybe Roy was trying to figure something out in his own mind "How could a man fight back after being out cold for eight seconds?"

The chances are they will give O'Hara the well known raspberry next time he climbs through the ropes on the assumption that he likes himself but if any real fan can roast the kid without blushing following that display of gameness last evening—well he'd hire the Black Sox.

Benny Vierra came through in good shape in his bout with Eddie Hanley and won all the way. Hanley was trying hard but the Vierra boy was too shifty for him.

Alex McDonald Is Another Big Surprise.

Alex McDonald was one of the real surprises of the evening Alex was not conceded a chance with Terio Vargas after what the little Filipino did to him last week but after taking a lacing in the first round last night Alex woke up and fought himself into a draw. In the third and fourth rounds he had his man backing up and breaking ground and Vargas was all cut up at the finish. If there was any shade it belonged to McDonald but the decision satisfied the customers

George Gibbons, the big white hope, looked 100 per cent better than in his last start and he gave Jim Farrell a man's size beating in every round Because the latter was game and kept taking them he was given a draw Gibbons looks better than ever and but for Farrell's experience he would have won on a knockout last night

Johnny Nunes put up a right smart fight against Dick Wallace and copped the decision. Johnny did not let his chin wander in the way of the Wallace wallops like Johnny Mullins did last week and the local boy did enough damage to earn the verdict.

Marty Burman won easily over Sailor Wiggins but the cheers of the crowd were for the loser. Wiggins stopped every kind of a punch with his face and tummy but he kept right on rushing and was on top of his man even when on the verge of being toppled over. Burman got a bad eye in the first round and this bothered him considerably but he did too much holding to please the customers

Frankie McCann and Johnny Pastrano boxed a draw and Jimmy Kelsey got the decision over Joe Healy.

Gerald Beaumont, well known writer of short stories, refereed the bouts and got by in great style although he had not been in the ring since the days of the old West Oakland Club Billy Brackett and E. J. Kaplan judged.

The house was jammed to the doors which means that Mayor John L Davie's athletic stadium fund has a nice start. The mayor and Commissioners Al Carter, Frank Colburn and Billy Baccus were present.

Rickard Is Bidding For Wilson, Downey

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Promoter Tex Rickard announced today he had wired Johnny Wilson of Boston offering to stage a twelve-round bout between him and Bryan Downey of Cleveland, for the middleweight title at Boyle's Thirty Acres, Jersey City, Labor Day. While Rickard declined to give details, he explained the offer was liberal. He conferred today with Jimmy Dunn, Downey's manager, who accepted the terms contained in the offer to the Cleveland pugilist.

Perhaps Georges Is Going To Stay Home

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Georges Carpentier, says the Daily Mail today, has not arranged to fight Tom Gibbons or for any other contest in the United States and it is extremely improbable that he ever will be seen in the ring in the United States again.

THIS TIME LAST YEAR

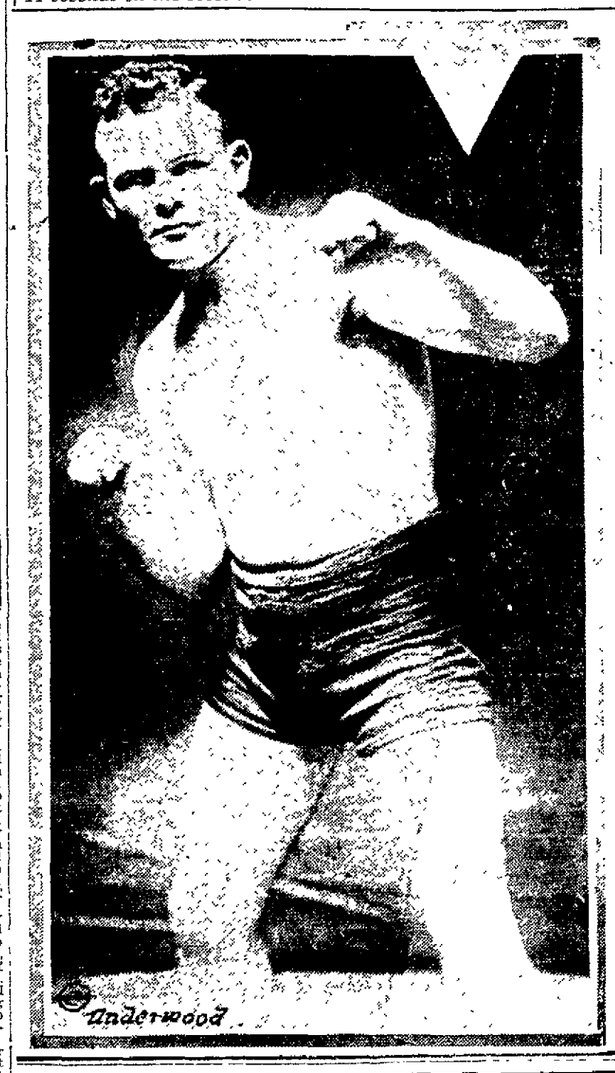

Francis J. Fennelly, former shortstop for Reds and Athletics, died at Fall River, Mass.

DOWNEY CLAIMS TITLE

The Cleveland boxing commission announced it had reversed the decision of Referee Jimmy Gardner and awarded the palm in the Bryan Downey-Johnny Wilson go to Downey. Gardner gave the decision to Middleweight Champ Johnny Wilson, alleging Downey had fouled the champ by swinging at him before he was off the floor. The commission holds the blow was not delivered as claimed by Gardner and that if a foul was committed it was by Martin Killilea, Wilson's manager, who put his hand on his boxer when he was down in the seventh round. It also is put forth that Gardner only counted nine on Wilson on his first and second knockdowns in the seventh round: but that actually Wilson was down for 13 4-5 seconds on the first and 11 seconds on the second.

TENNIS

Word has been received from the south that Maurice McLoughlin will likely accept the invitation that has been extended to him to play in the annual Del Monte tournament which opens on Friday and runs until Sunday McLoughlin has been playing in the Southern California championship and has been displaying much of his old time brilliancy

The appearance of the California "Comet" on the Del Monte courts will undoubtedly attract much interest in the tournament It was here at Del Monte that McLoughlin first came into prominence in winning important tournaments The Pacific Coast and California State titles were formerly decided at Del Monte and McLoughlin was one of the competitors. It will be like old times for Maury to return as since his first visit he has won fame that extends to every corner of the globe where tennis is played.

There is also a possibility that Ray Greenberg, Elmer Griffin and Bill Parker will come to Del Monte to compete. Paul Leake of Woodland, Al Becker and Charlie Lumbard of Sacramento, Jay Payne of San Jose, Roy Wright of Pacific Grove and W. C Adams of Monterey are among the other well known players who have signified their intention of competing

Among the women players Eleanor Tennant who is rated among the first ten in the country has sent word that she will probably be on hand, also Mrs Leachman. The McCune sisters, holders of the state doubles championship, live at Pacific Grove nearby but will be unable to enter owing to their studies at the University of California.

Best Tractors Are Easy Winners Over The Halton-Didiers

In their first game of three with the Halton Didiers of Alameda, the C. L. Best Tractor found little trouble in winning from Truck Kues's boys. The game was played at the cherry town park before a large crowd of fans. Fifteen hits off the pitching of Smith, and Brown was enough to give Bill Wagner's boys their 6 to 1 victory. Heine Lay was on the hill for the winners, and was too strong for the Clothiers. He allowed six hits, and did some hitting himself. He got three hits. George Frost at second for the Tractors sent out three safe clouts. Canty, center fielder for the Halton Didiers was the fielding star of the day, grabbing two long drives that looked impossible. He also led his club with the bat, getting two of the six hits.

Fulton Reinstated; Mike Collins Ousted

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 4.—The Athletic Association of Hennepin county was given the license for staging boxing contests in Minneapolis, at a meetinf of the Minnesota Boxing Commission today. This action revokes the license of the Minneapolis Boxing Club, of which Mike Collins is the head, as but one organization is permitted to conduct fistic exhibitions in each of the three principal cities of the state.

Fred Fulton of Minneapolis, heavyweight boxer, was reinstated, after being suspended two years, following charges of his having engaged in a "fake" fight with Jack Dempsey.

Little Worlds Series Arranged for East

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—A minor league "world series" between the pennant winning clubs of the American association and International league will be staged after the close of the regular season, President Hickey of the American association announced today. A ten-year agreement for the post-season series had been reached with the International, Mr. Hickey announced.

BAT ORTEGA AND FRANK MURPHY BOX DRAW.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 4—Frankie Murphy of Denver and Battling Ortega of Oakland, Cal., fought a ten-round draw here last night. Murphy weighed 149 pounds while Ortega scaled 155. The two stood toe to toe throughout the ten rounds, putting up the greatest battle between men at their weight, witnessed here in years

Abe Miaking, Salt Lake lightweight, and Young Sam Langford of Seattle, fought a six-round draw

GOSSIP from the JUNGLES

By MAURY PESSANO

By winning their games in the Three "C" league, the Brentwood and Oakley clubs are tied for first place with a clean record of three wins. Both clubs are putting up a bitter fight for the second half championship with Concord and Antioch trailing them Brentwood's win Sunday came at the expense of the Pittsburg club which is in the cellar without a win The game was played at Brentwood A ninth inning rally turned the trick. With the score tied in that frame Brentwood sent over the winning run Bill Steengrafe did the chucking for the winners and twirled a great ball Bob Wallace and Jack Mordue were stars for Brentwood At Antioch, Oakley won a hard fought game from the home boys, 8 to 7. In the other game Concord had little trouble downing Cowell. The score was 12 to 1. Marchio for Concord allowed Cowell nine hits The only run made was a homer by Garcia McNamara did the twirling for the losers and was found for thirteen safe bingles Concord made six runs on seven hits in the second inning

Small who was with the Const ite club in the TRIBUNE league last week is doing the pitching for Napa, and was in good form against the Santa Rosa club Sunday Small allowed five hits blanking the visitors 4 to 0 The game was the first of a series with the second scheduled for Santa Rosa next Sunday "Lefty" Schmidt did the pitching for the losers, and was treated very rough by Napa They found him for twelve base hits For the first four innings, Small turned the Santa Rosa batters back without a safe blow, while his teammates won the game for him in that number of innings Not a man reached third on Small

Fred Selaya is doing some fine work for the Oakland Natives At Avon against the home crew, Fred got three hits and caught a swell game. One of his hits was a triple that gave the Natives two runs

Tommy Lipton to Try Again For the Cup

GLASGOW, Scotland, Aug. 4.—Sir Thomas Lipton will make another effort in 1923 to lift the America's cup, he announced here today. Sir Thomas said that a new yacht to be christened Shamrock V will be built to meet an American yacht. Sir Thomas said that the challenge will be sent to the United States next year.

JOLTS HOOKS & UPPERCUTS

Johnny Drexel of San Jose knocked out Ted Silva in the first round at San Jose last night

Tommy Leard of Oakland and V. Bravo, also of Oakland, substituting for Bobby Roach, fought a draw Bob Severn and Pete Dorsey, heavyweights, both of San Jose, fought four round to a draw

Joe Thomas of Oakland knocked out Dick Nelson in the first round Joe Fisk and Cyclone Williams both of Oakland, fought four rounds to a draw

Ted Titus Oakland, substituting for Eddy McCoy, and Mickey Drexel San Francisco, stalled away four perfectly good rounds The decision was a draw

Joe Medina and Charlie Spada of San Jose boxed a draw

GOLF BY W.D. McNICOLL

The finals of the women's July tournament were concluded yesterday at Sequoyah In the first flight event Mrs H M. Lee defeated Mrs. L. Illinghouse by a putt on the last green During the game both players excelled any previous score they have made over the Elmhurst course Mrs Lee's medal round was under the century mark while Mrs Illinghouse was out in 49 and in 52 total 101 Both players received trophies as winner and runner up in the monthly tournament

In the second flight event Mrs. G Chase defeated Mrs J Buck, 3—1

Tomorrow another flag tournament will be held with an ever increasing number of players T is event, which will be a handicap is sure to attract a large entry

The fourth green at Sequoyah the first of six new greens being introduced to make a real championship test, has been favorably commented on and although just a few weeks old putts remarkably well Quite a number of players fail to take advantage of the right they have to ground their clubs in the grassy hollows Only in the second laps is the penalty of one stroke incurred when in competition grounds his club At the present time the line of approach to the hole with no pool will seem confusing This may be remedied later on but meantime an approach from the rough to the right of the fairway would appeal to players rather than over a series of bunkers to the left of the green where the fairway is comparatively well denned. The sixth green is going to be one of the best when completed The approach shot from the top of the hill will call for an excellent display of judgment

Dick Bauer who will be remembered by the local bush fans as the little second sacker of the Ambrose Tailors several seasons ago is in town for a few weeks Dick has been down in the oil fields at Maricopa With him is his wife and family Dick does not play any baseball down at Maricopa.

Everything for QUALITY—nothing for show

THAT'S OUR IDEA in making CAMELS—the Quality Cigarette.

Why, just buy Camels and look at the package! It's the best packing science has devised to keep cigarettes fresh and full flavored for your taste. Heavy paper outside—secure foil wrapping inside and the revenue stamp over the end to seal the package and keep it air-tight.

And note this! There's nothing flashy about the Camel package. No extra wrappings that do not improve the smoke. Not a cent of needless expense that must come out of the quality of the tobacco.

Camels wonderful and exclusive Quality wins on merit alone.

Because, men smoke Camels who want the taste and fragrance of the finest tobaccos, expertly blended. Men smoke Camels for Camels smooth, refreshing mildness and their freedom from cigaretty aftertaste.

Camels are made for men who think for themselves.

Oakland City Hall Employee Endorses Fong Wan Herbs

While in the U. S. Army I suffered agonies from piles. I was treated by the army doctors without effect. I suffered just the same and was told that I must face an operation. Finally I heard of the Fong Wan Chinese Herb treatment. I drank the herb about 4 weeks and am now in fine condition. I am glad to recommend the Fong Wan Herbs to all who are in poor health. Prune Growers Board Meeting Is Postponed

SAN JOSE, Aug. 4.—The scheduled first meeting of the recently elected voting board, or controlling body of the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association, which was to have been held the latter part of this month on the same date that the board of directors and trustees of the present association hold their last meeting, will not be held as scheduled. It has been indefinitely postponed, but probably will be called to order sometime early in October.

Cancellation of the call for the meeting came today when members of the anti-administration forces on the new board raised objection to the calling of the meeting for the date this month alleging that it was an effort on the part of administration leaders to hold the meeting at a time when the administration forces of the present association would be present to exert an "undue outside influence."

It was also contended in some quarters that the growers are too busy with their crops at the present time to take up the big problem of reorganization just at present.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Fresh declines took place in the wheat market today. Opening quotations, which varied from unchanged figures to ¾c lower, with September $1.22 to $1.23¾, and December $1.25¼ to $1.26, were followed by setbacks all around. Liquidating sales that were ascribed to a prominent New York trader led to increased depression later, although some export business closed on the declines. Prices closed unsettled, ¾ to 2¼c net lower, with September $1.21¾ to $1.22¼, and December $1.21¾ to $1.24¼.

Corn after opening unchanged to ¾c lower, including September at 56c, underwent a general fall.

Oats started a shade to ⅛c down, ... to ⅝c and then sagged further.

Provisions were depressed by lower quotations on hogs and on grain as well.

Bank of Crockett Makes Improvements

CROCKETT, Aug. 4.—Although erected only two years ago, the fine $40,000 home of the First National Bank of Crockett already is outgrown and a substantial addition of twenty feet is now being built to the banking room.

Another feature of the improvements is the installation of the latest improved electric burglar alarm throughout, giving protection against daylight holdup as well as robbery at night. The bank also is equipping the vaults with the latest improved fireproof, burglar proof and non-burnable vault doors. The addition and the equipment amount to approximately $11,500.

DOCTORS URGED TO PUT SERVICE AHEAD OF FEES

Scientists Declare the Public Needs Medical Aid in Its Fight for Health.

REASONABLE FEES URGED.

"The relationship of the medical profession to the public will be subjected to more or less strain until these conditions are remedied. The strain is increasing and may be productive of much harm in a number of ways. It will not be removed until some system is evolved whereby the rank and file of suffering humanity who have no relish for becoming charity patients can obtain the medical attention they require at prices that are not prohibitive.

Need of public legislation in rural communities as a means of averting the spread of disease not only among country folk but among city dwellers as well was emphasized by Dr. Kofoid. Dr. Kofoid said the developments of the war showed the city dweller to be superior mentally and physically to his country cousin.

"The development of steam and gas engines and the subsequent increasing of the rapidity of transportation has facilitated the spread of communicable disease to a great extent," he pointed out. "The rural citizen is at a great disadvantage as compared to the city dweller. He maintains his sanitation at his own expense. Medical aid comes to him from a distance and at a great expense. War records showed at an early stage that the rural recruit was physically inferior to the city recruit."

HOOKWORM AS DANGER.

Dr. Kofoid pointed to the large percentage of hookworm among country recruits during the war as evidence of his statements. Amoebal dysentary, the tropical malady which spread during the war, he declared had made its appearance in eleven rural counties of California. Whole families, he said, are at times stricken by the malary.

"This disease is caused primarily by bad sanitation as evidenced in the spread in labor camps," he said, in stating that probably ten per cent of the men thus employed are either sufferers from the disease or carriers of the malady.

Other speakers at this afternoon's session on public health were President Ray Lyman Wilbur of Stanford University, "Public Health and Human Welfare"; Dr. F. P. Gay, University of California, "Whose Business is the Public Health"; Dr. Philip King Brown, president California Anti-Tuberculosis Association, and Dr. H. B. Torrey, University of Oregon.

RECEPTION TONIGHT.

Preceding this afternoon's meeting a research conference and luncheon was held at the Faculty Club, at which a survey of research conditions in Pacific Coast institutions was made. Speakers were Dr. John John Campbell Merriam, president of the Carnegie Institute of Washington and former University of California faculty member, and Professor Harry Beall Torrey of the University of Oregon.

This evening a public reception and meeting will be held in Wheeler auditorium.

Addresses of welcome will be given by President David P. Barrows of the University of California and Mayor Louis Bartlett, to which response will be made by Dr. Barton Warren Evermann, chairman of the executive committee. Following this the retiring president of the Pacific Division, Dr. William E. Ritter, will deliver an address on "Scientific Idealism." After the address of the president a public reception will be held. The public are cordially invited to attend this and all meetings and lectures of the Pacific Division and of the affiliated societies.

Between 400 and 500 scientists are expected before the end of the convention. Dr. William E. Ritter, president of the Pacific Division, recently came from Washington, D. C., where he was made director of science service created by the National Research Council for the presentation of science to the lay public.

FAMOUS SCIENTISTS ATTEND.

Other early arrivals are Dr. C. L. Alsberg and Dr. Alonzo Taylor, both of whom are to become associated with the newly established food research bureau of Stanford University. Dr. Alsberg has made important studies in the chemistry of foods and agricultural products and is at present chemical biologist of the bureau of plant industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture. Professor Taylor, an expuert in chemical physiology and pathology, was for eleven years a member of the faculty of the University of California, and has been at the University of Pennsylvania since 1911. Both will speak during the meeting at Berkeley. Professor J. H. Stillman, formerly head of the department of chemistry of Stanford University is expected to arrive in Berkeley tomorrow. Professor Stillman has been the recipient of many scientific honors and was for a time president of the Pacific division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He is to speak Friday at 9 a. m. in room 217, chemistry building, on "Falsification in Early Chemical History." The lecture will be of popular interest.

Other scientists include Dr. J. E. Hale, director of the Mount Wilson Solar Observatory; Dr. A. E. Noyes of the California Institute of Technology; Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford University, and D. T. MacDougal, director of the Desert Laboratory, Tuscon, Ariz.

McKinley National Park Road Planned

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Aug. 4.—Mount McKinley National Park, near here, which surrounds and includes snow-capped Mount McKinley, the highest peak on the continent, is to be handled by the government in the same manner as national parks in the states are conducted, according to Harry P. Karstens, Fairbanks, recently appointed superintendent of the park.

Karstens recently returned to Fairbanks from Washington, accompanied by Woodbury Abbey, an engineer who has been given the task of surveying the park this summer. Abbey left for the big reserve to take up his work.

Steps to locate a road into the park immediately will be taken by Karstens.

LATEST NEWS OF INDUSTRY, TRADE AND FINANCE

WOOL GOODS SET FOR YEAR HEAD AT GOOD LEVELS

American's Show Criterion for Trade; Leather Again Being Bought.

By JAMES ALLERTON.

NEW YORK, Aug 4 — A distinctly firmer tone was imparted to the whole textile industry by the brisk buying of next spring's woolens at the opening showings of the American Woolen Company here. The company admittedly sets the prices for the entire trade and the fact that prices for 1922 were at the level fixed for fall goods this year or a trifle higher has had a reassuring effect.

Demand for some of the novelties will exceed possible supply and that the company's plants are assured of capacity operation for many months.

Rising prices have not deterred traders from increased activity in the hide and leather market here and hides aggregating between four and five million dollars in value have been traded in within the last fortnight here and in Chicago. The Brooklyn shoe factories are working at capacity.

The rubber market also is showing decided improvement here. Production in the paper mills of this state is gradually increasing. Retail trade has been given added impulse this week by bargain sales in many of the large department stores.

CHICAGO

By A. D. WELTON.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4. — Business is neither very good nor very bad throughout the middle West. An up to the minute survey of this section showed 37 industrial concerns operating at capacity with orders to keep them busy for from 30 to 60 days while 40 others reported their sales were averaging 60 per cent of those of 1920.

Crop conditions are good and as crops are marketed there is hope for better buying among the farmers. Collections have improved already and it is noted that many old accounts are being settled. When extensions are asked there is more definiteness about the time of payment.

The trend in prices is downward in general but upturns in many individual commodities are expected. The opinion is unanimous that stocks in the hands of producers, jobbers and retailers, particularly of dry goods, are lower than ever before on goods for spring. The outlook for next year therefore is for increasing business. Trade conditions point toward some early revival in demand for steel products in this section.

BUSINESS TOPICS.

FIGHT GRAIN RATES.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 4. — Texas grain dealers, growers and chambers of commerce have begun a fight to obtain a reduction of freight rates on grain between southwestern and southeastern states. They plan to build up a trade with the southeast in coarse grains and grain sorghums and assert that present rates on these products much such commerce impossible. They demand a readjustment on the part of the railroads.

TANKERS TIED UP.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. — More than 100 American oil tank steamers are now tied up awaiting adjustment of the situation in the Tampico field of Mexico. The tax situation there, fuel oil because of shipping depression and slackening of foreign inquiries has reduced cargoes to a minimum. The shipping board has 51 tankers now tied up at Gulf ports.

STEEL VOLUME BETTER.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 4. — Until a few days ago, purchases of steel from manufacturers was below consumption due to the liquidation of stocks in the hands of middlemen and in warehouses. As the stocks have been reduced, there has been improvement in the volume of business placed with the mills. Enlargement in demand has not been extensive but it has been plainly increased and plant operations are anticipated as a result. There is a competitive market in steel with the trend in prices downward in bars, shapes and plates. Sheets in large lots probably could be made at $2 a ton less than official quotations. Pig iron is heavy with prices off about fifty cents a ton.

COMMODITY NEWS

SHOES.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. — It is reported one of the large shoe manufacturers will increase prices for men's black kid shoes $1 a pair for fall because of the increased cost and scarcity of black kid leather.

WATCHES.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. — One leading watch manufacturer has announced a cut of 20 per cent in prices of most grades and sizes, but other American companies have not followed this cut. Demand in some lines has shown a decided drop, especially in foreign business.

CANNED GOODS.

SEAFORD, Del., Aug. 4. — But two packing plants will operate on tomatoes here this year. The crop was exceedingly small as farmers refused to plant tomatoes because the prices were down at planting time.

OIL.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 4 — The Eureka Pipe Line Company recently notified gaugers in West Virginia to run all oil held in tanks until today. On June 23 an embargo was placed on oil runs. Gaugers were then notified to run oil only from tanks that were filled or tanks that if they did fill would shut off the supply from wells.

WHEAT.

DETROIT, Aug. 4. — Ninety-three co-operative grain elevators have joined together and incorporated the Michigan Elevator Exchange, which will be affiliated with the State Farm Bureau.

DRYGOODS.

ATLANTA, Aug. 4 — Both wholesale and retail business in women's hats, men's hats and drygoods is showing decided improvement throughout this section of the South.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 4. — Jobbers who have investigated conditions in the small towns of the South and West have ascertained that the shelves of merchants are almost bare of all kinds of goods. Further liquidation of retail prices throughout the St. Louis section is expected.

BUSINESS and FINANCE

Aided by the new state law, effective last Tuesday, relating to the establishment of grain grading standards, the Farm Bureau Exchange grain department and elevator corporation this week are undertaking another movement designed to better theh entire status of the California grain trade. The movement is in line with a general federal effort which has to do with elimination of old systems of grain sales by sample.

Up to the present all California grain has been sold by graded sample, a method which pertains to the also antequated system of shipping sacked grain which also has been done away with by the Farm Bureau.

At the Farm Bureau Elevator on the Oakland estuary grading of grain now is being carried on under Federal direction but, by the new California law which was passed for the benefit of the Bureau Exchange, may be established upon standards made by the organization itself.

The object of the movement is to conduct all selling operations in the future so far as possible upon specification alone, the bureau rigidly adhering to its standards and guaranteeing them upon delivery.

Once accepted it was pointed out by officials today, the sale of grain on specification will be a long step toward putting California in line with modern methods in the world grain markets, a step only secondary to the economies of rapid and efficient bulk handling.

PROMOTIONS FOLLOW MOUNT STEP FROM CENTRAL BANK.

Directors of the Central National Bank today announced promotion of John F. Hassler, assistant cashier and head of the bank's bond department, to be cashier in place of A. J. Mount, whose resignation is preliminary to his assumption of the newly created Eastbay managership of the Bank of Italy branches.

John F. Hassler

Although it is not officially announced, it was understood today that Edwin Bothwell, also assistant cashier, would take Hassler's place.

Hassler has been with the bank for seventeen years and during the last five years has been assistant cashier. He entered the service of the institution as a messenger.

During the war Hassler, as head of the Liberty bond sales department, set a record for his office by selling more Liberty bonds than any other bank department in the Twelfth Federal Reserve District. It was as a result of his showing that he was appointed manager of the bank's bond department when it was established four years ago.

Hassler is a native of California, received his early education in Oakland and is married and has two children. The family resides at 308 Elwood street.

Hassler is a member of the Sequoyah Country Club, the Elks and the Athenian-Nile Club.

SUGAR GOES UP 15 CENTS HUNDRED.

Refined cane sugar at the refineries increased 15 cents a hundred weight to $6 55 today. Beet sugar is 20 cents lower.

OAKLAND TRAFFIC SEES GAIN IN SPECIAL OILS.

Lines of special tank cars on mole tracks of the Southern and Western Pacifics here are expected to be augmented materially as the result of a second cut in the eastbound transcontinental rate on imported vegetable, cocoanut and fish oils within a month made known today.

The cut ranges from 30 to 50 per cent on present rates. It is made by transcontinental rail traffic officials to meet Panama Canal competition and is expected to divert important shipments through this port.

The new rate will not be effective, however, until railroads in A, B and C traffic groups east of Chicago and north of the Ohio river concur. Generally it will be a flat 75 cents a hundred for copra and the oils named in carload lots.

Another adjustment announced is $1.40½ a hundred pounds on carload lots of doors from Oregon points to New England. Westbound rates on fibre, pulp and strawboard boxes will be amended to permit mixed shipments of corrugated boxes therewith.

BULK OF CALIFORNIA BEEF ALREADY SOLD.

Most of the cattle of Central and Southern California have been marketed, says a weekly statement of the California Cattlemen's Association today. The marketing committee making the report predicts a stronger market during the remainder of August. The committee says in part:

Eastern markets are continuing to advance and are now in the strongest position they have been in for several months. California markets are holding steady to stronger. There is an especially good demand for lightweight steers, a considerable number of sales being reported at 6¼ and 6½c. The average carcass weight reported thus far this year is 54 pounds lighter than last year.

Information received from Southern Oregon and Nevada indicate that about one-half the usual number of cattle will be marketed in southern Oregon this fall, and that there is a considerable shortage of cattle in Nevada.

ALL NIGHT BANK FOR S. F. INCORPORATED.

Articles of incorporation for the Liberty Bank of San Francisco were filed today with the county clerk of San Francisco. The bank was incorporated for $2,000,000 of which $1,000,000 is subscribed by a long list of stockholders. The four principal stockholders are A. P. Giannini, president of the Bank of Italy; Marshal Hale, George A Webster and Eustace Cullinan. Giannini holds $660,000 in stock and the others less than $100,000 each.

The bank will be the first to operate on an all-night or 24-hour day basis.

PACIFIC CEMENT WORKS COMPLAINS OR S. P. RATE.

The Pacific Portland Cement Company complained to the Railroad Commission today that it was being discriminated against in the tariff of the Southern Pacific Company put into effect July 15. The company operates a plant at Cement, Solano county and alleges that the new tariff gives undue advantage to the plants of competitors at San Juan and Davenport. It asks the commission to suspend the rates for 120 days pending an investigation.

OIL MEN GO TO SEE NEW HUMBOLDT WELL.

Several persons interested in oil development left the bay region today for Eureka to inspect the North Counties Oil Company property in Mattole Valley, Humboldt county, where a considerable strike is believed to have been made on the Etter Place.

Work on the well is stopped until equipment to control a possible heavy flow arrives. Gas is running from the well heavily, it is stated.

The drill is down 2000 feet and has been in oil sands for 200 feet while quantities of oil have been taken from the bore. Samuel Flores, in charge of the drill rig, is quoted in despatches as declaring all evidences are for a heavy flow when drilling is resumed. No facilities have been provided as yet for oil storage. F. M. Reynolds, president of the Eureka Company, announced with the oil strike that stock of the company had been withdrawn from the market.

COPPER INDUSTRY SHOWS IMPROVEMENT.

Since the closing of a large majority of the big copper mines around April 1, the position of the industry has showed material improvement according to copper experts. In January, February and March smelter output and imports totaled 342,200,000 pounds and domestic and foreign sales amounted to 362,055 pounds, resulting in an excess of production over consumption of 16,145,000 pounds. On the other hand smelter output and imports in the second quarter totaled 157,558,000 pounds and domestic and foreign sales amounted to 256,873,000 pounds, indicating a reduction in surplus stocks in that period close to 100,000,000 pounds. The net results of the six months has been an excess of sales over production and imports of 83,170,000 pounds. Estimates of refined and blistered copper above ground now vary from 700,000,000 pounds to 1,250,000,000 pounds. Assuming one billion pounds as the correct figure and allowing 300,000,000 pounds as the normal amount ordinarily in process from mine to finished product, the real surplus which must be disposed of before the industry is again on a sound basis is probably in the vicinity of 700,000,000 pounds. Domestic consumption in the six months' period have averaged 56,000,000 pounds monthly and exports 40,500,000 pounds monthly or a total of over 97,000,000,000 pounds. The improving industrial conditions and decreasing surplus of the metal should have a tendency to increase sales and shorten the period required for the disposal of stocks on hand, according to expert opinion.

ST. L. AND S. F. FINANCIAL POSITION HELD IMPROVED.

Earnings of the St. Louis and San Francisco, in which extensive security holding interest is taken in the Eastbay region in the first half of the year after deducting fixed charges and adding non-operating income, amounted to about $2,330,000. Together with $2,736,430 carried over from last year this should place the company in good position to meet $3,391,000 interest payments on its income and cumulative adjustment bonds on October 1. With the seasonal upturn in traffic in the latter half of the year and the wage reduction recently effected, the roads operating results in 1921 may be expected to show an improvement over 1920 when its surplus was equivalent to $2.56 a share on the common stock.

Although the annual report of Atlantic Gulf for 1920 is not expected to show earnings on the stock it will reflect a considerable improvement in the company's financial position. Its bank loans are said to have been cut down to $1,500,000 while there is approximately that amount of cash in the company's treasury. The report is expected to be made public Monday.

It now seems practically sure, says a New York authority, that the total net earnings of the class 1 railroads for the month of June will be in the neighborhood or exceed $50,000,000. Reports from 191 roads out of a total of a little more than 200 show a total net operating income of $49,985,000 compared with a deficit in the corresponding month a year ago of $15,898,000. As has been indicated by the individual statements thus far made public, the increase in net is due to a saving in operating expenses rather than a gain in gross. June gross for the roads thus far reporting was $451,436,000, a decrease of $31,831,000 while operating expenses were reduced $100,434,000. The roads were able to cut down their operating costs heavily, although the July 1 wage cut had not yet become effective.

NEW YORK STYLES

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. — The rage of fringe as a trimming has penetrated even to the underthings. Some of the latest models of lingerie made of radium silk use a silk fringe about an inch in length applied at both top and bottom in connection with silk lace. In the gowns, the built up shoulder bids fair to supplant the regulation strap over the shoulder. One model for fall, however, with regular straps, has a loose cape effect of georgette attached to each strap and falling gracefully over the arm.

The wide popularity of the closed motor car has not had the effect of retiring veils from their position as necessities to feminine motorists. The motor veils this fall show many Shetland effects made in square mesh with a chiffon border. The border and mesh are woven together and some have the border worked with a large pattern which is spread through the mesh. There are many startling color combinations shown and the Chantilly veils in addition often employ two different meshes worked together with a filet center. There are many square veils but the mmajority are of the long type.

STOCKS WEAKEN, THEN RETURN TO FORMER LEVELS

Money Conditions Taking On More Favorable Light; Sugar Gains.

NEW YORK, Aug 4.—The stock market opened irregular, but with an easier tendency which became more pronounced in the first half hour. Yesterday's decline in the railroad division and misgivings as to dividend action on certain industrials encouraged broader selling for the short account. But Mexican Petroleum and Union Pacific were bid up nearly a point.

Selling orders did not follow prices down and the market began to show a little more stability in sympathy with the confident absorption of the motors. Domestic and international monetary conditions were regarded favorably, the large influx of gold here and strength to foreign remittances, sterling rising 1½c, causing a check to speculative selling.

Call money again renewed at 5½ per cent.

Trading was on a diminishing scale after midday, but prices of industrials continued to forge upward. International Harvester, American Woolen and Atlantic Gulf advanced two points, Atlantic Gulf preferred three and a half and American International, Famous Players, Sumatra Tobacco, American Sugar, California Packing and Great Northern preferred one point.

Business broadened when pressure was exerted against Crucible, U. S. Alcohol, General Asphalt, International Paper, Kelly-Springfield, Atchison, Canadian Pacific and Pierce Arrow preferred the last named losing 4 points. Elsewhere prices receded sympathetically. The closing was heavy. Sales approximated 325,000 shares.

N. Y. WIRE-GOSSIP

The International Mercantile Marine Company and its subsidiaries earned $12,782,173 in 1920—a decrease of $4,362,753 as compared with figures for 1919, said the annual report made public today. The company's total surplus was given as $30,556,973.

Directors of Fisk Tire have called special meeting for August 9 to approve taking over Federal Rubber Company and the Niniget involving the creation of bonds or notes for certain equities involved. The company is in a strong position and that expansion will add materially to its strength, says a report from Springfield, Mass.

The Iron Age Weekly review of conditions of the steels report a somewhat better feeling existing. The stock market was generally reactionary.

Dun's review calculates an advance of 2 3-8 per cent in average commodity prices during July, being first month since April, 1920, in which average has not gone lower.

Pig iron production in United States during July was 864,555 tons, the smallest since December, 1908.

Locomotive exports in June were valued at $4,254,474 being considerably above May exports and the second largest of the year to date.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Cotton opened firm today at an advance of 4 to 15 points. The south continued an active seller of October at the 13-cent level early but heavy buying by Wall street and commission houses absorbed the offerings and carried that delivery to 13.10 in the first ten minutes, or 22 points above yesterday's close. The purchasing was stimulated by firmness in late advices from Liverpool and bullish crop news from Texas.

The market closed steady at a net advance of 15 to 29 points.

NAGLEE BONDS VOTED.

TRACY, Aug. 4.—Another important step in the development of irrigation was made here Tuesday when the members of the Naglee Burke Irrigation District went to the polls and, without a dissenting ballot, voted to bond the district for $200,000. Of this some $150,000 will be used to acquire the system of the old Naglee Burke Association, and the remainder will be used for extensions and improvements.

CLOUDS PARTED OVER NORTHERN BUSINESS SKY

Rail Inspection Party Learns of Great Promise of Harvest.

By HOLLAND.

Exclusive to The Oakland TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Howard Elliott, chairman of the Board of the Northern Pacific Railway Company, has returned to New York after having completed 9000 miles of travel over the railroads of the Northwest, 6000 miles of which were on the lines and in the country served by the Northern Pacific Railway. With Elliott were a number of men interested in or associated with the growth of the country stretching from the Great Lakes to the Pacific.

Elliott and his associates have returned to New York bringing an encouraging message based on information gained on this prolonged excursion. They speak with enthusiasm of the power, the resources and the potentialities of the great section between Lake Superior and Puget Sound and also includes the Columbia River basin. Within the next twenty-five years no conceivable obstacle can be raised to stand in the way of a wonderful development of this region, they maintain.

Elliott and his party met many influential men while on this journey. In that way they were able to gain information respecting present conditions as well as the outlook for the future as these men spoke of it. They found at Winnipeg that the people were very hopeful, confident that depression has gone and prosperity has begun. On the return from Winnipeg the party made its way to the Pacific coast and found the outlook for the harvest very good in that great region. Minnesota's harvest they learned is above the average. North Dakota also has a fair crop. That state, however, has suffered excessive and unusual climatic conditions. The heat had been almost unbearable and with it a prolonged drought. In that respect the state seems to differ from Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington, all of which are harvesting grain, grass and fruit considerably above the average.

Personal investigation extended throughout that region justified Elliott in saying on his return that the crops in all the Northern Pacific States will be very good. Therein lies one of the reasons for the encouragement which the farmers in those states now confess that they feel. There were many informal gatherings. In only a few cases was anything like the pessimism of last year observed.

One of the encouraging features associated with this long journey was the evidence that the economic upheaval which threatened almost to paralyze North Dakota is passed and that the state will compare with neighboring states in her attitude toward taxation and industry. The people of North Dakota appear to have had enough of the communistic experiment which they began to make a year or two ago.

Elliott discovered that the lumber industry in the Northwest is very dull. It is a most important industry, especially in Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon. There is no doubt that a repressed demand for lumber really exists and that it will be felt as soon as readjustment conditions are perfected. Elliott is confident that as soon as the crops are marketed and when the wage scale in the building trades is property readjusted the lumber industry in the Northwest will be revived.

Not a little criticism of and considerable resentment for the Adamson Law was admitted by merchants, farmers and lumbermen throughout the Northwest. They spoke of their belief that this law creates an unjust basis in a growing region like the Pacific Northwest. It is a region where strong men are needed, men who can work efficiently for more than eight hours a day. Farmers complain that this law and the so-called "full crew law" are having a harmful effect upon the cost of cultivating and harvesting the crops.

If the agricultural output of the Northwest which in the aggregate is to be enormous, possibly record breaking, can be marketed promptly although at prices which appear to be low in comparison with those quoted one or two years ago, then a very large amount of money will go into the Pacific Northwest. This will make it possible for the farmers to cancel their loans at the banks and also to pay the accounts which they have been compelled to run up with retail merchants. It is probable that money will be so plentiful that the farmers will be able to renew their purchases of farming equipment and of automobiles.

SURVEY OF CROPS SHOWS CONDITION STILL FAVORABLE

Oakland Trade Today Slow, Due to Picnic; Prices Go Yet Lower.

Favorable circumstances continue to attend the growing crops and the garnering of them in this area, it is found by the Weather Bureau which today surveys crop and weather conditions in a bulletin as of August 2 covering the week then ended. Edward A. Beals, meteorologist, writes in part:

The weather for the week was normal in most respects and there were scarcely any unfavorable features from an agricultural standpoint. As during the preceding week, considerable fog prevailed along the coast, at times reaching far enough inland to inconvenience the harvesters, but doing great good to the bean and beet crops. Harvesting of barley, wheat and oats is practically over.

Nights were abnormally cool in the Sacramento Valley, but corn did very well, nevertheless. Rice made slow growth, however, due to this cause, although the crop in general is normally advanced for the season.

Truck of all kinds did well, profiting by the moderate temperature. Tomatoes made a good development and are beginning to ripen in some localities. Hops are in the bur and most fields look well.

A particularly good feature of the weather in the Sacramento Valley was the absence of drying northerly winds, favoring a healthy growth of all vegetation and the ripening of fruit. A good crop of the latter remains on the trees in spite of the heavy drop caused by violent northerly winds early in the month. Peaches and pears are ripening fast in most sections. Prunes are sizing up well, and the gathering and shipment of apples is in full swing in Sonoma county. Grapes matured slowly and only the earliest varieties are reaching the market. Muscats are beginning to ripen in Southern California. The citrus crop in Southern California continues in good condition.

Oakland's commission market today was a dull affair because of the grocers' picnic which caused the closing of many stores. The trend of prices on heavy delivery continued downward. Melons in particular broke to $1.25 a crate on Turlock cantaloupe standards.

Vegetables also were cheaper, beans mark a general drop of 3 cents, tomatoes selling to $1.75 on Stockton lugs and 50 cents on Merced flats and other commodities being well down.

Strawberries were sold down to 40 cents a drawer today, the lowest price of the year. Growers, at this advanced date in the season, have abandoned their 50-cent minimum demand. Blackberries also were very materially cheaper, bringing only 20 cents a drawer in some instances.

More huckleberries were in the market today having been delivered by parcel post in boxes from Mendocino county. The possessors asked 25 and 30 cents a pound. The boxes contained about 25 pounds each. Sale was slow.

Sweet potato offerings grow more plentiful. Yams from valley digging were offered at 9½ cents today. It is predicted that a price ranging around 8 cents will prevail in a week or so on advancing delivery.

Grape prices continue to weaken. Crates could be had today at $1.75 which was 50 cents below the average for the first of the week. Lugs are quoted at $2 and better.

READING ORDER FOUGHT.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 4—The Prosser committee representing common stockholders of the Reading Company has taken steps to contest the decision of the Federal Court here that common and preferred stockholders share equally in the distribution of corporation stock which is to take over the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company under the segregation plans. An order signed by J. Whitaker Thompson, Federal judge, allowing the Prosser committee to take an appeal to the United States Supreme Court, was filed in the district court today.

WEATHER FORECAST

Northern and Southern California—Tonight and Friday fair, except cloudy or foggy near the coast tonight, continued warm in the interior; light northwesterly winds.

The Three Valleys—Tonight and Friday fair, continued warm, light northwesterly winds.

Nevada and Idaho—Tonight and Friday fair.

Washington and Oregon—Tonight and Friday fair; moderate westerly winds.

CONDITIONS.

The area of high pressure is moving inland over the north Pacific states, causing fair weather over the Pacific slope, except cloudy or foggy near the coast. Rain has fallen in the northern Rocky Mountain region, Nebraska and from Tennessee to New York. In other sections the weather is fair.

Conditions are favorable for fair weather with slowly rising temperatures in this district tonight and Friday. Dry northerly winds will prevail throughout the interior, and extra precaution should be taken to prevent forest fires.

G. H. WILLSON, District Forecaster.

Note—In the above tabulation of tides, the daily tides are given in the order of their occurrence, commencing with the early morning tide in the left hand column, and the successive tides occur, the fourth occurring the following morning.

The column of heights gives the elevation of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey Chart Soundings. The numbers are always additive to the chart depths, unless preceded by the minus sign or dash (—). When the numbers are subtracted from depths given on the ch...

ALONG the WATERFRONT

It is made known today that the United American Lines, Inc., including Williams-Dimond Company and the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, are to inaugurate a weekly freight service between Pacific and Atlantic ports in September, agents here for the lines announced today. Philadelphia is to be added to the ports of call. The companies also are to establish a fortnightly freight service between Pacific ports and Europe in October.

Present Shipping Board allocations, all will be turned back by October and the companies will operate their own vessels on these runs. Eighteen will be put on the coast to coast and ten on the European run.

F. A. Hooper, traffic manager of Williams-Dimond Company in San Francisco, announces that the Alaskan, a 13,000-ton vessel, will be the first freighter dispatched to Europe. The itinerary will include London, Antwerp, Hamburg, Glasgow, Rotterdam and Havre.

The first vessel to leave Philadelphia on the new schedule will be the steamer Floridan, sailing from Philadelphia on September 10.

The troopship Great Northern was towed from the transport dock at Laguna street, San Francisco, to Mare Island, where she will be overhauled and will be sent to the Atlantic coast for service in the Navy department. During the war she was purchased by the United States government, was placed in the Army department as a transport and carried soldiers across the Atlantic. Since the war she has been on this coast and was used in the Army department as a transport, running between this port and Manila. The Great Northern is one of the fastest steamers on the Pacific coast and formerly operated between this port and Portland, Oregon.

The steamer Harvard will leave Los Angeles tomorrow for this port on her first voyage since she returned from the Atlantic coast, and will run in conjunction with the steamer Yale between this port and Los Angeles. The Harvard has been thoroughly overhauled and refurnished, and is now considered one of the best fitted passenger vessels in the coastwise trade. She has a full passenger list for her return trip, as well as for the voyage north. Captain Randal Rodgers is master of the floating palace and is one of the favorite young skippers of the Pacific coast. Captain Rogers saw service on troop ships between New York and Europe during the war.

Libby, McNeil & Libby's salmon cannery at Cook's Inlet, Alaska, has been burned and is a complete loss, it was reported today by wireless from the steamer Admiral Watson, which has on board the cannery crew and fishermen, 125 men. The Watson is taking the crew to Seattle. Many of these fishermen reside in Alameda county and went north from here last April.

The will of the late Captain Troele Smith was filed for probate yesterday at Oakland. He died on July 26. Captain Smith leaves an estate of $20,000. Jens Smith is to receive stock in various companies, real estate in Aberdeen, Wash., and Hoquiam, while Captain Haldor Smith, another brother, receives shares in a few sailing schooners. The Smiths are all seafaring men and have been masters of sailing vessels on this coast for a number of years. During the war Haldor and Troele Smith were in command of steamers operated by the United States Shipping Board out of this port.

The steamer Ketchikan is now at St. Michaels, Alaska, where she is taking on a cargo of canned salmon, put up by the Carlisle Packing company. The company operates a small cannery on the lower Yukon river. This cannery was established a few years ago and has been putting up about 5000 cases of salmon each year. This pack is sent to St. Michaels and then shipped to Seattle. This is the most northern cannery in Alaska.

Reports from northern British Columbia state that the salmon fishing in that locality this season is an entire failure, but the halibut fishing is far greater than ever before. Thirteen carloads of fresh halibut, weighing 285,000 pounds, were shipped out of Prince Rupert this week, en route to Boston and New York.

The barkentine Alicia Haviside has not arrived at her destination as yet. She left this port on June 28 for Puget Sound and was spoken on July 31 by the steamer President off the Washington coast. The vessel has not been heard of again. She is about three weeks overdue. It is believed she was blown off shore, as the northwest wind which is blowing along the coast is unfavorable for her, but no fears are felt for her safety by the owners.

A cable from Sydney, Australia, states that charred wreckage was found upon the beach at Howe Island and is supposed to be from the tanker Canastota, which was blown up while en route to Sydney from New Zealand with a cargo of oil. All on board were lost.

The steamer Crickett arrived at Marshfield, Ore., yesterday from this port and while passing the Ocean dock her steering gear went wrong and she ran into the dock, tearing away about 25 feet of the dock. The damage was estimated at about $2000. The Crickett will load 1,200,000 feet of lumber at Coos Bay for Oakland. She was undamaged.

The steamer Cenator arrived here from Portland last evening and reports that six miles north of Double Point they sighted a three-masted schooner. The weather is foggy outside the heads and along the coast, but the sea is smooth, with light northwest wind.

A small sailboat owned by Captain Robert Studdard of Seattle, was found bottom up off Point Wilson yesterday. It is though that Studdard was drowned, as he was en route to Vancouver, B. C., from Seattle.

Change of masters registered at the U. S. Custom House: Captain F. J. Macgenn, steamer Rose City; Captain E. G. Belin, steamer Lansing; Captain Edward Wirschulett, steam tug Ranger; Captain M. F. Asmussen, schooner Samar; Captain P. M. Peterson, schooner William Boden.

While the Ottillie Fjord, 261-ton trading schooner, with 250 tons of copra aboard lay on the mud flats at Hunter's Point today, suit was pending in United States District Court, filed by the Merchants' Tugboat Company. The tow company demanded $20,000 damages for salvage. The schooner belongs to the Pacific States Trading Company. She was pulled off the rocks at Fort Point by the tugs Sea Monarch and Sea Queen after they had stood by all night with lines fast. The schooner was beached to prevent her sinking as it was necessary to use pumps during her progress up the bay. Captain Olsen of the craft said that the tide caught his vessel while she was in a fog and put her aground before anyone aboard had warning.

ASTORIA, Ore., Aug. 4.—Captain John C. Reed, a bar pilot, who went on board the stranged British steamer Canadian Exporter, from the tug Wallula last Sunday, has returned. He said the steamer broke about midships and when he left Nofrth Cove the two parts of the vessel were about fifty feet apart. The tug Algerine and cutter Snohemish were still standing by, but what they were doing he did not know. All the members of the crew of the ill-fated craft got off with their personal effects, even the ship's cat being saved.

The Position of East Bay Water Company is Unassailable

That is a strong statement to make of any company. But consider! East Bay Water Company controls all commercially practicable nearby sources of water supply. And consider that whenever distant water sources must be drawn upon, East Bay Water Company owns all the vitally necessary reservoirs and reservoir sites for serving East Bay communities.

The statement is justified—the position of the East Bay Water Company is unassailable.

Ownership of 42,000 acres of watershed lands permanently protects a water supply adequate to serve several times present demands. Ownership of two immense artificial lakes provides more than adequate storage facilities. Ownership of two filter plants and eight sterilizing plants insures a pure and safe water. Ownership of 975 miles of distributing mains operated under perpetual franchises from the State assures a market as stable as the population it serves.

A sound management and a sound financial structure, under supervision of the Railroad Commission, is effectual assurance of a dependable investment in East Bay Water Company Unifying and Refunding Mortgage 7½% Bonds, due 1936, at 100 and interest.

If you can take advantage of this opportunity, and everyone who has saved as much as $100 can, call on us in person or let us call on you in person to discuss this matter. Or write today for Circular E.

The Truth about Imitators and "Gimme"tators

THERE is a popular song about the "Gimmes." We believe it fits our imitators.

We have seen scores of them come and go—like epidemics.

They live until the public finds them out.

No man who feeds on another's success can go far himself. Many have tried to live off other people's brains, but learn that the public hates a parasite, and that hard work is the only measure of success.

If these hordes of imitators were sincere, why don't they try to give real VALUES? Why don't they dig down and GIVE—GIVE—GIVE—instead of reaching out long, grasping fingers GET—GET—GET?

Foreman & Clark—originators of "Trade Upstairs and Save $10"—pioneered in this field for economy's sake.

They may imitate our slogan, our store fronts, our prices—but as long as 'Gimme' is their big idea—they will never imitate our methods or our values!

The reason our imitators have met with failure is because they entered this field for advertising's sake.

Our upstairs stores from Coast to Coast present more than an honest front. There is an honest back behind them. Except for our great factories, our own woolen mills, our giant economies clear back to the start, we could never shame competing values as we do.

How long can these imitators—these glibe advertising artists—last, with their shiny signs, loud talk, much front—BUT NO BACK? Nothing behind them!

We have fought so hard and bucked so many ruthless schemes to lure the public from its dollars, that when we see these smooth-tongued operators looming on the landscape we just naturally let loose and say things!

Not for our sake, but the public's! Imitation is the greatest "ad" we get. The more they imitate the better we like it. It just brings the public 'round to our values, our honest methods, our guaranteed savings—more squarely than ever!
